He shall not direct the patient to be removed from the house unless it is in his opinion impossible to make proper arrangements for his isolation therein.

The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may order that any person, who has in any place been exposed to infection from cholera, shall take such drugs in such quantities as may be directed by the District Health Officer, or Sanitary Inspector or shall submit himself to anti-cholera inoculation within a time to be specified in the order.

The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may forbid any person who has been a patient of cholera or who has, to his knowledge, been in contact with a patient, to act as vendor of any article for a period as may be specified in the order.

No person shall carry or permit to be carried in a public conveyance a patient except in a case where a patient is carried with proper precautions to a hospital.

No person shall sell any article which has been in contact with a patient until it has been disinfected to the satisfaction of the District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector.

No person shall expose in any street, public place or any public place any clothing, bed-linen or other article which has been in contact with a patient or shall cause or suffer such article to be carried in any public conveyance, and this regulation shall apply to a person who transmits with proper precautions spreading the disease any such article for the purpose of having the same disinfected.

(2) The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may require such owner or occupier to keep closed during such a period as shall be specified in the order any well, tank, pool or other sources of water-supply closed under paragraph (1) of this regulation.

Explanation.—In this regulation “nuisance” means anything which in the opinion of the District Health Officer or Sanitary Inspector is likely to spread or to cause the outbreak of cholera.

26. Whenever the District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector is satisfied that the condition of any privy, urinal, drain, sewer or cesspool is such as to cause risk of spreading cholera to the inhabitants of the neighbourhood he may order the occupier of the land in which such privy, urinal, drain, sewer or cesspool is situated to disinfect, or to allow an officer of the Board to disinfect, the same with such disinfectants in such quantities and at such time as the said officer or inspector shall think fit.

27. The District Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector may for the prevention of the outbreak or spread of cholera order the owner or occupier of any land to repair or make efficient to the satisfaction of that officer or inspector any drain, sewer, privy, urinal or cesspool which is situated upon such land or to remove any such drain, sewer, privy, or urinal or close any such cesspool within such time as may be fixed by the said officer or inspector.

For the Company: Sri Niren De, Counsel instructed by Sri S. R. Mehta, Solicitor.

For the Byron Mazdoor Panchayat: Sri Surendra Lal Sen Gupta, Pleader, and Sri Jagannath Pande, President.

AWARD.

Government order No. 3427, dated 18th November 1948, the above dispute was referred to adjudication under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. I gave notice to the parties and on 30th September 1948 the Byron Mazdoor Panchayat which will hereafter be referred to as the Union filed written statement. The Company filed written statement on 29th November 1948. Issues were framed on 8th November 1948. The hearing of the case commenced on 10th November 1948. The hearing was protracted as the Union challenged the balance-sheets and production figures submitted by the Company. Both parties examined witnesses, nine each being examined by the Union and one each by the Company. The hearing was finally closed on 10th January 1949. Thereafter I visited one of the factories of the Company at 5, Chowringhee Place, Calcutta, on 12th January 1949.

Byron & Co. is a private Company of long standing manufacturing aerated waters. It was established in 1887. It has at present three factories, one at 5, Chowringhee Place employing 74 workers, another at 39, Dharmatolla Street employing 48 workers and the third at Howrah employing 48 workers. There are, besides, three drivers. So the total number of workmen employed by the Company is 239. Mr. E. S. Chakravarty is at present the Managing Proprietor of the Company. The Byron Mazdoor Panchayat was formed on 30th May 1948 and was registered under the Trade Unions Act on 12th July 1948. It claims that the majority of the workers of the Head Office and the branches of the Company are its members. Immediately after its formation the Union submitted on 15th June 1948 its charter of demands to the Company and also sent a copy of the same to the Labour Commissioner. A copy of the said charter of demands has been filed by the Union. The Labour Commissioner moved in the matter and certain conferences were convened by him to settle the dispute by conciliation, but these being unsuccessful the dispute was ultimately referred to the Tribunal on the recommendation of the Labour Commissioner.

The demands of the Union include recognition of the Union, fixation of minimum basic wages and grades for the unskilled and skilled workmen, dearness allowance, city allowance, house-rent allowance, bonus, retiring benefits, leave and holidays, free uniforms and framing of service rules for the employees. The Union further alleges that one employee Paresh Nath Mistri has been wrongfully victimised by the Company and refused employment on return from leave. The Union demands that he should be permitted to resume his duties and get compensation for the period of non-employment. The Company's case is that the present scales of pay of the employees together with other benefits which they get are quite fair and reasonable and that the Company is not financially in a position to increase the pay scales and allowances. As regards Paresh Nath Mistri the Company's case is that he himself left the Company's service in the month of June 1948. The following issues were framed on the basis of the statements of the parties:—

ISSUES.

- (1) Recognition of the Byron Mazdoor Panchayat.
- (2) What should be the minimum basic pay and dearness allowance for—
 - (i) Unskilled workers.
 - (ii) Semi-skilled workers.
 - (iii) Skilled workers?
- (3) Who are the semi-skilled and skilled workers amongst the employees of the Company?
- (4) City Allowance.
- (5) House-rent Allowance.
- (6) Bonus.
- (7) Retirement benefits:—
 - (a) Provident Fund.
 - (b) Gratuity.
- (8) Leave and holidays.
- (9) Free uniforms.
- (10) Rules of service—
 - (a) Working hours and overtime.
 - (b) Involuntary unemployment.
 - (c) Length of the probationary period and permanency.
 - (d) Should the Union be consulted in the matters of appointment, dismissal and discharge of workmen?
- (11) Did Paresh Nath Mistri voluntarily leave the Company's service or has the Company locked him out? If he has been locked out, was it legal and justified? Is the Company bound to keep him in service and give him compensation?

Issue No. 1—Recognition of the Union.

The Company has objected to recognise the Union and the objections taken are legal. The first objection is that the question of recognition is not an industrial dispute within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act and the second objection is that in view of the recent amendment of the Trade Unions Act providing for compulsory recognition of Trade Unions the Tribunal cannot and should not consider the question but should direct the Union to get itself recognised by following the procedure laid down in the said legislation. On behalf of the Union it has been argued that the Company is not entitled to take any legal objection, since no such objection was taken in the written statement. In the written statement the Company simply stated that the present Union did not include the majority of the employees and that in view of its absurd attitude it should not be recognised. Even though no legal objection might have been taken in the written statement, such objections can always be taken at the time of hearing and I agree with the Company's contention that the question of recognition of a Union is not an industrial dispute. It is also clear that in view of the recent legislation enacted for compulsory recognition of Trade Unions an Industrial Tribunal should not deal with the question. The Union should wait until Labour Courts are set up and approach them for recognition under the amended Trade Unions Act. Sri Niren De, on behalf of the Company, took another objection, namely, that the workmen of the Company must be represented by some office-bearer of a registered Trade Union according to section 36 of the Industrial Disputes Act. I have already stated that the Byron Mazdoor Panchayet is itself a registered Union and so the office-bearers of the said Union are entitled to represent the workmen of the Company. I am satisfied from the Panchayet's registers and papers that Sri Jagannath Pande and Sri Ugra Sen Gupta who represented the workmen before me are respectively the duly elected President and Secretary of the Byron Mazdoor Panchayet.

Issues Nos. 2 and 3.—Classification of the workers and the fixation of minimum basic pay and dearness allowance.

These issues concern the questions of fixation of minimum basic pay and dearness allowance for the workers and the classification of the workers into categories of unskilled, semi-skilled and skilled. I shall first take up the question of classification. As I have already stated, the Company employs in all 239 workers. The Company in its written statement has classified the workers into eight groups according to the nature of the work done. The first group consists of the largest number of workers who are described as cart-delivery men. Their total number is 162 in the three factories—73 in Chowringhee Place, 55 in Dharmatolla and 34 in Howrah. They are also known as coolies. There is no dispute that these men are unskilled workers. The second group consists of bottle packers and counters whose total number is 15. The Company maintains that they are also unskilled workmen but the Union contends that they are skilled. I do not find any justification for the Union's contention that they are skilled workers. Their business is to count and pack bottles in crates. I have seen their work in the Chowringhee Factory. No skill is necessary for this work. In my opinion, therefore, they must be treated as unskilled. The third group of workers consists of bottle fillers. They are 24 in number in the three factories. The Company maintains that they are also unskilled but the Union's case is that they are skilled. They have to work in the bottle-filling machines and they require some experience, though not what may be called "skill", for doing their work properly. At the most they may be called semi-skilled workers. Union laid great stress on the fact that these are described as mistries in the Company's registers but the Company says that they are so described in order to distinguish them from the ordinary coolies. In any case the designation "Mistrie" is not apt in their case and is not sufficient to show that they are skilled workers. I have seen their work and, in my opinion, they can only be classified as semi-skilled workers. The fourth group of workers consists of syrupmen who are only 10 in number. They mix the materials for preparing syrup which is required for manufacturing lemonades and other sweet waters. The Company agrees that they are semi-skilled workmen and think that they ought to be classified as such and not as skilled workmen. The next group consists of machine attendants, starters, hydro-operators and the head mistrie. Their total number is seven. They start and operate the machines, the hydro or bottle-washing machines and bottle-filling machines. The Company says that they are also semi-skilled, but since they operate the machines they should, I think, be described as skilled workers, though I should say from what I have seen of their work that their skill is not of a high order. They cannot set the machines when there is any disorder. For these purposes mechanics are supplied by a contractor whom I met when I visited the factory. That exhausts the categories of factory workers. There are other employees like the sardars who are three in number and whose duty is to distribute and supervise the work of the coolies, the darwans who are 19 in number and the drivers of the lorries who are three in number.

All the workmen and employees enumerated above are paid wages on the monthly basis, none being none paid at daily rates. The present scale of pay of the different groups of employees per month are as follows:—

- (1) Cart-delivery-men or coolies—their pay ranges from Rs. 27 to Rs. 31.
- (2) Bottle packers and counters—from Rs. 31 to Rs. 35.
- (3) Bottle-filling men—from Rs. 30 to Rs. 35.
- (4) Syrupmen—from Rs. 33 to Rs. 35.
- (5) Machine attendants—from Rs. 35 to Rs. 40. (There was one man getting Rs. 50 who has since died.)
- (6) Sardars—from Rs. 33 to Rs. 35.
- (7) Darwans—from Rs. 30 to Rs. 37.
- (8) Drivers—Rs. 73.

None of these employees get any dearness allowance separately excepting some food concession valued at Re. 1 per head per month. The cart-delivery-men, however, get something from the owners of the depots to whom they deliver aerated waters as transport charges at the rate of 6 annas per head for each trip. When delivery is made by lorries the coolies going in them get 12 annas per head, out of which, however, they have to pay something to the man in charge of the lorry, so that their actual earning comes to 10 annas per head per trip. On an average a delivery-man makes three trips a day and on the basis of this the Company estimates his daily earning at Rs. 1-2 per day. Of course, the coolies have also to work by turns inside the factories at the rate of 35 each day and while they do so they do not get the transport charges. The syrupmen are allowed to sell and appropriate the sale proceeds of empty crown cork cases. The employees also get certain payments at the time of their periodical visits to their homes in the shape of train fares, etc., to which I shall refer subsequently.

Union has demanded that the minimum pay for the unskilled workmen should be Rs. 60 per month and for the skilled workmen Rs. 100 per month. In the original statement submitted by the Union on 15th June 1948, the Union did not demand any minimum pay for the skilled workmen. All that the Union demanded then was that the minimum wage should be fixed at Rs. 60 per month. In the statement filed in this case the Union did not demand any minimum basic pay for the unskilled workmen. The Union placed the filling men, syrupmen, sardars and darwans as a class of skilled workmen and demanded a minimum of Rs. 100 for them. At the time of the Union's demand, Rs. 60 as the minimum for the unskilled workmen, Rs. 75 for the skilled workmen and Rs. 100 for the skilled men. In the case of the unskilled workmen, the Union demanded annual increment at the rate of 2 per cent. rising up to Rs. 120 and in the case of the skilled workmen at the rate of Rs. 5 rising up to Rs. 100. Over and above, the Union demanded a dearness allowance at the rate of 70 per cent. of the basic pay subject to a minimum of Rs. 45 per month. It was further demanded that the Company should pay six months' wages in a lump sum as a dearness allowance or bonus for the past years as the workers did not get any dearness allowance in the past.

The Company pleaded incapacity to accede to the demands of the Union and raise the pay scales on account of its financial position. The Company, however, proposed to raise the minimum pay to Rs. 45 per month inclusive of dearness allowance for all workers on condition that it was agreed to appropriate the transport charges and to continue the system of paying the same to the cart-delivery-men. That is, the Company proposed that in the future the Company would realise the transport charges from its customers and credit them to its funds and that with this additional income it would raise the minimum pay scale of the workers to Rs. 45 per month inclusive of dearness allowance. The Union, however, did not agree to the abolition of the system of payment of transport charges to the cart-delivery-men. The Union demanded that if the transport charges were abolished the minimum pay for the unskilled workers should be raised to Rs. 90. The Union stated that it had the strongest possible objection to the abolition of the said system as it would deprive the cart-delivery-men of their existing wages. The Company agreed that the abolition of this system would be unfair to the cart-delivery-men but the Company's case is that unless the system is abolished the Company has no means of raising any extra fund out of which it can raise the pay scales of all the workers. It wanted to distribute the transport charges evenly among all workers by depriving the cart-delivery-men. This is not agreed to by the Union, I do not think that I should be justified in asking the Company to abolish the system. Its abolition would be most unfair to the cart-delivery-men as it would deprive them of a considerable income which they have been earning for long years past and which has now almost come to be regarded as part of their wages. This system should, therefore, be retained but the fact that the cart-delivery-men have got this extra income should be brought into consideration in fixing their pay scales and dearness allowance.

The pay scales as enumerated above have been criticised by the Union and there can be no doubt that the scales are low considering the fact that they are inclusive of dearness allowance and that no separate dearness allowance is paid by the Company. I propose, however, to consider the pay scales from the standpoint of basic pay only exclusive of dearness allowance. The dearness allowance will be considered and fixed separately hereafter. Considered as basic pay the pay scales do not appear to be low or inadequate. I should state at once that I cannot consider as reasonable the demand of the Union that the minimum pay for the unskilled workers should be fixed at Rs. 60, that for the semi-skilled at Rs. 75 and that for the skilled at Rs. 100. These demands are not only out of proportion to the nature and condition of this particular industry but they are also very much higher than what would be considered suitable and adequate for bigger and much better organised industries. The Central Pay Commission recommended a minimum pay of Rs. 30 per month for the unskilled workers. This minimum basic pay was considered adequate by one of the major Tribunals in West Bengal for the Engineering Industries. The Jute Industries Tribunal fixed the minimum at a lower figure, namely, Rs. 26 per month, and the Cotton Industries Tribunal fixed at a still lower figure, namely, Rs. 20-2-5. There is absolutely no justification for the claim that the minimum should be fixed at such a high figure as Rs. 60 for the unskilled workers and it has not been shown that such minimum is being paid by any industry or has been awarded by any Industrial Tribunal. So far as the unskilled workers of this Company are concerned, it will be seen from what has been stated above that the coolies and the cart-delivery-men are getting pay ranging from Rs. 27 to Rs. 31 per month and that the others are getting Rs. 30 as the minimum. I do not think that there is any need to revise the pay scales of the coolies or cart-delivery-men. I only propose to raise the maximum to Rs. 32 and fix a grade for them with an annual increment of 8 annas. Annual increments at this rate have been recommended for unskilled workers by the Central Pay Commission and the Industrial Tribunals have also generally awarded these rates. Annual increment at the rate of Rs. 2, as demanded by the Union, is obviously quite unreasonable and cannot be allowed. The minimum pay of the coolies and cart-delivery-men is accordingly fixed at Rs. 27 per month and their grade is fixed at Rs. 27— $\frac{1}{2}$ —32. The other group of unskilled workers, namely, the bottle packers and counters, get Rs. 30—35 per month. Though they are unskilled, they perform a little more responsible work than the coolies and as they are already getting Rs. 30 I accept the same figure as the minimum for them. Their minimum pay is accordingly fixed at Rs. 30 per month and their grade at Rs. 30— $\frac{1}{2}$ —35.

I have already decided that the two categories of workers, namely, the syrupmen and the bottle-filling men, are semi-skilled. The syrupmen get Rs. 33—35 per month and the bottle-filling men get Rs. 30—37 per month. Their pay scales require a little revision so far as the minimum and the maximum are concerned. I propose to fix the minimum at Rs. 33 and the maximum at Rs. 38. The bottle-filling men and the syrupmen should therefore have a minimum basic pay of Rs. 33 and a grade of Rs. 33—1—38, the rate of annual increment being Re. 1.

The Machine Attendants who are seven in number and whom I have classified as skilled workers are getting pay ranging from Rs. 35 to Rs. 48. I think that it will be sufficient to fix their minimum pay at Rs. 38. The Union's demand of a minimum of Rs. 100 for them cannot be accepted. Even though they may be called skilled workers, their skill is not of such a high order as to warrant any higher minimum than what I propose to fix. They are skilled only in comparison with the other workmen working in the factories of this Company. I therefore fix their minimum pay at Rs. 38 and their grade at

Rs. 38-1-48. Annual increments at the rate of Rs. 5 for skilled workers, as demanded by the Union, is most unreasonable and cannot be considered for a moment.

Sardars and darwans should have the same minimum basic pay and the same grade as the semi-skilled workers, namely, Rs. 33-1-38. So far as the lorry drivers are concerned, they are getting Rs. 73 per month inclusive of dearness allowance. I think that what they are getting is sufficient and I do not, therefore, propose to revise their pay scale. It is not also necessary to fix any grade for them and none was demanded by the Union.

As regards fitting in of the existing employees in the grades fixed above, no direction is necessary in respect of the coolies and cart-delivery-men and the bottle packers and counters whose pay scales have not been revised. They will be getting the pay which they are at present enjoying excepting that they will be entitled to the annual increment of their respective grades after completion of one year's service from the date on which this award will be enforced. There is, however, some difficulty in computing one year's service in respect of the coolies because, as a matter of fact, they work for only eight months in a year and then go home leaving badlis to work for them. This system is of long standing in this Company and neither the Company nor the Union is in favour of changing it. So far as this Company is concerned, the four months of winter from November to February constitute the slack season when there is not so much demand for aerated waters as in the summer season. The Howrah Factory of the Company remains closed every year for four months during the winter on account of the slackness in demand. The other two factories at Chowringhee and Dharmatolla, however, work throughout the year. The Company actually encourages the going home of the workers during winter after eight months' work by paying them train fare and certain other allowances. The Union wants the system to be continued because otherwise a large number of badlis will be thrown out of employment. The result of this system, however, is that the coolies do not work for full one year, whether in the Howrah Factory or in the other factories, but actually work for eight months only. Their badlis work in their place while they are at home and they again come back and resume their work after certain months. In these circumstances, it will be inequitable to provide that the unskilled workers and others who go home regularly after eight months should get an increment of pay after expiry of one calendar year. I think that in order to be eligible for the annual increment each worker should actually put in full one year's service, even if it may not be continuous service. I direct accordingly that a worker in order to get an annual increment of this grade should actually put in twelve months' service excluding the period during which he might have been at home. The Company should maintain proper registers indicating actual length of service of each worker after this award comes into operation and should grant increments to the workers who have actually put in twelve months' service excluding the period they might have been at home. In the Howrah Factory also the length of service of the workers should be calculated on the basis of actual service put in excluding the period for which the factory remains closed.

As regards the semi-skilled workers, namely, the syrumen, the bottle-filling-men and the sardars and the darwans whose minimum pay has been raised to Rs. 33 I direct that those who are now getting less than this minimum should get the minimum fixed from the date the award will come into operation. It is, not, however, possible to give any direction regarding increments for past services because the Company has stated that it has not got any records to show the length of service of its workmen beyond the period of three years. I therefore only direct that those who have put in three years' service, according to the records of the Company, should get one increment in the grade for such service and their grade should be fixed at the next higher stage in the grade. If any of the workmen who are entitled to these grades, goes home on leave like the coolies, his length of service for the purpose of annual increment should be calculated on the basis of actual service put in excluding the period during which he might have been at home. I have already stated, the Company should from now on maintain proper registers showing the actual length of service of each such employee. Similarly the Machine Attendants who are now getting less than the minimum, namely, Rs. 38 fixed for them should get this minimum from the date the award will come into operation and if there is anybody who has put in three years' service he should get an increment for such service and should be placed in the next higher stage in the grade.

I now come to the question of dearness allowance. The Union has demanded dearness allowance at the rate of 70 per cent. of the pay subject to a minimum of Rs. 45 per month. There is a further demand that six months' wages should be paid to all workmen in lump sum as compensation for non-payment of dearness allowance in the past years. The Company has pleaded that its financial position is not such as to enable it to pay any dearness allowance over and above any revision that may be made in the present pay scales. The Company was not even willing to agree to any revision of the scales on account of its financial position excepting on the condition that it was permitted to appropriate the transport charges that are now paid to the cart-delivery-men. It is therefore necessary to see whether the financial condition of the Company is such as to warrant any increase, apart from the slight revision that has been made of the pay scales. The Company has produced its balance-sheets for the years 1946 and 1947. The financial year of the Company runs according to the calendar year from the 1st January to the 31st December. According to the balance-sheets the Company made a net profit of Rs. 48,393 and odd in 1946 and Rs. 38,568 and odd in 1947. In 1946 the Company did not pay any sales tax. In 1947, however, the Company had to pay Rs. 28,348 as odd as sales tax. On account of this payment its net profits were reduced in 1947. It is stated that out of the net profits the proprietors had to pay income-tax and that in 1946 the income-tax paid amounted to Rs. 26,278 and odd and in 1947 to Rs. 17,471 so that the actual net profits after deduction of the income-tax amounted to Rs. 22,114 and odd in 1946 and to Rs. 21,097 and odd in 1947. The Company contends that the net profit it made in 1946 or 1947 was not sufficient to provide for a fair return on the capital invested by the proprietor. According to the Company's auditor who was called to explain the accounts, the proprietor Mr. (b)padvala normally draws about Rs. 36,000 a year from the funds of the Company. The capital account in the balance-sheet for 1946 stood at Rs. 2,12,000 and odd, but in the balance-sheet for 1947 the capital account was shown as reduced to Rs. 1,85,964 and odd. The auditor has explained that this reduction of capital account was due mainly to the drawings made by the proprietor from the Company's funds. Hence it is contended that the net profits shown in the balance-sheets are really illusory because they are not sufficient even to cover the normal drawings.

tor and that as such the Company's position does not warrant any further expenditure.

on challenged the correctness of the the balance-sheets and specially of the sales shown therein and contended that they actually earned much larger sums in 1947 which it concealed from the tax authorities in order to avoid payment of income-tax. The Union even filed a statement stating that the Company's net profits were five lakhs of rupees in a year. The figures in the balance-sheet for 1946, to Rs. 5,96,436 and odd. In the statement for 1947 the total amount under sales is Rs. 6,34,722 and the Union puts the figures of sales at one thousand rupees every month. In view of the fact that the Company produces more than shown in the accounts the auditor examined some witnesses from the factories and their evidence is that the machines in the Chowringhee Factory produce 14 crates of aerated waters per hour—each crate containing 7½ dozens of bottles. As the Dharmatolla Factory the evidence is that the machines in that factory produce 31½ dozens each per hour. The Howrah Factory said to produce 14 crates of 7½ dozens each. The total production per day, on the basis of each machine working full eight hours a day, would be 140 dozens for all the factories. On behalf of the Union it has not been denied that each machine is capable of producing per hour the amount mentioned by the Union's witnesses. In the Union's case, however, is that no machine can work for full eight hours a day and that the utmost period for which a machine can and does work is about six hours a day so that the daily production is about 84 dozens of bottles. That the machine cannot work full time is also in a manner admitted by the Union's witnesses. They have admitted that the machines have to be stopped from time to time for changing syrups and for changing from soda to sweet or from sweet to ginger. It is also admitted that the machines get occasionally jammed and that they have to be stopped on other grounds. According to the Company, the machines have to be stopped for a variety of reasons every day, e.g., when there are no bottles to fill, when bottles are broken, when the machines have to be removed, for removing crown corks, for changing from soda to sweet and vice versa and for washing syrup containers with every change of syrup. Apart from these the machines are also stopped for mechanical defects and when they break. The Union's witnesses put the total stoppage every day at eight to ten minutes, but this is certainly a gross understatement. It is admitted that a machine is stopped every time when a bottle is broken. I can say from my own experience that the average of bottles was more frequent than the Union's witnesses were prepared to admit. I made my visit to Chowringhee Factory at a time when the machines were broken at the rate of four in an hour and the machines have therefore to be stopped for more than fifteen minutes in a day on this one.

It is impossible to believe the Union's case that the Company produces much more than what its accounts would show and that it deliberately concealed the sales in order to avoid payment of income tax or sales tax. This is a serious charge against the Company lightly and, I think, most irresponsibly. The foundation of the Union's case is the evidence of the few workers that the machines work for 7½ hours a day but that, as I have shown above, can hardly be true in view of the frequent stoppages of the machines necessitated by various factors. These witnesses never kept any account of the actual production of any day and had no knowledge about the number of bottles actually produced in any factory or by any machine on a particular day. The Company keeps proper and regular accounts of all sales from the factories and when the bottles are sent out of the factories to the dealers gate-sheets are written up showing the number of bottles so sent out and the amounts realised from the dealers are also entered therein. All sales of the Company are wholesale. The Company does not have any retail sale. The Company has regular customers and whatever it produces is delivered to the customers in the course of the day or on the next day for cash and in some cases on credit. It has got only one depot or godown at Mati Seal Street where aerated waters are sent from the Dharmatolla Factory for sale. There also the sales are generally wholesale, though the Manager in charge of the depot occasionally holds retail sales the profits of which are appropriated by the Manager by arrangement with the Company after crediting to the Company the wholesale prices. In these circumstances, when whatever the Company produces is sold immediately either on the very day or on the next day to regular wholesale customers and there are no retail sales, I do not think that it is possible for the Company to manipulate the figures of the sales and give a wrong picture in the daily gate-sheets in which all such sales are shown. The auditor stated that he had prepared the balance-sheets and the figures of sales shown therein from the daily gate-sheets and cash memos., and that all the sales found by him were at wholesale rates. I have no reason to disbelieve the evidence of the auditor. The Company produced a complete statement of its productions factory by factory and month by month for the year 1947. According to it, the total production for the year was 1,116,503 dozens of bottles and that for Chowringhee and Dharmatolla factories was 981,872 dozens. As the Howrah Factory was closed for four months of the year these figures show that the daily average of production could not have been more than 4,000 dozens of bottles in the three factories and that is the average according to the Company's case. The Company has also produced some gate-sheets for December 1948 for the Dharmatolla and Chowringhee factories. The Company's statement shows that production in any factory was not uniform from month to month and these gate-sheets show that it was not uniform from day to day. This is sufficient to disprove the theory that all the machines work for the same length of time every day. The total sales for the first ten days of December 1948 were 17,741 dozens for the Chowringhee Factory and 10,857 dozens for the Dharmatolla Factory. That gives a total average of about 2,860 dozens of bottles per day for these two factories taken together. As already stated, the winter is the slack season and the production or sale is higher in the dry season. I am not therefore prepared on the evidence to find that the average production is more than 4,000 dozens of bottles per day which is the figure given by the Company.

The Union has also adduced evidence regarding the quantities of raw materials required for producing aerated waters in the Chowringhee Factory every day. It is difficult to accept the Union's oral evidence on the point as against the figures supplied by the Company from its accounts. The Union accepted as correct the rates and prices of the raw materials as mentioned in the Company's statement but challenged the quantities as incorrect and also suggested that the quantities mentioned in the Company's statement would produce more bottles of aerated waters than what the Company has admitted to be the production in 1947. I cannot say that the Union's witnesses have been able to prove this. They have mentioned the quantities of some raw materials consumed daily at the Chowringhee Factory, but even assuming that they have given true evidence, those may be the quantities necessary for production of the quantity of aerated waters actually produced in the factory. The evidence is not sufficient to show that more is or can be produced. The Union has accepted the Company's figures for sugar as correct. That being so, I do not see how it can be contended that the production of sweet waters was more than shown in the Company's statement. The witnesses suggest that the Company now consumes less sugar than before and that the syrup is prepared with less quantity of sugar in it. The implication of this suggestion is that with the same quantity of sugar more sweets are produced than the Company was prepared to admit. I cannot obviously accept such a suggestion on the evidence adduced. The Company mentioned in its statement the number of crown corks consumed during the year 1947. The Company imports crown corks from England and a wrong figure about the import cannot therefore be put in its accounts. The total is 1,009 cases of 100 gross each. Each case will therefore contain 14,400 crown corks and the total will be about 12 lakhs dozens. This figure accords approximately with the production figure submitted by the Company for 1947 which is 1,116,503 dozens. Each bottle required a crown cork and allowing for some breakages and damages, the number of corks consumed would exactly tally with the number of bottles produced, according to the Company's statement. This is sufficient to show that the Union's case of more production and concealment of production cannot be true. I therefore accept the production figures and the sales figures submitted by the Company as correct. I similarly accept the figures in the balance-sheets which have been properly certified by the auditor as correct. It was finally urged by the Union that whatever might have been the position in 1946 or in 1947 the production figures for 1948 should be taken to be more on the basis of the evidence given by its witnesses. There is, however, no reason to think that the conditions in 1948 differed in any way from those in 1946 or 1947. Obviously, the Company's position must be judged with reference to its last balance-sheet. I have already stated that the gate-sheets for December 1948 for the two factories show that the rate of production in 1948 could not have been higher than what it was in 1946 and 1947. The Union also criticised the balance-sheets in other respects. The Company takes deposits from the owners of depots to whom aerated waters are regularly supplied for safe keeping of the bottles. These are known as bottle deposits. In 1947 the amount accumulated in the bottle deposit account was Rs. 66,180 and odd. Whenever bottles are broken in the custody of a depot-owner the price thereof is to be recouped from the amount in the bottle deposit account in the name of that particular owner. In such a case the amount so recouped ought to be transferred from the bottle deposit account to the profit and loss account and shown under the head receipt. The balance-sheets do not, however, contain any head for showing such receipts. This has been rightly criticised by the Union. If amounts so recouped are shown under the head of receipts this will increase the amount of net profit. It has also been urged by the Union that no interest on the bottle deposit account is shown in the balance-sheets, but the Company does not admit that the money in the bottle deposit account has been invested and earns an interest. The Union urged another point, namely, that when bottles are broken inside the factory the broken parts are sold as scraps and that as such breakage is considerable, the sale proceeds thereof must also be a handsome amount which is not, however, shown in the balance. To this the Company's reply was that the proceeds of broken bottles are included in the sales shown under the head "Sales". As to income-tax the Union pointed out that it should be paid by the proprietor personally and that it was not known whether the tax paid included income from any other source. If it includes such income, the Union urged that the whole of the income-tax should not be charged to the account by Byron & Co. The point which should be considered by the Company. Finally the Union urged that the accounts of the Company ought to show the retail sales which admittedly undertaken from the depot or godown of the Company at Mati Seal Street. It was admitted by the Sales Manager Mr. Bheemchand that some retail sales are actually undertaken from the godown, but, according to him, such sales are not credited to the Company but are appropriated by the Manager of the godown who pays to the Company the wholesale price. Nothing has been produced to show the amount of retail sales from this godown and the Manager of the godown has not been examined. The Union made a suggestion that the amount of retail sales from the godown was considerable. The prices are Rs. 1-2 per dozen for lemonades and 12 annas per dozen for soda-water. The difference between the wholesale and the retail rates is thus considerable and it is an unsatisfactory state of affairs to allow the Godown Manager to appropriate the proceeds of retail sales in this manner by which the Company is possibly deprived of a considerable amount, unless the retail sales are altogether insignificant, as has been suggested by the Sales Manager.

The question now is whether the Company in its present financial condition is capable of bearing the burden of further expenditure on account of dearness allowance to be paid to its employees. If so, what should be the amount of dearness allowance. It is clear from the balance-sheets that the Company that it is not a losing concern but is making a profit and I am sure that it is capable of earning more profit. I am satisfied that the Company is in a position to raise its production. Certain stoppages of the machines can be avoided, e.g., stoppage for want of bottles can be avoided by increasing the stock of bottles and by making better arrangements for supply of empty bottles to the factories. The Company has a high reputation as producer of aerated waters and its products are in great demand. The Company is an old and well established concern. It has got a large number of regular wholesale customers and I am sure that it can increase their number still further. It sells its products to the wholesale customers at very cheap rates. The wholesale price of soda-water was only 6 annas per dozen up to 1946 and it was only in 1947 that the price was raised to 12 annas per dozen. The increase in the figure of sales in 1947 was due to this increase in rates. The retail price of soda-water is at least 1 anna per bottle and the retail price of a dozen is 12 annas. The Company's Solicitor argued that no further rise in the price would be justified in view of the petition as this might bring down the sale of the Company. But I do not think that there is any possibility of real danger, if the wholesale prices are increased a little more in order to meet the increased expenditure that the Company will have to incur to pay its workers adequately. The Company can also undertake some amount of retail sales. It has been said that the Company conducted its sales to wholesale for about 60 years and that it is not willing to change its policy. That is, of course, for the Company to decide, but it is important to remember that retail sales are actually undertaken by the Manager of the Company's depot at Mati Seal Street, though the Company is deprived of the profit of the same. The Company can at least keep to itself the profits of the retail from that depot. It was stated on behalf of Company that it could not think of any way expanding its business or of increasing its fits, but I do not see any reason why the company should be so despondent as the position by no means desperate. There must be several ways open to the Company for expanding its business and earning more profits and naturally the company must find them out. What I have stated are some of the ways open to the Company. In any case, I am not satisfied from what I have heard of the Company's affairs that it is not capable of paying anything more to the workmen by way of dearness allowance, though I agree that it is capable of paying at present at the scale awarded by the Union, viz., at the rate of Rs. 45 per month. So far as dearness allowance concerned I should state at the outset that the cart-delivery-men are not legitimately entitled to any dearness allowance, since they are already enjoying a privilege by which they can earn on an average Rs. 1-2 per day. There are together 162 coolies in the employment of the company in its three factories. Out of these, 35 have to work inside the factory every month and after a lapse of approximately 4 to 5 months, according to the Company's statement, the working inside the factory the coolies have extra earnings. They get transport charges when they are employed for outdoor duty as cart-delivery-men. These coolies work generally 8 months in a year and then go home. If 35 have to work inside the factory every day by night, it follows that the coolies get the chance of working as cart-delivery-men for about 6½ months during a period of 8 months. During these 6½ months if they earn Rs. 1-2 daily, their total earnings would amount to about Rs. 190. Therefore, the monthly average during a period of 8 months will come up to Rs. 23 or Rs. 24. According to this calculation, therefore, each one of these coolies would earn on an average at least Rs. 23 per month during the period of 8 months in a year when he is actually in the service of the company. This ought to be considered as sufficient compensation in lieu of dearness allowance. I do not, therefore, fix any dearness allowance for 162 coolies but I would direct the Company to see that the work of delivering bottles to the company's customers is evenly distributed among coolies so that each cooly may get a chance of working as cart-delivery-man for about 6½ months during a period of 8 months and also get a chance of making three trips on an average every day while working as such and that no cooly is compelled to work inside the factory for more days than he should be required to do according to his turn and thereby lose the benefit of the transport charges. Coolies should in addition get the food concessions they are now getting.

For the rest of the staff the Company should provide dearness allowance. As already stated, I consider the minimum of Rs. 45 demanded by the Union as dearness allowance to be beyond the capacity of the Company in its present financial position. Sri D. L. Sen Gupta at one stage referred to the award of the Engineering Industries Tribunal and suggested that the Tribunal should not in any case sanction any lower pay and dearness allowance than what was awarded by that tribunal. The Engineering Industries Tribunal awarded the minimum scale of dearness allowance at Rs. 25. But I think that dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 25 per month will also be rather high for the Company in its present state. It is completely wipe out the net profits it made in 1947, even though it may not have to pay dearness allowance to the coolies. I mean by net profits the profits remaining after payment of income-tax. It is true that the cost of living index has gone up to a high figure but, as is now universally recognised by Industrial Tribunals, the employers are under no obligation to make good to the employees to the full extent the rise in the cost of living, unless it could be shown that the industry has benefited to a corresponding extent by the very contingency which has occasioned the rise. The capacity of the industry is always a very important factor to be considered in fixing the scales of pay and dearness allowance. Considering the scales of pay fixed and the financial position of the Company I think that a scale of dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 20 per month will be fair to both the parties. This will considerably raise the earnings of the employees other than the coolies. They should get in addition the existing food concessions which have been valued at Rs. 1 per month. Together with the food concessions the scale of dearness allowance would amount to Rs. 21 per month and I think that the Company will be able to bear this burden.

The three lorry drivers who are already getting Rs. 73 per month should not get any more dearness allowance as their pay should be deemed to be inclusive of dearness allowance. It is said that the syrupmen get the sale proceeds of the empty crown cork cases and thereby earn Rs. 20 to Rs. 25 per month on an average. If the Company maintains this system of paying them the sale proceeds of the empty crown cork cases, then the amount earned thereby every month by each syrupman should be taken into account and deducted from the dearness allowance payable to him or the Company can appropriate the sale proceeds of the empty crown cork cases and pay the syrupmen the dearness allowance in full. The rest of the employees (excepting the coolies) should get dearness at the rate of Rs. 20 per month from the date on which this award will be enforced.

Issue No. 4.—City Allowance.

The Union demanded city allowance on the basis of the recommendation of the Central Pay Commission at the rate of 10 per cent. of the pay subject to a minimum of Rs. 10. The Central Pay Commission recommended city allowance for such employees of the Government as have to work in the cities like Calcutta and Bombay because the Commission recommended one uniform scale of pay for all employees whether working in the cities or in the mofussil. This consideration does not apply in this case since the Company's factories are all situated in the city of Calcutta or its suburb Howrah. Besides, in view of the financial position of the Company and the increments already granted no further increment is, in my opinion, justified. The demand is accordingly rejected.

Issue No. 5.—House Rent Allowance.

The Company provides housing accommodation only to the darwans and the sardars and to some coolies. The total number so accommodated is about 40. The Company has not got any further accommodation for its workers and is not in a position to provide such accommodation. The Union had demanded house rent allowance at the rate of 20 per cent. of pay subject to a minimum of Rs. 20 per month for all workers who could not be given accommodation by the Company. The demand, in any case, is very high and beyond the capacity of the Company. Besides, it is not shown that the workmen have to incur heavy expenditure for their accommodation and that they cannot provide such accommodation within their pay. In these circumstances the Company cannot be held liable for paying house rent allowance to its workers and in the present financial position of the Company this is altogether out of the question. The demand is therefore rejected.

Issue No. 6.—Bonus.

The Union has demanded bonus of two kinds, viz., bonus for the past years representing four months' pay plus six months' pay on account of non-payment of dearness allowance in the past and annual bonus for the future at the rate of four months' pay. The demand is most extravagant and considering the profits made in the past by the Company, as shown in its balance-sheets for 1946 and 1947, no question of bonus for past years can legitimately arise. The Company does, as a matter of fact, pay what may be called a bonus to its workmen, when they go home after eight months' service, in the shape of train fare at rates varying from Rs. 8 to Rs. 25, according to the distance to be travelled, plus Re. 1 for each month's work and if the worker goes home after 12 months' continuous service, then the rate of allowance is increased to Rs. 2 per month. The Company wants to maintain this system of payments and the Union also agreed to the retention of the present system. These payments should really be considered as bonus and all that I can direct is that the Company should continue to make these payments. Subject to this the claim for bonus is rejected.

Issue No. 7.—Retirement Benefits.

The Union demanded both Provident Fund and gratuity under the head of "Retirement Benefits". The claim for Provident Fund was, however, dropped at the time of hearing because it was recognised by the Union that since under the present system very few workers do one year's continuous service or get wages for 12 continuous months, it will not be possible for the Company to introduce any Provident Fund. As regards gratuity I think that in the present financial position of the Company it should not be saddled with any kind of liability for paying gratuity. It will also be difficult for the Company to introduce any system of gratuity because, as already stated, the Company has no records showing the length of service of the workers beyond the last three years. I therefore reject the claim for gratuity for the present. I find, however, that the Company makes certain payments in the event of death of a worker in service and I would direct that such payments should be continued in future.

Issue No. 8.—Leave and Holidays.

The factories close on Sundays and for half a day on the dates of Muhurram and Holi celebrations. Besides, ten days' holidays under the Factories Act are allowed to the workers who have worked for one full year. The Union has demanded casual leave for 15 days on full pay, privilege leave for one month on full pay and sick leave for one month on full pay and further sick leave on half pay until recovery. Besides, the Union has demanded that the workers should get all the gazetted holidays. Since the workers do not work in this factory generally for a full year but leave after eight months, I do not think that it is possible to provide for any privilege leave for them. Those who work for full one year will be entitled to ten days' holidays under the Factories Act. In the circumstances I think that it will be sufficient to provide for casual leave for seven days in a year on full pay and I direct that all workers will be entitled to get such leave from the date this award will be enforced. I also direct that all workers should get sick leave for 15 days on half pay in case of genuine sickness certified by the Company's doctor or any other registered medical practitioner, according to the award of the Engineering Industries Tribunal. The claim for privilege leave is rejected. The claim for all gazetted holidays is rather unusual in a factory and is therefore rejected.

Issue No. 9.—Free Uniforms.

The Union demanded free uniforms for coolies and for workers who work with acids. The Company states that only sulphuric acid is poured into a generator from a jar for manufacturing CO₂ gas and that this work is neither dangerous nor likely to spoil the clothes of the worker who does it. I find no justification for the claim for uniforms for the coolies or for such workers. The claim is rejected.

Issue No. 10.—Service Rules.

(a) As regards working hours the factory hours are observed and there is nothing to be said about it. The factory never works overtime and in case of overtime work the Company is prepared to pay for it at double rates, as laid down in the Factories Act. One class of workers, namely, bottle-fillers, are allowed rest for one hour after each hour of work. They actually work for four hours by batches on the machine. This system has been prevalent since the introduction of the present machines and the Union says that this is necessary as continuous work on these machines is dangerous because of the fact that bottles burst frequently causing accidents. According to the Company, this system has been introduced because it is impossible to get a man work continuously to eight hours. At the time of hearing the Union was agreeable to half-an-hour's rest after one hour's work on the machines and to six hours' work daily in place of four as at present. The Company may, therefore, if so advised, revise the present system and introduce only half-an-hour's rest after each hour of work on the machines for the bottle-fillers. The cart-delivery-men are paid overtime at the rate of 3 annas per hour, if they are late in returning to the factory. The Union contends that this rate is not equivalent to double rate and that the rate should be 4 annas per hour as the wage rate even now is 2 annas per hour. But the cart-delivery-men do not actually work inside the factory and cannot be said to be factory workmen. They are employed on work outside the factory and hence they cannot demand overtime rates sanctioned by the Factories Act. On behalf of the Union reference was made to section 2(g)(i) of the Factories Act. A worker is defined in the Act as a person employed in any manufacturing process and "manufacturing process", according to section 2(g)(i), means any process for making, altering, repairing, ornamenting, finishing or packing, or otherwise treating any article or substance with a view to its use, sale, transport, delivery or disposal. The cart-delivery-men cannot be said to be workmen employed in any of the processes mentioned in the sub-section. They are employed only for delivery of things outside the factory. Hence, while working as cart-delivery-men they cannot be entitled to overtime rates sanctioned by the Factories Act and the claim of the Union under this head is rejected.

(b) Involuntary unemployment.

The Company says that in the event of temporary stoppages due to breakdown, etc., the Company pays full wages to the workers and has no objection to pay the same. The Company has also no objection to pay compensation for involuntary unemployment at the rate awarded by the Engineering stries Tribunal. According to that award I t that compensation for the period of involun- unemployment should be payable at the rate all the basic pay and half the dearness allow- for 30 days in each half year from January one and from July to December and that to fy for this benefit the worker must answer muster roll once a day at his usual place of oyment, and a worker must be prepared to do even of a different sort in his factory or in other establishment under the same employers. his refusal to do so he will not be eligible to he benefit. Because of the fact that the ruh Factory closes for four months during the er season the Union has claimed that the ers in that factory should get compensation involuntary unemployment during the period usure, but the workers of this factory actually me when the factory closes in the winter and are paid train fares and other allowances as ioned above. They are not therefore entitled ay compensation for involuntary unemploy- so far as regular closing of the factory is rned.

e Union demands that every worker should be dered as permanent after three months' e and that the workmen who go home should nsidered to be on leave without pay. It is ult, however, to agree to this demand of the n. As I have already stated, the system ed by the Company is that when one batch rkmen go home after eight months' service leave badlis to work for them. When they come back the badlis go home. If the Union's demand is to be accepted, then both the regular workmen and their badlis would have to be made permanent because the badlis also work continuously for three months or more. So in these circumstances, all that I can direct is that only those workmen who have been continuously in the service of the Company for one year should be deemed to be permanent.

(d) The Union demanded that it should be consulted in all matters relating to dismissal, discharge or appointment of workmen. This is a demand which the Company cannot be forced to accept because it would take away the discretion of the Company in the matter of appointment, dismissal or discharge. These are matters over which the Company should have sole control and the Union cannot be allowed to interfere with them. Besides, this Union has yet to be recognised by the Company. The demand is accordingly rejected.

Issue No. 11.

This issue was not pressed by the Union as Paresh Nath Mistri, who is working elsewhere, did not want reinstatement. The question of compensation was also settled amicably between the Union and the Company.

The Union finally urged that the award should be given retrospective operation since the dispute has been pending for about seven months. So far as this matter is concerned, it is for the Government to declare from which date the award will be in operation. Under section 15 of the Industrial Disputes Act the Government is to declare by an order in writing the award to be binding and under section 19(3) an award so declared to be binding shall come into operation on such date as may be specified by the appropriate Government and shall remain in operation for such period, not exceeding one year, as may be fixed by that Government. Thus it is for the Government to specify the period for which the award may remain in operation. In this state of law I do not see how a Tribunal can be expected to make an award retrospective in operation. Besides, seven months' time is not a long period and I do not think that the dispute has dragged for such a length of time as to call for an award having retrospective operation.

ANNEXURE.

matter of industrial dispute between the Management of the Standard Vacuum Oil Company, 6, Church Lane, Calcutta, and their employees as represented by the Standard Vacuum Employees' Union, 158, Muktaram Babu Street, Calcutta.

Industrial dispute relating to the claim of bonus for the year 1946 between the Management of the Standard Vacuum Oil Company, 6, Church Lane, Calcutta, and their employees as represented by the Standard Vacuum Employees' Union, 158, Muktaram Babu Street, Calcutta, has been referred under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, for adjudication.

Company: Mr. S. Chowdhury, Counsel, instructed by Messrs. Sanderson and Morgans, Solicitors.

Union: The Secretary of the Union.

AWARD.

The Union claimed bonus for the years 1944, 1945 and 1946 along with other demands. The matter came up before me for adjudication on a previous occasion and I made an award on the 22nd March 1948. This award was accepted by Government order No. 961Lab., dated the 30th March 1948.

I refused the claim for bonus for the years 1944 and 1945 but kept open the claim for bonus for the year 1946. I observed thus:—

"It appears that the final figures for the year 1946 have not been obtained or the accounts of 1946 have not been adjusted. During other years the Company made a good profit before taxes were paid. After payment of income-tax, super tax, excess profit tax, etc., it appears that the net profit of the Company has been less than the interest on Government securities. It is, no doubt, true that the Company could afford to pay bonuses before the taxes were paid and this would not have affected the finances of the Company in any way. I am now concerned with the question whether, on the figures as they at present stand, I should compel the Company to pay a bonus. It was argued that Government is refunding monies out of excess profit tax and deposit. The refunds are being made on the grounds of rehabilitation and industry and this Tribunal considers it incompetent to ask the Company to divert the money otherwise than directed to do by Government of India.

In the recent time, some awards were made by which bonus has been granted but by other Tribunals—in Bombay, Madras, Cochin. In view of the figures disclosed to me I do not find any justification for upholding the claim for bonus for the years 1944 and 1945. However, I keep the claim for bonus for the year 1946 open as complete figures have not yet been obtained for that year."

The matter now comes before me by the reference noted above.

Both parties agree not to question my jurisdiction to make an award in this case. They have agreed not to do so in future.

During previous adjudication the claim was laid in the following terms:—"One month's salary for each of the years 1944, 1945 and 1946." The claim has now been laid in the following terms:—"Basic salary in December 1946 plus Rs. 15 (increment granted in January 1947) with effect from January, April or July 1946 and dearness allowance prevalent in December 1946."

Clearly there has been an enlargement of the claim by inclusion of dearness allowance. Till the date of reference there had not been any demand for this. This enlarged portion must be disallowed.

Another question mooted is whether bonus, if allowed, should cover increments granted in the first part of the year 1947 with retrospective effect. Salary includes what is earned as salary for the year and deferred payment does not affect it. I direct that in case of award of any bonus salary shall include the increments granted to take effect from any part of the year 1946.

Now remains the question whether bonus for the year 1946 should be allowed.

I have considered the statements of account submitted to me confidentially and new submissions and comments made by both parties. I have also considered what I said on the last occasion. I award that the Company shall pay bonus for the year 1946 at the following rates:—The bonus shall be equal to 1/12th of the earnings of the year 1946 to such of the employees as had put in service for at least 75 days in the year; to those who had put in less than 75 days' service but more than 30 days, half of 1/12th (i.e., 1/24th) should be paid. No payment will be made to those dismissed for misconduct. The payments are to be made within two months of the publication of the award.

I have already said that salary shall not include dearness allowance but shall include increments granted with retrospective effect.

S. C. CHAKRAVARTI,
Chairman, Tribunal.

ORDER.

No. 823Lab.—24th February 1949.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department order No. 4414-Lab., dated the 3rd December 1948, the industrial dispute between J. K. Hosiery Factory (Calcutta), Ltd., 391, Grand Trunk Road, Belur, Howrah, and its piece-rate workers represented by Bengal Hosiery Mazdur Union, 6 Peari Mohan Mukherji Street, Belur, Howrah, which was not covered by the award enforced under notification No. 1997Lab., dated the 18th June 1948, was referred for adjudication to Sri S. C. Chakravarti, Additional District Judge;

And whereas the said Sri S. C. Chakravarti, Additional District Judge, has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15, read with sub-section (3) of section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Sri S. C. Chakravarti, Additional District Judge, shall bind the Company and their workmen aforesaid as specified therein and shall remain in force for a period of one year with effect from the date of its publication.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of industrial dispute between J. K. Hosiery Factory (Calcutta), Ltd., 391, Grand Trunk Road, Belur, Howrah, and its piece-rate workers represented by Bengal Hosiery Mazdur Union, 6, Peari Mohan Mukherji Street, Belur, Howrah.

By order No. 4414Lab., dated the 3rd December 1948, Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries, commissioned my services to adjudicate on a dispute between Messrs. J. K. Hosiery Factory (Calcutta), Ltd., 391, Grand Trunk Road, Belur, Howrah, and its piece-rate workers represented by Bengal Hosiery Mazdur Union, 6, Peari Mohan Mukherji Street, Belur, Howrah.

A dispute between the workmen and the Management was before the adjudicator Sri J. S. C. Datta Gupta and he made an award on 4th June 1948. Government of West Bengal by an order No. 1997-Lab., dated the 18th June 1948, made it binding for one year with effect from 26th April 1948. At the time of that adjudication the demand was for abolition of piece-rate system of work. There was no claim for higher rates if the claim for total abolition was refused.

The demand for total abolition was refused. The matter has now come before me mainly for increasing the rates and dearness allowance.

For the factory: Sri S. C. Sen Gupta, Advocate.

For the Union: Sri Dwijendra Lal Sen Gupta, Pleader, with Sri Taradas Chakravarti, Secretary of the Union.

The following are the headings of the points for adjudication:—

- (1) Has the Tribunal jurisdiction to consider the matters under the alleged dispute as those matters were covered by the previous award which is in force up to the 25th April 1949?

- (2) Implementation of the general award to the piece-rate workers.

- (a) Dearness allowance.
- (b) Casual leave.
- (c) Sick leave.
- (d) Provident Fund.
- (e) Rules for permanency.
- (f) Rules for dismissal.

- (3) Fixed minimum of different categories of workers.
- (4) Increment of the present piece-rate.
- (5) Abolition of Slip Production system.
- (6) Durwan's pay.

AWARD.

Points 2(a), 3 and 4.

The piece-rate system is to some extent methodical. The workers get on rates, Rs. 16 per month as dearness allowance. A scientific system is to fix an enhanced dearness surcharge. I am more concerned the total emoluments I have to see that a total emoluments dearness allowance is not a larger share.

Another factory producing similar goods Messrs. Sriram Hosiery Factory, Ltd. In my grievance was that the factory was not giving Sriram Factory paid. Sriram Factory paid monthly rate system. In July 1947 this was agreed to raise the rates to enable the workers to earn as much as the workers could earn with Sriram Hosiery Factory. In Annexure I, I give a comparative table of relevant figures to judge what under the piece-rate system the workers are exploited. The total emoluments paid by Sriram Hosiery Factory are considered fair. If the earnings of the piece-raters of this factory be compared to the total earnings of the workers of Sriram Hosiery, no question of increasing the rates. This all depends on whether the basis in Sriram Hosiery adopted by this factory is practicable as a normal standard. The factory with the help of the Union representatives prepared a statement showing the amount of work and the earnings of each worker for six months. It appears that most of the workers do more work in eight hours except in body-cutting. It can therefore be said that the workers have secured as much as the workers can earn in Sriram Hosiery as body-cutters. It is, no doubt, true that in Sriram Hosiery idleness pays, but I cannot make any provision for idleness in piece-rate system. For body-cutters I fix the following basis and rates:—

R. N. S.—50 dozens at the rate of 1 anna 10 paise per dozen.

R. N.—25 dozens at the rate of 2 anna 10 paise per dozen.

B. F.—42 dozens at the rate of 1 anna 10 paise per dozen.

In addition the workers shall get fixed dearness allowance of Rs. 16 a month. Enhancement of the rates of others is not justified.

There has been a demand for a minimum guaranteed amount. Earnings may fall short on account of any of the three conditions. (i) Failure of the machinery, (ii) Non-supply of materials, (iii) Failure of the workers to execute work on the basis.

(i) Failure of the machinery.—This is a common to the workers and to the Management. It is just and proper that the loss should be shared by both. I award that in case of breakdown or failure of machinery the workers shall get half the total emoluments for the day according to basis and dearness allowance.

(ii) Non-supply of materials.—Here the Management can arrange for regular supply. A supply can be stored for future. It is expected that more men than can be fed.

ept in service. In case of short supply the minimum guaranteed amount shall be two-thirds of the total emoluments for each day during dearness allowance. If on account of chronic short supply there be a surplus of men, retrenchment must be effected. However, to avoid retrenchment all the workers concerned agree to do away with the minimum guaranteed system, it will be permissible for the management to accept that.

(i) Failure of the workers to work up to the limit—I am not prepared to guarantee any sum for indolence.

Point 5.—Slip Production System.

In this system, viz., the Slip Production system, the payment of wages to the workers are delayed for months. They do not get their wages within reasonable time. Apart from the inconveniences caused, this creates an amount of idleness which is not conducive to the peace of the industry. When payments are made long after, it is difficult for a workman to ascertain how he really earns for a particular month and gives rise to discontent. The Company submit that some time is required for accounting, I direct that wages for any particular week should not be held back in any case beyond two months.

Point 6.—Durwan's pay.

Durwan's pay.—The reference is confined to estate workers. So this point cannot be decided upon.

Points 2(b), Casual leave, 2(c) Sick leave, 2(d) Provident Fund, 2(e) Rules for permanency and 2(f) Rules for dismissal.

The award of Srijut Datta Gupta covers all these points. He awarded in general terms for all workers including piece-rate workers. The award is still in force and no further adjudication is permissible.

I think one word is necessary by way of clarification of the award of Srijut Datta Gupta. It appears from the award that he granted 15 days' privilege leave on full pay to the workers. This includes piece-raters. The time-rate workers were granted something more. The adjudicator was very particular in mentioning that the advantages were available only for time-rated workers. The matter is clear and no revision is permissible.

Point 1.—Has the Tribunal jurisdiction to consider the matters under the alleged dispute as those matters were covered by the previous award which is in force up to the 25th April 1949?

I have already excluded some points covered by the previous award. On those matters I have no jurisdiction. I have jurisdiction on the points on which I have given this award.

ORDER.

ANNEXURE.

AWARD.

1. (2) Kamala Singh was a worker in the Electric Furnace Department of the National Iron and Steel Co., Ltd. The Company's case is that he offered a bribe of Rs. 10 to one Bindha Singh of the Inspection Department in order to induce him as a leader of the workers to negotiate with the Company and get another worker named Genaur Thakur employed in another more remunerative section of the factory, and Kamala Singh was found on enquiry to be guilty of misconduct and ultimately discharged from 29th April 1948. The case is that when the subject-matter of the alleged misconduct was brought to the notice of the Management on 23rd April 1948, a charge-sheet was put forward against him on that date asking him to explain his conduct, and he was suspended for three days. The explanation was not submitted, and the worker resumed work on 26th April 1948. But on and from 29th April 1948 he was discharged. The case of the Union is that the story of giving a bribe was got up, and the worker was discharged as a measure of victimisation.

1. (3) Ananda Maharana and the 19 other workers were workers under a contractor, named Lingaraj under the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd. The Company's case is that about the middle of March 1948 the contractor resigned, and under those circumstances, as the work of the factory had to be carried on, the Company took over direct management of the section in which these workers worked, and this was done as a tentative measure. The Company found in the light of experience that the work was not being done properly and the products manufactured were not satisfactory, a high percentage of them having to be rejected. The Company's case further is that most of the workers became anxious to return to the contract system, and the contractor also submitted a letter of withdrawal of his resignation. Under these circumstances, we are told, the Company discontinued the system of direct management about the middle of April 1948, when the contractor Lingaraj returned and recommenced the contract system. The 20 workers with whom we are concerned along with many others were desired by the Company to work under the contract system which was revived, and while most of the workers returned to work under the contractor as before, Ananda Maharana and the others with whom we are concerned, declined to go back to the contract system, and accordingly their services under the direct management of the Company were discontinued. The Company's case is that these workers resigned their service of their own accord in so far as they refused to go back to the contract system about the middle of April. The case of the workers, on the other hand, is that the conditions of their service were changed to their prejudice, and on their refusal to accept the change they were discharged by the Company. The case of the Company is that it had the right to change the system, and in so far as the workers concerned did not agree to continue the work under the contractor, they should be deemed to have wilfully resigned and are not accordingly entitled to any relief by way of either reinstatement or compensation. Towards the end of the present proceedings it was brought to the notice of this Tribunal that an industrial dispute between the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., and its workmen was referred to Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., as an Industrial Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal order No. 737Lab., dated the 10th March 1948, and the question of abolition of contract labour was raised as an issue in those proceedings, and the proceedings were concluded on 6th July 1948, the date on which the Award was published in the Calcutta Gazette by the Government of West Bengal order No. 2263Lab. It is contended by the Iron Factory Workers' Union on behalf of the 20 workers that the discharge of these workers amounted to an unfair labour practice under the particular circumstances, and further that the alteration of the conditions of service from the direct management system to the contract system about the middle of April 1948, during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings before Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., was an illegal action on the part of the Company within the meaning of the first part of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, and the Company cannot be allowed to take advantage of its own illegal action, and the discharged workers are entitled to reinstatement and compensation.

1. (4) On the statements submitted by the different parties and in the light of the discussions with reference to them, the following issues have been framed:—

- (1) Was the discharge in respect of each of the 24 specified workers justified? If not, should there be an order for reinstatement with consequential relief?

- (2) Should the contract system be abolished in respect of Ananda Maharana and others?

1. (5) Before proceeding to decide the issues it is necessary to note briefly the progress of the present adjudication proceedings. The order of reference, dated the 25th September 1948, received by this Tribunal on 28th September 1948, shortly before the commencement of the Purnima days. The Purnima holidays and my leave of absence intervened, and the matter was really taken up in the first part of November after my return from leave. Different categories of workers concerned were represented by their lawyers and labour representatives. A considerable number of witnesses were examined on both sides, parties concerned both in the court room and at the factory. When the proceedings were about to be brought to a close about the middle of November the Iron Factory Workers' Union filed a petition praying that the contractor Lingaraj might be allowed to be a party to the proceedings. This was allowed, and a new stage in the proceedings began with the appearance of the contractor Lingaraj, who gave a new written statement, and the other parties were given the opportunity of filing their statements if any. Further batches of witnesses were examined by the parties concerned in January 1949. Sri S. K. Acharyya, Counsel, on behalf of the workers Pathak, Munir Khan, Habibullah, Kamala Singh and Sri S. P. Ghosh Advocate for the employers concluded their argument in regard to these four workers on 16th December 1948. The remaining part of the case in regard to the 20 workers had, however, been carried on in the presence of the court. Arguments with regard to that part of the case were heard on 26th January 1949 and on that date Sri Sibnath Banerjee, President of the Iron Factory Workers' Union, in course of his argument introduced a new phase by putting the question of Award of Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., in the matter of the earlier industrial dispute between the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., and its workmen as published by the Government of West Bengal order No. 2263Lab., dated the 6th July 1948. The Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., was then confronted with a new situation, and when the Tribunal's effort to bring about an amicable settlement failed, the Company prayed for permission to file a statement, and this was allowed. The Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., did file a statement with reference to the Award of Sri S. K. Sen and the implications thereof, and both sides were permitted to adduce further evidence if any. The Company recalled two of its witnesses and they were examined and cross-examined, and then further arguments were heard on both sides, and eventually the hearing was concluded on 2nd February 1949. The factors referred to have unfortunately caused a delay in the disposal of this adjudication, but it was unavoidable under the particular circumstances. I shall now proceed to deal with the subject matter of each of the issues framed.

Issue No. 2.

2. For the sake of convenience I take up Issue No. 2 first. This issue on the subject of abolition of the contract system in respect of Ananda Maharana and 19 others has been raised on their behalf by the Iron Factory Workers' Union. These men were workers under the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., till about the middle of April 1948, and when the contract system was introduced their services were terminated. In the present case no question of abolition of the contract system as a whole could be appropriately raised, and therefore, the issue was restricted to the 20 workers concerned. I do not think it is practicable to abolish a system in respect of a handful of workers, and I pointed out this as a practical difficulty at the time when the Union the framing of an issue on the subject. Apart from this aspect of the matter, it appears that the question of abolition of contract labour was the subject matter of Issue No. 8 before Sri S. K. Chatterjee, J.C.S., in the earlier adjudication proceeding between the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., and the workmen. The decision with regard to that question runs as follows:—"It is recommended that contract labour should be replaced as far as possible by permanent workmen directly under the company and in the meantime to minimise the effects of the contract system, the Company should abstain from granting a contract that the contract labour is paid at a proper rate and should further insert a clause in the contract entitling an agent of the Company to supervise the actual payment of wages by the contractor to his labour". It appears, therefore, that the Tribunal, on that occasion, in dealing with the contract labour system as a whole refrained from directing any abolition of the system but recommended a gradual process of replacement, and prescribed certain steps to be done by the Company in the meantime.

The position, therefore, is that by virtue of the Award which would be operative for a period of one year from the 6th July 1948, the company would be entitled to retain the contract labour system and to try to replace it by a system of direct management as far as possible, and it would be the Company's duty during the period of operation of the contract labour system to adopt the steps prescribed by the Tribunal. I do not think it is permissible for the present Tribunal to direct or recommend any different course with regard to 20 specified workers. The Tribunal would be well-advised to raise a specific issue regarding the question of abolition of the contract labour system at the proper stage in accordance with law. The position is that the present Tribunal cannot properly deal with the matter and I must answer Issue No. 2 in the negative so far as our present purposes are concerned.

I next take up Issue No. 1 with regard to the discharge of the 24 specified workers divided into three distinct categories and proceed to examine the remedies of reinstatement and compensation as prayed for by the Unions concerned. As I proceed to tackle each of the three categories of workers separately it will be useful to lay down the principles which should govern such decisions. Recently I had occasion to lay down certain principles with regard to this subject in my Award in the matter of an industrial dispute between the Bengal Chemical and Pharmaceutical Works, Ltd., and their workmen in connection with the cases of certain discharged employees, as published in the Calcutta Gazette by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 571ab., dated the 6th March 1949. After discussing various Awards made by different Tribunals in West Bengal and other Provinces, and particularly the Award of the A. V. Divatia in the case of the India United Mills, Ltd., Bombay, published on page 335 of the Bombay Labour Gazette of January 1947, I proceeded to lay down certain guiding principles in paragraph 9 of my Award. In dealing with the present dispute before me I shall adopt the same principles for my guidance, and in the absence of certain other factors which have arisen in the present case I consider it necessary to make an addition to the principles which I had occasion to lay down in the case of the Bengal Chemical and Pharmaceutical Works, Ltd. It will be helpful to reiterate those principles here by incorporating the addition which I wish to make. In dealing with the present case I propose to be guided by the following principles:—

An Industrial Tribunal under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, can exercise much wider powers than an ordinary Court of law. The powers of an ordinary Court of law are necessarily circumscribed by the limits set by the law as it stands, but the powers of an Industrial Tribunal have no rigidly fixed limits inasmuch as they have to be exercised in the light of equitable principles and in furtherance of peaceful industrial relations and in the interest of social justice.

(2) In a case where the discharge of an employee amounts to or is a consequence of an illegal action on the part of the employer, an Industrial Tribunal may direct reinstatement of the discharged employee with or without suitable compensation, although an ordinary Court of law cannot direct reinstatement.

(3) In a case where the discharge of an employee has been ordered owing to his participation in legitimate trade union activities, or where the order of discharge amounts to an unfair labour practice on the part of the employer, an Industrial Tribunal may direct reinstatement of the discharged employee with or without suitable compensation, although an ordinary Court of law cannot direct reinstatement.

(4) In a case of discharge of an employee, where the discharge does not amount to or is not a consequence of any illegal action on the part of the employer, or the discharge does not amount to an unfair labour practice on the part of the employer, or the discharge has not been ordered on account of the employee's participation in legitimate trade union activities, but it is found that the employee was dismissed wrongfully, that is, without just cause or excuse, or that the order of discharge was made with some ulterior motive or it amounts to arbitrary conduct or unnecessary harshness, an Industrial Tribunal will not ordinarily direct reinstatement of the discharged employee, but may award suitable compensation. An Industrial Tribunal can exercise much wider powers than an ordinary Court of law and is entitled, under appropriate circumstances, to go beyond such terms of contract or Standing Orders and Rules which may be in existence.

(5) Even in cases of discharge not covered by (2), (3) and (4), for instance, under circumstances of closure of the concern, retrenchment, etc., an Industrial Tribunal is entitled to exercise its powers in the interest of social justice and peaceful industrial relations, and may award suitable compensation, such as an ordinary Court of law would not be entitled to do.

3. (7) I next proceed to deal with the cases of the first category of workers, namely, Jnan Ranjan Pathak, Munir Khan and Habibullah, whose case was conducted on behalf of the Belur Iron and Steel Workers' Union by Sri S. K. Acharyya. With regard to this part of the case, the relevant witnesses are P.W. 1 Munir Khan, P.W. 2 Jnan Ranjan Pathak, P.W. 3 Habibullah, P.W. 9 Krishna Chandra Palit, a worker, P.W. 10 Gopal Ch. Mukherjee, a worker, P.W. 11 Talebali, a worker, P.W. 12 Amar Ganguli, a worker on the side of the Union, and O.P.W. 1 Himansu Bhusan Pal, Supervisor, O.P.W. 2 Rohini Kumar Mukherjee, Foreman, O.P.W. 3 Sudhir Kumar Ghosh, a mistri, O.P.W. 4 Bhola Nath Chakravarti, a mistri, O.P.W. 5 Manmatha Das, a mistri, O.P.W. 6 Durgapada Baral, a worker, O.P.W. 7 Dhirendra Nath Ghosh, a clerk on the side of the National Iron and Steel Co., Ltd. P.W. indicates witnesses for the petitioners, i.e., the workers, and O.P.W. indicates witnesses for the opposite party, that is, the employers. The Company's case is what was stated in the charge-sheets put forward against these three workers, the charges being insubordination, disobedience of orders and interference with the work of other employees. As regards the charge of insubordination there is no satisfactory evidence. As regards the charge of disobedience of orders, the wording is of a general nature, and no specific orders having been indicated, the question of disobedience does not seem to be of great importance. The real charge is the allegation of interference with the work of other employees. It is alleged by the Company that each of the three workers Pathak, Munir Khan and Habibullah indulged in acts of coercion and intimidation in order to prevent other workers from doing their work adequately and properly, and they were thus instrumental in keeping down the production, and in fact the production became very unsatisfactory. The charge-sheet against each of the three workers was indeed issued on 3rd March 1948. It is clear, however, that the subject matter of the charge related not merely to what the workers did or omitted to do on 3rd March 1948, but also to their acts and omissions during a substantial period prior to that date, and in particular prior to the cessation of work from some time in the afternoon on 1st March 1948 up to the end of 2nd March 1948. The charge of interference with the work of other employees is a comprehensive charge and does not relate to any isolated act committed on a particular date. It is in evidence that Munir Khan was a member of the Committee of the Belur Iron and Steel Workers' Union, and Pathak was the Treasurer of that Union and Habibullah was a member of the Union. It is not disputed that there was a cessation of work from about 4 or 4:30 p.m. on 1st March 1948 up to 2nd March 1948, and the work in the factory was resumed from 3rd March 1948. The nature of the strike and the origin thereof are not quite clear, and it is not known whether this strike was directed or approved by the Union concerned. The Union's case is that the three workers were proceeded against owing to their trade union activities, in so far as the Company failed to come to a satisfactory arrangement about the payment of production bonus to the workers of the production section of the machine shop to which these workers belonged, and these workers took part in negotiations with the Company with regard to the question of production bonus and pressed for the payment of the same. It is further contended by the Union that the workers had the right to strike, and the discharge of the three workers was an act of victimisation. On the other hand, it is contended on behalf of the Company that the charge of interference with the work of other employees did not relate to the short-lived strike at all, but had reference to the acts and omissions of the three workers before and after the strike. In this connection the explanations submitted by the three workers in reply to the charge-sheets are worthy of notice. The explanations of Munir Khan, Pathak and Habibullah have been marked as Exhibits 1, 4 and 6 respectively. Pathak's explanation is in English, and the two others are written in Urdu, and I have English translations of those two explanations before me. In reply to the charge of interfering with the work of other employees Munir Khan states as follows: "All our work was going in full swing. Many machines were working and many were idle due to breakdown. The work was going on as of old". Similarly Habibullah in his explanation states as follows: "If you make enquiries you will find that the work was going on. It is not understood why explanation has been asked when the work was going on". Pathak evaded an answer by simply saying that he did not interfere with anybody's work. The workers concerned evidently intended to say that there was no interference with the work of any employee and every thing was going on normally and regularly as hitherto. The P.W.'s 9, 10, 11 and 12, workers in the factory, have stated that they never heard that the three workers concerned obstructed the production. O.P.W. 1, a Supervisor in the machine shop of the Company, has stated that the workers generally complained that they were intimidated by Pathak, Munir Khan and Habibullah. The witness has further stated that when the police came a show of work by putting some materials into the machines was being kept up but both before the police arrived and after they left the machines were running but no materials were being put and therefore, no real work was being done. Reference has been made to Exhibits A, A(1) and A(2), in which certain workers complained of obstruction and intimidation by Munir Khan, Pathak and Habibullah, they having been specifically named in Exhibit A. The allegation of obstruction and intimidation by the three workers concerned is amply corroborated by the employees O.P.W.'s 1, 4, 5 and 6, of whom three appear to be responsible mistries. O.P.W. 3 says that the three workers concerned stopped the work and prevented others from working, adding that Pathak assaulted O.P.W. 4 Bholanath and Munir Khan threatened to beat if the workers worked. O.P.W. 4 Bholanath a mistri, has testified to the fact that Pathak struck him with a piece of sugarcane. Although this incident took place after Pathak's discharge it sufficiently indicates his attitude and mentality during the relevant period prior to his discharge. O.P.W. 5 has stated that the production fell as Munir Khan asked the workers not to work. O.P.W. 6, a worker, has stated that Munir Khan and Pathak prevented workers from working and the production fell as the workers were afraid of assault. O.P.W. 2, a Foreman, has stated that he received complaints during his enquiry that the three workers concerned indulged in intimidation and threatened to beat the workers if they produced much. O.P.W. 7, a clerk of the Company has thrown some light on the position regarding the question of production bonus. The evidence does indicate that the three workers concerned took part in pressing the question of production bonus and the workers of the production section of the machine shop had perhaps a grievance about the non-payment of production bonus. The dispute regarding production bonus might have been properly taken to an Industrial Tribunal through the proper channel. At the most there might have been a regular strike as a consequence of the dispute. As I have already said the nature and the origin of the short-lived strike on 2nd March 1948 are not quite clear, and it is not known whether it was approved or inspired by the Union concerned. Whatever that might be the present charge of deliberate interference with the work of other employees by the application of methods of coercion and intimidation relates to the activities of the three workers Pathak, Munir Khan and Habibullah during a period directly before the afternoon of 1st March 1948 when the strike commenced and after the termination of the strike on the morning of 3rd March 1948. There is ample evidence to indicate that on 3rd March 1948 the machines were kept running but no materials were being put and therefore, there was no real work, and only a show of work was maintained during the visit of the police. It is true that during the day on 3rd March 1948 Habibullah was not attending, as he was a worker of the night shift. But as I have said the alleged activities relate to a period immediately before the commencement of the short strike, and also to the period commencing from the morning of 3rd March 1948. The representation made by certain workers including P.W.'s 9 and 10, to the management requesting them to reinstate the three discharged workers has been put in evidence as Exhibit 8. That representation by itself does not establish that the three discharged workers were not guilty of the charge laid against them. Many workers were naturally in sympathy with them on account of pressing the in connection with the matter of production bonus. Company for the payment of production bonus. I have watched the demeanour of both sets of witnesses produced before me by the two sides and have come to the conclusion that there is no reason for disbelieving the witnesses on the side company who have testified to the effect three workers concerned were deliberately interfering with the work of other by adopting tactics of coercion and intimidation. In the explanations submitted by workers concerned there is no reference to stoppage of work amounting to a strike. I have simply asserted that the work was going on and there was no interference with any work. I am fully satisfied that this assertion does not represent the true state of things requiring full consideration to the evidence and circumstances considered in the light of the circumstances and probabilities, I come to the conclusion that Ranjan Pathak, Munir Khan and Habibullah were guilty of the charge of interfering with the work of other employees, and that interference was deliberate, and methods of coercion and intimidation were adopted by them in carrying out a policy of obstruction in the matter of production. I can quite understand that the workers concerned and many other workers in the production section of the machine shop perhaps have had a genuine grievance against the payment of production bonus. The Company's policy of encouraging or initiating "go slow" or "no work" tactics by pursuing a policy of coercion and intimidation or otherwise during a time when there was no legitimate strike is reprehensible, and the Company had no alternative but to take serious exception to such methods. As I have already indicated, workers who want to have their grievances properly considered may take a dispute to a Tribunal or to the proper channel and they have the right of going on an open and regular work but they have no justification for adopting "go slow" or "no work" tactics by methods of coercion and intimidation or otherwise, while going to carry on the work in a regular and proper manner. Although Juan Ranjan Pathak, Munir Khan and Habibullah were members of the Union, and might have taken some active part in the question of production bonus on behalf of the workers generally, I am fully satisfied that the charge of deliberate interference with the work of other employees during a normal time when there was no strike has been fully established, and the Company had reasons for discharging the three workers as guilty of misconduct to the serious detriment of the interest of the Company in the production, and it is not a fact that these three workers were discharged owing to legitimate trade union activities or that their discharge amounted to an unfair practice on the part of the Company. Now, the principles which I have enunciated clearly hold that none of these three workers—Ranjan Pathak, Munir Khan and Habibullah—are entitled either to reinstatement or compensation. Each of them, however, is entitled to his wages, allowances and other dues up to the date of his discharge. I make my findings accordingly with regard to Issue No. 1 in so far as these three workers are concerned.

I next pass on to consider the case of Bindha Singh, a former worker under the Iron and Steel Company, Ltd. As indicated in paragraph 1(2), the Commission's finding is that he offered a bribe of Rs. 10 to Bindha Singh of the inspection department to induce the latter as a leader of the Union to negotiate with the Company and get a worker named Genaur Thakur employed in the more remunerative section of the factory. The alleged misconduct was brought to the attention of the management on 23rd April 1948 and on that date a charge-sheet was put forward to him asking him to explain his conduct and he was immediately suspended for three days. Bindha Singh failed to submit any explanation within the expiry of the period of suspension he resumed work on 26th April 1948. But he was discharged finally on and from 29th April 1948. The case of the Union is that the story of giving a bribe was concocted by Bindha Singh and others and the discharge of Kamala Singh amounted to an act of victimisation on the part of the Company. There is no evidence to show that Kamala Singh was a member of any trade union, not to speak of his being an official of any Union. Nor is there any evidence to indicate that he engaged himself in any kind of trade union activities. The Company's case is that he was suspended and ultimately discharged solely owing to his misconduct in so far as he offered a bribe to Bindha Singh in order to get something done for another worker named Genaur Thakur in whom Kamala Singh was interested. It appears that Kamala Singh failed to submit any explanation in reply to the charge-sheet. The charge-sheet was written in English which was not intelligible to him but he should have got it explained by somebody in order to enable him to submit an explanation. Anyway in his evidence before this Tribunal Kamala Singh has given the explanation that he gave a loan of Rs. 10 to Bindha Singh on account of some Pujas. Apart from the evidence of Kamala Singh, P.W. 4, with regard to this part of the case, we have got the evidence of O.P.W. 8 Bindha Singh and O.P.W. 9 Jagannath who corroborates Bindha Singh. Bindha Singh has stated that he was a leader of the workers for carrying on negotiations with the Company, and on the date in question Kamala Singh followed him and near the factory gate he put a letter and two five-rupee notes into his pocket. The letter is Exhibit C which is written in Hindi. It has been somewhat difficult to decipher the contents of this letter but it was transcribed by a fairly competent person into legible Devanagari, and it appears that the writer of the letter purports to be Genaur Thakur through Kamala Singh. It is not known who the actual writer is, and no attempt has been made on behalf of the Company to establish the author of the handwriting. The contents indicate something about a request to get Genaur Thakur employed in the moulding section of the factory, and there is a reference to the payment of Rs. 10. In his evidence Kamala Singh has not denied that an amount of Rs. 10 was handed over to Bindha Singh, but has given the explanation that the amount was given as a loan. This theory has been stoutly denied by Bindha Singh. The management appears to have taken action on a petition, Exhibit D, submitted by O.P.W. 9 Jagannath and some others requesting that proper action might be taken against Kamala Singh for his misconduct in giving a bribe. On behalf of the Union it has been argued with reference to the evidence available that Bindha Singh as a chipperman was getting lesser wages than Genaur Thakur, a blacksmith, and it is improbable that a lesser man like Bindha Singh would be approached with a bribe for getting Genaur Thakur employed in a more remunerative occupation. Bindha Singh, however, claims to be a leader of the workers for the purpose of carrying on negotiations with the Company and the evidence is to the effect that although he had no hand in the matter of employment he was in a position to put in a word with the authorities in favour of Genaur Thakur. Bindha Singh has said that Genaur Thakur saw him on the following day with regard to the matter but Bindha Singh declined to do anything for him. While it may be that Bindha Singh was not a highly paid person, it was not improbable that he was in a position to put in a word in favour of a worker, if he was recognised as a leader of the workers for the purpose of carrying on negotiations. The story, therefore, is not totally improbable. Kamala Singh has in a way admitted the act of handing over Rs. 10 to Bindha Singh. If he paid the amount to Bindha Singh as an illegal gratification in order to induce him to do something for his friend Genaur Thakur, that would no doubt amount to a misconduct. It is, however, not clear that Kamala Singh was really aware of the true nature of his mission. O.P.W. 8 Bindha Singh has said that Kamala Singh followed him with a letter from one Deonandan Singh. The letter, Exhibit C, does not, however, appear to have any connection with any person named Deonandan Singh. There is no evidence to show that Kamala Singh is a literate person or he had any connection with the writing of the letter, Exhibit C, or that he was able to read the contents of that letter. It is not improbable that he was befooled by Genaur Thakur or somebody else and was induced to introduce the letter, Exhibit C, with some money into Bindha Singh's pocket without really understanding the implications of what he was doing. He was, however, aware that he was handing over some money along with a piece of paper, and he has explained in his evidence that he gave the money as a loan. This explanation is indeed not satisfactory and Kamala Singh may have concocted his present explanation as an after-thought. In any case the motive of Kamala Singh is not quite clear and should have been cleared up by the management in course of the enquiry which they held. It does not appear that Genaur Thakur who was, according to Company's case, the principal culprit, was examined or tackled in any manner at all. O.I.W. Jagannath has stated that Genaur Thakur left the factory shortly after the incident, but has since come back and is comfortably working under this Company. I do not understand this position which appears to me to be extremely inconsistent. If the Company was so very particular about discharging Kamala Singh on the ground of acting as a messenger of the real bribe-giver, it is not understood why they agreed to take back Genaur Thakur in their service after his return. Genaur Thakur appears to be a clever man in so far as he made a quick exit directly after the incident but when the storm blew over he quietly came back and the Company complacently re-engaged him forgetting the grave step which they had taken against the secondary culprit Kamala Singh if he was a culprit at all. Of course the innocence of Kamala Singh is not proved merely by reason of the fact that another guilty man has gone unpunished. But the circumstances sufficiently indicate the inconsistent manner in which the management happened to deal with the incident. As I have already said Kamala Singh might very well have been an innocent messenger of the principal culprit. If it were a criminal case the charge would not perhaps be taken as proved beyond reasonable doubt. I am, however, not dealing with a criminal case and what I have to consider is whether there were some grounds on the basis of which the Company was entitled to entertain at least a strong suspicion to the effect that Kamala Singh was guilty of some misconduct in connection with an affair of giving illegal gratification. The Company is entitled to take a grave view of corrupt practices, and that being so, I am not prepared to say that the decision of the Company as regards the guilt of Kamala Singh must be held to be wrong. The question, however, arises as to whether the punishment inflicted on Kamala Singh was unnecessarily harsh, particularly in view of the position that the Company allowed the principal culprit Genaur Thakur to return to his work after a period of absence. Considering all the facts and circumstances I come to the conclusion that the discharge of Kamala Singh did not amount to any unfair labour practice on the part of the Company, and that Kamala Singh was not discharged on account of any trade union activity, but that he was discharged on account of what the Company found or strongly suspected to be a misconduct. Weighing the circumstances in all its aspects, however, particularly in relation to the treatment accorded to the principal culprit, I am of opinion that the Company might have dealt with the case of Kamala Singh very reasonably with greater leniency, and the punishment of dismissal which was actually inflicted amounted to unnecessary harshness. Applying the principles which I have enunciated above I do not see any sufficient reason for directing reinstatement of Kamala Singh. I find, however, that he served the Company for over 7 years and he was suddenly dismissed after this long service for what is considered to be a misconduct. In fairness to Kamala Singh he should have been shown some consideration by way of an adequate notice, and in my opinion he should be given his wages and allowances for one month in addition to what might be due to him up to the date of his discharge. I, therefore, direct that Kamala Singh be paid compensation to the extent of his wages and allowances for a period of one month in addition to what was due to him up to the date of his discharge, and I make my Award accordingly with regard to this part of Issue No. 1.

3. (3) I next proceed to consider the case of Ananda Maharana and 19 others as presented by the Iron Factory Workers' Union represented by Sri Sibnath Banerjee and lawyers. The relevant witnesses in connection with this part of the case are P.W. 5 Ananda Maharana, P.W. 6 Bhikhu Saw, P.W. 7 Madhu Sohain, P.W. 8 Ganga Baral (since dead), P.W. 13 Nihman Tripathy, P.W. 14 Gupi Nath Ratha, P.W. 15 Bata Kumar, P.W. 17 Ram Paria, these eight persons being included in the list of workers concerned in the matter of reference, and P.W. 16 Pandah Sohain, former worker under the Tatanagar Foundry Co. Ltd., and O.P.W. 10 Ganesh Biswas, Manager, Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., O.P.W. 11 J. K. Bandhu Dutta, Manager of contractor Lingaraj O.P.W. 12 Raghunath Sarma, a worker, and O.P.W. 13 Bindha Singh, a worker. The workers concerned in this part of the case were employed under the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd. or by the contractor Lingaraj, as already stated. The present workers and many others used to work in the moulding shop of Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd. under the employment of the contractor Lingaraj and the contract labour system was discontinued some time in the middle of March 1948, and the Company took over direct management of the shop. The Company's case is that the shop deteriorated under the system of direct management and most of the workers were anxious to go back to the contract system, and the contractor eventually withdrew his resignation and he was allowed to come back, and the direct management system was terminated about the middle of April 1948 and the workers were asked to continue to work under the contractor Lingaraj, but the present workers with whom this Tribunal is concerned declined to work under the contractor and before the Company had no alternative but to terminate their service. Out of the 20 workers concerned only 8, viz., P.W.'s 5, 6, 7, 8, 13, 14, and 17 appeared before the Tribunal and expressed their desire to be reinstated and put forward their claim to be paid compensation for the period of unemployment, and also stated that they were still unemployed. Out of the 8 persons Ganga Baral has since died, and in consequence of this unfortunate event it is not necessary for me to consider his case. So I am left with 7 workers who have actually appeared before me and stated their case. As regards the remaining 12 persons it has been represented before the Tribunal by Bhutnath and Dulal Bagh that since the Company absorbed in its service by the Company, it was given to the Union to contact them and produce them before the Tribunal in order to enable them to state that they were not employed elsewhere and that they were still willing to ated in their former service or that they had claim to put forward. None of the 10 persons available, and the Union apparently did not in contacting them to ascertain their

Under these circumstances I am of opinion there is no case before me with regard to persons other than the 8 who have actually appeared before me and stated their case and put forward their claim. As I have already said, Baral has since died and I am called upon to consider the case of 7 persons, namely, Ananda Kuma, Gupi Nath Ratha, Bhikhari Saw, a Sohain, Ram Paria, Nilman Tripathi and Krishna. There does not appear to be any case about the facts that the Company took the particular section under its direct management after terminating the term of the contractor Lingaraj about the middle of March 1948 and that the contractor Lingaraj was re-introduced about the middle of April 1948, and that the workers continued to work in the particular section under the contractor. With regard to workers with whom I am concerned the Company's case is that they discharged themselves as far as they declined to continue service with the contractor on the latter being reintroduced, and the Company had the right to adopt a new system of work it liked so long as there was no Award having force of law with reference to the subject. The position, however, substantially changed at the end of the proceedings when the Award of Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., published by Government of West Bengal No. 2263 Lab., dated the 6th July 1948, was brought to my notice by the Union. The question once arose whether the Company was competent to bring about the change of conditions of service during the pendency of the proceedings before Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., in view of the provisions of the first part of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The Company's additional statement has taken its stand on the position that the contractor submitted his resignation, dated 28th January 1948 and his resignation was not formally accepted, and that the system of direct management for about 2 months from about the middle of March 1948 was no more than an experimental or tentative system, and under those circumstances there was really no change of conditions of service from the middle of April 1948 when the contractor Lingaraj was reintroduced. Looking into the various statements made by the Company and other inconsistent statement made towards the end of the proceedings, I must say that there is no substance in the proposition that there was a change in the conditions of service of the workers when the contractor Lingaraj was re-introduced about the middle of April 1948. The question has been raised as to whether this change was to the prejudice of the workers concerned. Regarding this matter we are not concerned with the majority of the workmen, but we are to consider the case of the workers who are mentioned in the order of reference and in consideration of the difference between the amount of Pujah bonus paid by the Company and that paid by the contractor, and other points of difference bearing on questions of leave, security of service, and other factors, if not the scales of wages, I must come to the conclusion that so far as the present workers are concerned they were definitely affected by the introduction of the contract labour system and such reintroduction amounted to an alteration of the conditions of service to the prejudice of such workers within the meaning of the first part of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. In so far as the proceedings before Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., commenced on the 10th March 1948 and terminated on the 6th July 1948. The action taken by the Company about the middle of April 1948 was, therefore, illegal. The workers could not refuse to work under the contractor Lingaraj on the latter being reintroduced, and the Company refused to continue to employ these persons in the same manner as it was doing during the preceding two months. Let us look at the definition of "lock-out" in section 2(J) of the Industrial Disputes Act. "Lock-out" means the closing of a place of employment, or the suspension of work, or the refusal by an employer to continue to employ any number of persons employed by him. In accordance with this definition, the refusal by the Company to continue to employ the persons concerned who were under the Company's employment so long amounted to a "lock-out". Section 23 of the Industrial Disputes Act lays down that no employer shall declare a "lock-out" during the pendency of proceedings before a Tribunal and two months after the conclusion of such proceedings. The 7 workers with whom I am concerned were subjected to a "lock-out" about the middle of April 1948 during the pendency of the proceedings before Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S. A reading of the provisions of section 23, section 24, section 26 and the first part of section 33 makes it abundantly clear that the intention of the Legislature in enacting the Industrial Disputes Act was that the status quo must be maintained during the pendency of adjudication proceedings before a Tribunal. Irrespective of the question as to whether the aspects of prejudicial alteration of the conditions of service or of the illegal lock-out were brought to the notice of the Tribunal presided over by Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., I come to the definite conclusion that the alteration of conditions of service which the Company brought about some time in the middle of April 1948, amounted to an illegal action within the meaning of the first part of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, and the lock-out to which the present workers before me were subjected amounted to an illegal lock-out, and the Company cannot be permitted under these circumstances to take advantage of the illegal procedure which it adopted knowingly or unknowingly. As regards the aspect of alleged unfair labour practice which has been argued on the side of the Union, to the effect that by introducing the contract labour system about the middle of April and by refusing to continue to employ the workers concerned the Company interfered with, restrained or coerced its workmen in the exercise of their rights to organise, form, join or assist a trade union and to engage in concerted activities for the purpose of mutual aid or protection, within the meaning of section 28K of the amended Trade Unions Act, I find myself unable to agree with the view expressed. The action taken by the Company had really nothing to do with the organisation of a trade union and cannot be said to have amounted to any interference with the right of the workers to engage in concerted activities for the purpose of mutual aid or protection. Apart from any penal action which may be taken by the proper authorities, the question before me is what remedies can be applied to undo, as far as possible, the effect of the illegal action taken by the Company.

3. (4) The illegal action of the Company in so far as it altered the conditions of service from the direct management system to the contract labour system to the prejudice of the workers concerned simultaneously brought about the illegal "lock-out", during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings before Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S. It was faintly argued on behalf of the Company that the workers before me were not concerned in the dispute which constituted the subject matter of the adjudication proceedings before Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., in so far as that dispute was between the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd., and its workmen as represented by the Belur Iron and Steel Workers' Union, whereas the present workers before me are represented in the present proceeding by the Iron Factory Workers' Union. I do not think this argument is well-founded. I may point out at once that the written statement before this Tribunal submitted by the Belur Iron and Steel Workers' Union included the case of Ananda Maharana and 19 others in the same way as the Iron Factory Workers' Union's statement dealt with their case. In the proceedings before Sri S. K. Sen, it was an accident that the workers happened to be represented only by the Belur Iron and Steel Workers' Union, but in representing the workmen employed by the Company that particular Union was representing all the workmen irrespective of the question of their membership. The same may be said in the present proceeding before me, and it should be remembered that when a Union represents before a Tribunal the case of the workers as a whole there is no question of affiliation or membership. The question before me is what remedy can be properly applied in the particular case with regard to the 7 workers who were subjected to an illegal lock-out about the middle of April 1948. In accordance with the principles enunciated by me in paragraph 3 above, this Tribunal may reinstate the workers or may award compensation, or may apply both remedies. Though the Tribunal may order reinstatement in a particular case there is no absolute right of reinstatement to which the workers are necessarily entitled under all circumstances. In this connection I may pertinently refer to the Award given by Sri H. V. Divatia in the trade dispute between the Empire of India Life Assurance Co., Ltd., Bombay, and its employees as published on page 187 of the Bombay Labour Gazette of October 1947. That particular dispute was dealt with under the provisions of the Defence of India Rules, but many of the principles enunciated in that Award may be usefully adopted in our present case. Let us examine the question of reinstatement with regard to the 7 workers with whom I am now concerned. As indicated in my decision with regard to Issue No. 2, with reference to the Award given by Sri S. K. Sen which will continue to be operative till the 5th July 1949, the contract labour system can be retained by the Company for the present, with some modifications regarding the arrangements. It is, therefore, not open to me to interfere with the contract labour system which was introduced about the middle of April 1948, and the continuance of the contractor Lingaraj is a principal fact which should be taken seriously into consideration. At least 3 of the 7th workers, namely, Gupi Nath Rathia, Ram Paria and Bata Krishna have stoutly asserted in course of their evidence before me that they are under no circumstances willing to work under the contractor. Apart from this aspect the question is whether an order of reinstatement of the present workers can be imposed on the contractor Lingaraj on account of some illegal action on the part of the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd. It was the Company, and not the contractor, who resorted to an illegal alteration of the conditions of service and to an illegal lock-out. It is clear, therefore, that no kind of remedy can be imposed on the contractor Lingaraj under the present circumstances. The next question is whether there can or should be an order of reinstatement to the direct service of the Company. Now these workers worked in the moulding shop of the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd. (P.W.'s 14 and 15 erroneously stated that they worked under the National Iron and Steel Co., Ltd.). That section is now wholly under the control of the contractor Lingaraj, and the Company does not take any direct responsibility for running its affairs. Reinstatement necessarily means restoration to the same jobs, and it does not mean absorption in any other jobs. In so far as the Company has no part of the moulding section under its direct management at present it will be impracticable for the Company to carry out an order of reinstatement of these 7 workers in their original jobs in the moulding shop without doing away with the contract labour system itself. It is not practicable for the Company to re-employ these 7 workers under its direct management in the moulding shop and continue to have the rest of the workers under the control of the contractor in the same section. I am, therefore, of opinion that it is not practicable under present circumstances to carry out an order of reinstatement, and that being the position I hold that there should be no order of reinstatement in this particular case. The question of compensation may, however, be seriously considered. Under somewhat similar circumstances Sir H. V. Divatia as an Adjudicator in the case of Empire of India Life Assurance Co. Company referred to above, allowed compensation to the extent of the emoluments during the period from the date of discharge up to the expiry of two months after the conclusion of the adjudication proceedings. It also appears that in a recent Award in an industrial dispute between Spence, Ltd., and Spence, Ltd., Workers' Union in connection with the cases of 3 discharged employees as published by Government of West Bengal order No. 382Lab., dated the 28th January 1948, on page 199 of the Calcutta Gazette, issued on 24 February 1949, my learned colleague Sri M. C. Banerjee has largely adopted some of the principles enunciated by Sir H. V. Divatia in his Award in the case of the Empire of India Life Assurance Co. I also propose to adopt some of these principles. As the lock-out imposed by the Tatanagar Foundry Company was illegal, the workers concerned should be deemed to have continued to be under the employment of the Company during the period from the date of discharge up to the expiry of two months after the conclusion of the adjudication proceedings. The adjudication proceedings before Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., came to a conclusion on the date of publication, the 6th July 1948. The relevant period with regard to the subject of compensation will, therefore, be the period from the date of discharge some time in the middle of April 1948 up to the 5th September 1948. I am of opinion that payment of compensation to the extent of the wages and allowances payable to the 7 workers on the footing that they continued to be in service up to the 5th September 1948 will be adequate under the circumstances of the present case. It is not improbable that at the present moment some of these workers are doing odd jobs when they can find them as one of the workers stated before me in course of his evidence. It appears from the Award of Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., that with effect from 6th July 1948, the standards of wages and allowances underwent certain modifications in favour of the workers. As the seven workers before me are to be deemed to have continued in the service of the Company till the 5th September 1948 it is only fair that with effect from 6th July 1948, they should be paid wages and allowances in accordance with Sri S. K. Sen's Award. With regard to the seven workers, Ananda Maharana, Gupi Nath Rathia, Bhikari Saw, Madhu Soham, Ram Paria, Nilmani Tripathi and Bata Krishna, I direct that while there will be no order of reinstatement, each of them shall be paid their wages and allowances and other dues up to the date of discharge, and also their wages, allowances and other dues on the previous scale up to the 5th July 1948 and also the wages and allowances and other dues to which they would be entitled under Sri S. K. Sen's Award for a period of two months from the 6th July 1948. I make my Award accordingly with regard to this set of workers under the Tatanagar Foundry Co., Ltd. under Issue No. 1.

AWARD.

Government of West Bengal order No. 3841Lab., dated the 25th October 1948, constituted a Tribunal for adjudication of the dispute under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The facts of the case are that the employer Sen & Co. is an engineering concern employing 100 hands and that the Labour Union, formed on the 12th August 1948, made a request to the proprietors of the Company to accept the terms of the Engineering Award for the time when the Union was endeavouring to negotiate with the Company in the matter of the implementation of the terms of the award.

The Union also prays for the Puja Bonus of 1948. There is a further prayer for payment of wages in place of monthly wages.

The Union also prays for the Puja Bonus of 1948. There is a further prayer for payment of wages in place of monthly wages.

The employer Messrs. Sen & Co. appeared and submitted statement alleging that the workers demanded any Puja Bonus. It is also stated that the Company on 15th September 1948, gave notice to the workers that due to want of iron and steel, the Company would be compelled to close up the workshop on and from 1st October 1948. Further, the Company came to the workers on 29th September, the workers held a meeting and resolved to go on strike on the 30th September at 10 a.m. and to damage the property of the Company if their demands were not met. On 30th September 1948, without giving any notice to the Company, the workers suddenly stopped work at about 10 a.m. and went on strike and damaged some machines.

ISSUES

- (1) Was lock-out justified as alleged, if not, are the employees entitled to compensation, if so, how much?
- (2) Can employees get Puja Bonus?
- (3) Can weekly payment be substituted in place of monthly payment?

Issue No. 1.—Lock-out.

The Company has examined one Ashutosh Sen, the Manager, who proves that a notice was given on the 15th September informing the workers that due to scarcity of iron, coal, etc., the Company would be compelled to close the firm for an indefinite period. This notice (Exhibit A) is proved to have been hung up on a prominent place of the factory. The Company also proves from some papers that the quota of coal was much reduced. As against this ex parte evidence of the Company, there is no denial on oath nor there is any witness examined on behalf of the Union to deny the service of such notice. It is also proved that the workers struck work on 30th September and damaged some machines of the Company. The evidence on this point is also ex parte and not at all challenged by any statement on oath by any of the workers. In my opinion, the Company has well proved that there were sufficient strong and reasonable grounds for locking out the factory from 1st October. The Company, however, had to resort to such step for on the 30th September 1948 the workers attended the factory and damaged some machines. This was a pre-meditated action on the part of the workers inasmuch as Mr. Sen, the Manager, proves that there had been a meeting of the workers on the afternoon of the 29th September and in it the workers resolved to go on strike and to damage the properties of the Company. Some of the machines were damaged on the 30th September and the police had been informed. All these evidences adduced by the employer are not at all challenged by the Union by any counter-statement on oath. So the case of the employer Company is established and proved without challenge.

It is thus clear that there were two reasonable grounds for closing up the factory—one was the scarcity of materials for which notice had already been given and the other was the sabotage tactics adopted by the workers which hastened the Company to close up the firm. In this case, notice of 15 days justifying lock-out was given and in the next place even assuming that no notice was served the damage done to the property of the Company by the workers was a sufficient justification for closing up the factory. In any view of the matter, the lock-out was justified. Whatever that may be, the Company has fully paid the full wages of September 1948, and also 10 days of October, so now there cannot be any grievance on the part of the workers on this score. I also find that some 50 workers have executed a bond in favour of the Company agreeing not to commit any breach of peace. That shows that the allegation made by the Manager regarding sabotage tactics of the workers has some substantial basis.

The workers in the above circumstances are not entitled to any further wages or compensation.

Issue No. 2.—Puja Bonus.

The Company has produced a chart showing a profit of Rs. 2,200 and odd in the year 1354 B.S. The year 1353 B.S. was a year of heavy loss. It is not proved before me if there was any Bonus paid previously. Whatever that may be, considering the negligible profit in the year 1354 B.S. I think it will be gross injustice to saddle the Company to pay suitable Puja Bonus to the workers for that year. The claim is rejected.

Issue No. 3.—Can weekly payment be substituted in place of monthly payment?

The Company has agreed to make weekly payment of wages in place of monthly system. The Company should introduce weekly payment with effect from the month of March 1949, and should make payment on Monday and if that be a holiday on the next day.

The Award will come into force on such date as the Government may be pleased to notify.

Summary of the recommendations.

- Claim for compensation for lock-out period—Rejected.
 Claim for Puja Bonus—Rejected.
 Claim for substitution of weekly payment of wages in place of monthly payment—Allowed.

Agreement.

MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT made this 1st day of March one thousand nine hundred and forty-nine between THE BENGAL ELECTRIC LAMP WORKS LTD. Company (registered under the Indian Companies Act, 1913) and having its registered office at 10C, Rash Behari Avenue, in Calcutta (hereinafter called the Company) of the one part and the GOVERNOR OF THE PROVINCE OF WEST BENGAL (hereinafter called the Governor) of the other part.

(iii) Should the said Government decide to sell the buildings only, upon such sale, the Governor after deducting the expenses of taking possession and selling, pay the balance of the proceeds of sale to the Company, together with the sum received from the Company in respect of the compensation for the land, (less the statutory allowance of 15 per cent., and less any amount received from the Company on account of

LABOUR DEPARTMENT

ORDER.

No. 1065Lab.—9th March 1949.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department, Order No. 135-Lab., dated the 17th January 1948, the industrial disputes that had arisen or were apprehended between the employers of mercantile firms and their associate firms specified in column 1 in the two lists Nos. 1 and 2 annexed to the said Order, and their clerical and all subordinate staff in their offices as represented by some trade unions mentioned against firms in column 2 of the lists aforementioned, and others represented by such other registered trade unions as might have been permitted by the Tribunal hereafter mentioned to be represented individually for legitimate reasons, were referred for adjudication to a Tribunal constituted by Sri Ashutosh Das Gupta, Additional District Judge, as Chairman and Sri Sailesh Chandra Chakrabarty and Sri Sudhir Chandra Datta Gupta, Additional District Judges, as members;

And whereas the services of Sri Sudhir Chandra Datta Gupta, one of the members aforesaid, having no longer been available, the said Chairman and Sri Sailesh Chandra Chakrabarty, another member aforesaid, have given the award in respect of the industrial dispute between Messrs. H. J. Foster & Co., Ltd., 4, Lyons Range, Calcutta, being item No. 54 of list No. 1 aforementioned and their employees represented by H. J. Foster & Co., Ltd. (Calcutta Branch) Employees' Union, Calcutta, as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 read with sub-section (3) of section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Tribunal shall bind the firm aforesaid and their employees as specified therein and shall remain in operation for a period of one year with effect from the 17th February 1949.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between H. J. Foster & Co., Ltd., 4, Lyons Range, Calcutta, and their employees represented by H. J. Foster & Co., Ltd. (Calcutta Branch) Employees' Union, Calcutta.

PRESENT.

SRI ASHUTOSH DAS GUPTA, Chairman,

AND

SRI SAILESH CHANDRA CHAKRABARTY,
Member.

Pursuant to the provisions of sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, Government of West Bengal by Order No. 135Lab., dated the 17th January 1948, constituted a tribunal with Sri Ashutosh Das Gupta as Chairman, and Sri Sailesh Chandra Chakrabarty and Sri Sudhir Chandra Datta Gupta as members to adjudicate upon the disputes between 267 mercantile firms of Calcutta and their employees.

The firms had been divided in two lists in the Government Order. Some of the firms compounded their differences with the employees while the employees did not come to us in a number of cases. These cases have already been disposed of by awards made from time to time.

Sri Sudhir Chandra Datta Gupta, one of the members, had been absent and as his services were not available, the matter was heard by the Chairman and the other member. Leaving aside a few stray cases the employees came to be represented in three groups:—Mercantile Employees' Federation, Bank Employees' Federation and the Federation of the Insurance Company Employees.

At a certain stage a question arose about competency of the Tribunal to deal with the cases of individual firms separately. We decided that this was a collection of references of separate dispute and we could deal with different firms separately. To this view we still adhere.

We now take up the case of H. J. Foster & Co., Ltd., 4, Lyons Range, Calcutta, and their employees represented by H. J. Foster & Co., Ltd. (Calcutta Branch) Employees' Union, Calcutta.

For the Company: Mr. P. P. Ginwalla, Counsel, instructed by Messrs. Orr, Dignam & Co., Solicitors.

AWARD.

Salary and dearness allowance.

The present scales of pay and dearness allowance will appear in Annexure I. The firm designated dearness allowance as dearer living allowance. The difference in nomenclature does not trouble us. Recently we made an award in the case of Messrs. Bengal Chamber of Commerce to which all the firms including Messrs. H. J. Foster & Co., Ltd., are affiliated. It had been our desire to treat the award already made as a standard. It will appear from Annexure I that salary ranges higher in this Company compared to what we have allowed in Bengal Chamber of Commerce's scale but dearness allowance is lower. We shall, however, look to the total emoluments. A higher salary range benefits the employees in many ways. We have compared the total emoluments on many points with the total emoluments on corresponding points in the award of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce's case. And we are of opinion that in some cases, the Bengal Chamber of Commerce's award is better and on some points the scheme in this firm is better. On the whole the two schemes bring in an average equal result.

The Company had under contemplation improved pay scale which they put in effect giving enhanced increments in July 1948. The improved scheme is given in Annexure II and Company have no objection to its immediate enforcement. We consider the scheme to be very fair in advance of what we have done for the employees of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. We accept it and award accordingly.

Now the question is about its implementation. As the lowest pay of the clerks had been raised Rs. 10 we award a flat increment of Rs. 10. The Company however gave something in advance. In July 1948 they had to give increments according to the rates stated in Annexure I but they gave larger increments as a prelude to bring the scheme under Annexure II in operation. We award that the clerks shall get a flat increment of Rs. 10 the amount of increment made in July 1948 which is in excess of the amount of increment stated in Annexure I. After the increment is given if the salary of any individual does not fit in with any stage of the time-scale he will be placed at the next higher stage in the time-scale. The present scale of dearer living allowance is approved.

Promotion to higher grades should usually be made from lower grades if suitable persons are found. So far as the subordinate staff is concerned no further improvement is called for.

Next point is about leave. Existing terms are fair and are accepted. The Company wants 48 hours' notice for casual leave. This is being opposed by the Union. When leave is granted to any employee then the employer has got to make arrangement for work during his absence. Therefore some time is necessary. We direct that

ORDER.

Therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 read with section (3) of section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is hereby making the following order and to direct reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Sri S. C. Chakrabarty, Additional District Judge, shall bind the management and their workmen aforesaid as specified and shall remain in force for a period of six months with effect from the date of its publication.

ANNEXURE.

Matter of industrial dispute between Messrs. C. Lazarus & Co., Ltd., 21, Convent Road, Entally, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by C. Lazarus & Co. Workers' Union, 27/1, Beliaghata Main Road, Calcutta.

By Order No. 3950Lab., dated the 2nd March 1948, Government of West Bengal, Sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, constituted a Tribunal with me to settle the dispute between Messrs. C. Lazarus & Co., Ltd., 21, Convent Road, Entally, Calcutta, and their workmen, represented by C. Lazarus & Co. Workers' Union, 27/1, Beliaghata Main Road, Calcutta.

Company—Sri S. P. Ghosh, Advocate.

Union—Sri Dwijendra Lal Sen Gupta, Advocate.

The Company is a well reputed firm of cabinet-makers. The items of dispute will appear from the following headings:—

Points for Adjudication.

Recognition of the Union.

Security of service.

Working hours.

Basic wages and grades.

Dearness allowance.

Free tiffin.

House rent or housing accommodation.

Medical aid.

Leave and holidays.

Bonus.

Old age provision and retiring benefits.

Arrears of wages of six workmen, namely,—Anmatha Ghosh, (2) Michael Dolai, (3) Ka Show, (4) Ubed Rahman, (5) Nibaran Das and (6) Suren Maity.

AWARD.Point No. 1.—Recognition of the Union.

This is not an industrial dispute within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act, as defined in section 2(k) of the Act. A statute has already been passed and it will be the function of the Courts constituted under that Act to deal with this question.

Point No. 2.—Security of service.

(a) The demand of the Union is that continuous service for 3 months shall entitle an employee to permanency of service. The Company contend that they are also Interior Decorators and have at times to take large contracts which necessitate employment of a large number of casual labourers for a pretty long time. It has thus been contended that if a rule be framed that a person, after service for 3 months, shall acquire permanency, this will be a great hardship on the industry. There is considerable force in this argument. On the other hand, the Company may have to take absolutely raw men who will be trained to do useful work. For them a period of probation for three months is insufficient. In the circumstances, I decide that after working in the factory for six months as a worker, a man, if found suitable, shall be treated as a permanent employee. If he is found not up to the standard, he shall be discharged. This rule, however, shall not apply to any batch of temporary workers appointed for execution of particular contracts, nor will this rule be applicable to apprentices who can only be confirmed after they acquire sufficient standard of efficiency.

(b) The demand of the Union is that no one should be appointed without any appointment letter from the Company. I decide that this should be done.

(c) The demand of the Union is that no one shall be punished, suspended or discharged without offering him a chance to know the charges against him and proper facilities to defend himself personally or through the Union. I decide that no one should be punished, suspended or discharged without giving him an opportunity to explain the charge against him and giving him opportunity to defend himself either by himself or through any other workman.

(d) The demand of the Union is that the contract system and daily system should be abolished and monthly rate of wages should be introduced for all. There is really no piece-rate system in this factory. There are contract systems of work and it is outside the jurisdiction of this Tribunal to abolish such systems. The demand for monthly system for all categories of workers is refused.

(e) The demand of the Union is that double payment should be given for overtime work. The provision in the Factories Act and the rules framed thereunder shall prevail.

Point No. 3.—Working hours.

By agreement it is decided that working hours shall be from 8-30 a.m. except for the months November, December, January and February when working hours shall be from 8 a.m. as is now prevalent. The period of work shall be as allowed by the Factories Act.

Points Nos. 4 and 5.—Basic wages and grades and dearness allowance.

In this factory no separate dearness allowance is paid and, according to the Company's version, unusual increments have been given in wages to cover the high cost of living. The system of granting dearness allowance is new. It has been introduced to compensate the high cost of living without touching the basic pay. The Company, which had no provident fund or gratuity system, cared little to keep the distinction between wages and dearness allowance clear. The distinction has got to be maintained now. If it be found that increments have been given in the recent years and if these are more than usual, the legitimate inference is that increments have been given to compensate for the high cost of living. In that event it will be the duty of this Tribunal to divide the present wages into basic wages and dearness allowance. The principle of division must, to some extent, be arbitrary, but it must be done with as much sense as possible. The following table will show the increase in wages:—

Names of the workmen.	Wages in January 1949.	Wages in January 1949.
	Rs. a.	Rs. a.
Narayan (polisher)	0 12	2 4
Adhar	0 12	2 4
Bhagawat	0 14	2 4
Indra	1 0	2 6
Suendra	0 12	2 10
Musunali (machine mistry)	1 4	3 8
Michael Kalpida (machine mistry)	1 10	3 12
Sadhu	0 12	3 0
Antoney Gomesh	1 6	3 12
Nathuni (billiard fitter)	1 0	3 0

The table given above will clearly show that increments were obviously granted for increase in the cost of living. Now the question is about apportionment. I decide that 15 annas in the case of daily rated workers and Rs. 25 in case of monthly rated workers be treated as dearness allowance and the rest as basic pay and wages.

Now the task is to fix the minimum wages for the different categories of workers.

I fix 15 annas as the daily minimum wages for an unskilled worker. In addition he will get 15 annas as dearness allowance. Looking to the present rate of wages and the market for sale of goods, I think this should be fair. The question of further increment will arise with the progress of the market and the improvement of the industry which has now passed on to new hands. The position of the market is still unsteady. No time scale is fixed.

Now about the various categories of workers. At present Rs. 2-4 is the usual emoluments of a polisher though one or two men earn less. If 15 annas be deducted as dearness allowance, the wages come to Re. 1-5. I think Re. 1-6 is the fair minimum for a polisher. The wages of all polishers be increased by 1 anna per day and the minimum fixed at Re. 1-6.

The wages of machine mistries be increased by 1 anna a day; so also the wages of billiard fitters. The minimum daily wages for an unskilled worker is fixed at 15 annas and of other categories at Re. 1-6. The minimum pay of the other categories who are monthly rated shall not go below Rs. 25 except for part-time workers whose wages shall be determined by contract. The monthly rated workers shall get an increment of pay at the rate of Re. 1-8 and the machine mistries shall also get an increment of 1 anna a day.

Point No. 6.—Free tiffin.

The claim of the Union is that the Company should give free tiffin. The demand is disallowed.

Point No. 7.—House rent or housing accommodation.

The Union demands for housing accommodation. The factory is located in the town of Calcutta and houses on hire are available. The demand is refused.

Point No. 8.—Medical aid.

The Company need only arrange for first aid. There is arrangement for this. The demands are refused.

Point No. 9.—Leave and Holidays.

The demands are:—

- Privilege leave—one month's leave at full pay and dearness allowance, accumulation allowed up to three months.
- Casual leave—ten days with full pay and dearness allowance.
- Sick leave—one month in a year with full pay and dearness allowance subject to condition that during the whole period of service this will accumulate on medical grounds—three months with full pay and dearness allowance, next three months with half pay and dearness allowance, next six months without pay.

On these points I decide as follows:—

- Ten days' continuous holidays under the Factories Act, which is equivalent to eight or nine paid holidays according to there is one Sunday or two within the period of ten days;
- Eight festival days;
- Five or six days' other leave with pay which may be taken in continuation of the ten days under the Factories Act separately at the option of the workman. This other leave for five or six days will accumulate for two years, as provided for in the ten days' leave under the Factories Act.

I also provide for fifteen days' sick leave at half pay in a year of service. This leave will accumulate, i.e., if in one year the employee does not take sick leave, in the next year he may take sick leave with half pay up to thirty days and so on, but this leave will be discontinued as soon as the Employees' State Insurance Act comes into operation.

Point No. 10.—Bonus.

I am not satisfied that the Company is making good profit. The market is dull and the management is in new hands. In the circumstances, adjudication about bonus is made.

Point No. 11.—Old age provision and retirement benefits.

The demands are:—

- Gratuity*.—Gratuity should be paid on retirement, forced or voluntary, on the basis of one month's salary for each year of service.
- Provident Fund*.—Provident Fund should be introduced with 10 per cent. contribution from each side.

The two cannot be allowed. The Company being small, it is difficult to work a Provident Fund scheme. I therefore frame a gratuity scheme with the following conditions:—

- On the death of an employee while in service of the Company.—One month's salary for each completed year of service subject to the maximum of fifty months' salary to his heirs, executors or nominees.
- On voluntary retirement or resignation of an employee after fifteen years' continuous service in the Company.—Fifty months' salary.

termination of his service by the Company.—(a) After completion of service of five years but less than ten years.—Half a month's salary for every completed year of service.

After ten years' continuous service in the Company but less than fifteen years.—Three-fourths of one month's salary for every completed year of service.

After fifteen years' continuous service in the Company.—Fifteen months' salary.

Gratuity will not be paid to an employee who is dismissed for dishonesty or misconduct.

Before direct that gratuity should be paid employees covered by this adjudication on said scale.

10. 12.—Arrears of wages of six workmen.

Union demands for reinstatement and the for the period of non-work coupled with for continuance of service of the six n—Manmatha Ghosh, Michael Dolai, a Show, Ubed Rahman, Nibaran Adhikari ren Maity. They were dismissed by the y on 13th January 1948 and soon after the on of the Union. Some of them were im-office bearers of the Union. After they scharged the matter was referred to the Commissioner. It appears that at the tion of the Labour Commissioner a com- was effected and pursuant to that the made an application to the Manager for eappointment with an assurance that they n future keep discipline in the factory. It usly clear that there was some indiscipline ch the labourers were discharged. Five of rkmn signed this petition and Manmatha only did not sign it. On behalf of the it has been contended that since Manmatha sign it he can get the reliefs claimed the others may be precluded by their own ion in the petition. Manmatha Ghosh is 71 dd. The Company contends that he is n sufferance and is no employee. Be that ay, it appears that after his discharge tha remained at home and did not move for his reappointment or reinstatement. also was working in the factory and after nt that he would get reappointment he ud joined. He himself confessed that he t sign the petition along with others on t of his absence and he would have signed e had been present. In the circumstances, of see any justification for treating his case ely. The claim under this head is refused.

Owing to circumstances created by the War, and later on by the Partition, there had been some slackness in the past both in the submission of the statements and in their audit. To enable audit to follow the prescribed time table during the coming year, it is requested that the statements for 1949-50 may kindly be sent on or before the 15th May, without fail.

Heads of Offices, who have not furnished the returns for 1948-49 as yet, are also requested to furnish the overdue statements without any further delay.

Subject:—Revised procedure for payment of house rent allowance under the Government of West Bengal, Finance Department, Order No. 1925-F/F/2A/86/48, dated the 21st October 1948, or under the Calcutta House Allowance Scheme, 1926, with effect from the 1st March 1949.

No. GAI/2349.—11th March 1949.—Attention of all gazetted officers under the Government of West Bengal is invited to the Finance (Audit) Department Order No. 290-F/F2A/100/48, dated the 10th February 1949, in which it has been decided that, in future, when an officer becomes eligible for drawing house rent allowance under the Government Order or the Scheme, referred to above, he should be required to submit to this office through the Head of the Department or through the Administrative Department where the drawing office is himself the Head of the Department, an application showing therein detailed calculation of the house rent allowance intended to be drawn to enable this office to issue authority for drawing the allowance. This authority should invariably accompany the officer's first claim for house rent allowance. In respect of officers who are already in receipt of house rent allowance the above procedure should apply mutatis mutandis in respect of claims accruing from the 1st March 1949.

2. It is, therefore, notified for information of all concerned that with effect from the 1st March 1949, no further payment of house rent allowance admissible under the rules quoted above will be made to any gazetted officer except on production of a specific authority from this office. All gazetted officers concerned are accordingly requested to submit to this office through proper channel, an application showing therein detailed calculation of the house rent allowance intended to be drawn. Necessary authority for the drawal of the allowance from the 1st March 1949 will be issued in each individual case by this office after scrutiny of these details. The claim for house rent allowance in each case should also be supported invariably by a certificate prescribed in G. O. This check will be necessary even in case of Government servants whose pay does not exceed Rs. 250 per month and in whose case the claims for house-rent allowance are conditioned by payment of some rent, irrespective of the quantum of the rent paid.

2. In the case of persons living in their own houses any authoritative document showing the assessed rental value of the accommodation occupied by the Government servant will form the basis for the half-yearly check.

3. It is requested that the half-yearly check of rent-receipts or the document referred to in paragraph 2 above as contemplated in the Government Order, in respect of all employees of the Central Government under audit of this office for whom house-rent allowance is drawn, should be conducted, and an additional certificate to the effect that "The claims for house-rent allowance included in the pay-bill for

The verification of rent-receipts in respect of claims for house-rent allowance included in the pay-bill for January 1949 may now please be completed at an early date and the certificate to that effect furnished to this office to enable it to admit the claims for house-rent allowance finally in audit.

4. In the case of Gazetted Officers, the house-rent allowance for January and July each year should be countersigned by Heads of Departments who are the authority empowered to verify the scale of accommodation, in token of having verified the claims with reference to rent-receipts and a certificate in the following form furnished on the bills:—

LABOUR DEPARTMENTORDER.

1066Lab.—9th March 1949.—Whereas under Government of West Bengal, Commerce, and Industries Department, Order No. 135Lab., dated the 17th January 1948, the disputes that had arisen or were apprehended between the employers of mercantile firms and associate firms specified in column 1 in lists Nos. 1 and 2 annexed to the said Order and their clerical and all subordinate staff in offices as represented by some trade unions and against firms in column 2 of the lists mentioned, and others represented by such registered trade unions as might have been presented by the Tribunal hereafter mentioned to be presented individually for legitimate reasons, referred for adjudication to a Tribunal constituted by Sri Ashutosh Das Gupta, Additional District Judge, as Chairman and Sri Sailesh Chandra Chakrabarty and Sri Sudhir Chandra Gupta, Additional District Judges, as Members;

whereas the services of Sri Sudhir Chandra Gupta, one of the members aforesaid, having never been available, the said Chairman and Sailesh Chandra Chakrabarty, another member had given the award in respect of the disputes between (1) the Netherlands Trading Society, Pollock House, Calcutta, (2) Volkart Brothers, Clive Buildings, 8, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta, and (3) the Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society, Ltd., 8, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta, being items 177, (2) 180 and (3) 224 respectively of the said Order and their employees, of the former two being represented by the Federation of Mercantile Employees' Unions of Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta, and those of the latter by the Overseas Insurers' Employees' Association, 10, Nilmoni Dutta Lane, Calcutta, as in the annexure hereto;

therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is directed to direct that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

ANNEXURE.

Matter of industrial disputes between 267 mercantile firms of Calcutta and their employees, referred for adjudication, by Government Order No. 135Lab., dated the 17th January 1948.

PRESENT :

ASHUTOSH DAS GUPTA, Chairman,
SAILESH CHANDRA CHAKRABARTY,
Member.

AWARD.

Pursuant to the provisions of sections 7 and 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, Government of West Bengal constituted a Tribunal with Ashutosh Das Gupta as Chairman and Sri Sailesh Chandra Chakrabarty and Sri Sudhir Chandra Gupta as members to adjudicate disputes between 267 mercantile firms of Calcutta and their employees.

The firms have been divided in two lists in the said Order and we have maintained the number given in the list for the sake of convenience. In column 1 of the list the names of the firms have been stated, and in column 2 the names of the Unions representing the employees have been stated.

3. We have already decided that we can treat the 267 cases separately and we stick to our decision. It is now proposed to take up the cases of the following three firms:—

- (1) Netherlands Trading Society, Pollock House, Calcutta—No. 177 of list No. 1 appended to the order of reference.
- (2) Volkart Brothers, Clive Buildings, Calcutta—No. 180 of list No. 1.
- (3) Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society Ltd., 8, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta—No. 224 of list No. 1.

Messrs. Orr Dignam & Co., Solicitors, represent the employers of Messrs. Netherlands Trading Society and Messrs. Volkart Brothers and the employees of these two firms are being represented by the Federation of Mercantile Employees' Union on the authority of their representative Unions—Netherlands Trading Society Employees' Union and Volkart Brothers Employees' Union. The employers of Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society, Ltd., are being represented by Messrs. Fowler & Co., Solicitors, and the employees by the Overseas Insurers Employees' Association.

Both the employers and the employees of the first two mentioned firms—Netherlands Trading Society and Volkart Brothers—have filed joint petitions before this Tribunal stating that the disputes between the employers and the employees of these two firms have been settled amicably.

The Overseas Insurers' Employees' Association informed this Tribunal verbally on 16th February 1949 that the disputes between the employers and the employees of the Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society, Ltd., had been amicably settled. This was confirmed by Mr. Kennedy of Messrs. Fowler & Co., Solicitors. Thus there is at present no dispute between the employers and the employees of the aforesaid three firms. Our award in respect of these three firms accordingly is that there is no dispute between the employers and the employees of these three firms on this day.

The services of Sri Sudhir Kumar Dutta Gupta are no longer available. He could not take part in the proceedings leading to the award in the present case. The award, accordingly, is given by us two—Sri Ashutosh Das Gupta and Sri Sailesh Chandra Chakrabarty—under rule 8(1) of the rules framed under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947.

A. DAS GUPTA, Chairman.

S. C. CHAKRABARTY, Member.

The 23rd February 1949.

By order of the Governor,

D. S. P. MUKHERJEE, Jt. Secy.

ORDER.

No. 1090Lab.—10th March 1949.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 4304Lab., dated the 27th November 1948, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Maxim Machine Manufacturing and Foundry Works, 19/A, Chowringhee, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Maxim Co. Mazdoor Union, post office Sukchar, district 24-Parganas, was referred for adjudication to Sri P. R. Mukherjee, Additional District Judge;

And whereas the said Sri P. R. Mukherjee, Additional District Judge, has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to direct that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Maxim Machine Manufacturing and Foundry Works, 19/A, Chowringhee, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Maxim Co. Mazdoor Union, post office Sukchar, district 24-Parganas.

PRESENT:

SRI P. R. MUKHERJEE, Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: None.

For the Union: Sri Byomkesh Mukherjee.

Award.

By Government Order No. 4304Lab., dated the 27th November 1948, the above dispute was referred to me for adjudication.

The case of the Mazdoor Union is that the rate of wages paid to the workers is miserably low and that there is no system of paying any dearness allowance to the workers in this hard days when the cost of living had increased by more than 400 per cent.; there is no provident fund and that there is no hard and fast rule regarding working hours, leave, payment of wages, etc.

The employer Company did not appear at the time of hearing but submitted a short statement alleging that the question for settlement with regard to labour does not arise at present at all for the entire property is attached under the enforcement instruction with regard to the income-tax payment of Rs. 49,37,971 and odd and that a receiver has been appointed in Central Bank of India and that the Company is not allowed to operate any account or to receive any amount. It is further urged that in view of the fact that the payment and operation of the bank account has been stopped, it is not possible to make any payment even for arrears due. It is further urged that the only item now to be settled is to lock the factory and that at present there is no possibility to make any payment and that the wages of workmen are in arrears.

On the plea of the Company, the Central Bank of India was added as a party but it was contended by the Bank that they were not running the factory but were simply mortgagee of the machine and other properties of the Company and that there was no relationship of an employer and employee between them. On such contention, the Central Bank of India was struck off as an unnecessary party.

The question, is if an effective award can be made under the circumstances. In view of the plea already set up by the Company that they are at present not running the factory—a fact which is not denied by the Union and in view of the fact that no account is being allowed to be operated by them, I think no Tribunal can pass any effective award which can be enforced against this Company. To pass an ex parte award and to grant the reliefs claimed by the workers in the charter of demands either wholly or in part would be a mockery. In any view of the matter, the award will not be worth the paper on which it is written. I very much regret that most of the workers have not yet been paid their wages since November but the hands of Tribunal are tied—it cannot enforce the award by proceeding against the person and property of the Manager or by selling the goods of the Company like a Civil Court.

Under the circumstances, it is not possible to make any effective award and as such the case is disposed of with the above observations.

No award is possible to be made under the above circumstances.

When necessary the Presidency Surgeons shall call at the residence of the gazetted officers.

2. If a gazetted officer is in need of a medical certificate, he may obtain the same from the Presidency Surgeon under whose treatment he has placed himself, for which the Presidency Surgeon consulted shall not be entitled to charge any fee.

3. Gazetted officers in Calcutta, who are entitled to free treatment by Presidency Surgeons, shall be allowed,—

- (a) bacteriological examination at the Medical College Hospital on the recommendation of the Presidency Surgeon, free of charge,
- (b) cardiographic examination at Government institutions on the recommendation of the Presidency Surgeon, at a fee of Rs. 3 per case,
- (c) X-ray examination at Government institutions providing facilities for such examination at a fee of Rs. 5 for each examination,
- (d) advice from the consultants of the Medical College and the School of Tropical Medicine, Calcutta, free of charge, if the consultation takes place at the institution in which the consultant works, provided that—
 - (i) if the gazetted officer is physically unable to visit the institution, the Presidency Surgeon attending him may request the consultant to have a consultation at the place where the gazetted officer is, in which case no fee shall be paid.
 - (ii) the consultant may fix the consultation at a place convenient to the gazetted officer and himself other than the institution at which he is working, in which case as well no fee shall be paid.

Explanation.—The expression "consultants" includes the specialist in Radiology and diseases of the Ear, Nose and Throat in the Medical College.

4. The concessions provided in rule 3 regarding specialised treatment shall not apply to dental requirements.

Government and if any charge is borne by a Government servant in connection with the said treatment, he shall be reimbursed by the Provincial Government to the extent of the amount so borne. This concession is admissible to a Government servant whether on duty or on leave, when he is attacked and injured in the above said circumstances. In the case of a Government servant on leave it may, in actual practice, be difficult for a Government servant to prove that he was attacked and injured because he was a Government servant; in such cases it should be assumed, unless the facts of the case give a clear indication to the contrary, that the Government servant on leave was attacked and injured on account of his official position.

Note.—A certificate from a registered medical practitioner may be accepted if there is no Government physician available in the locality.

6. Medical Officers attached to any of the institutions noted below in case of illness, shall be entitled to free treatment in cabins of the institutions:—

The attendance of the Civil Surgeon should be given in all cases of emergency or of great danger or difficulty, when applied for by the subordinate Medical Attendant.

3. All clerks of all Government offices located outside Calcutta are entitled to medicines free of cost for themselves from Government Hospitals or Sadar Hospitals maintained by local bodies.

4. The concessions provided in rule 3 in Part I shall apply in the cases of gazetted officers outside Calcutta, provided such specialised treatment is recommended by the Civil Surgeon of the station.

5. Rules 4 and 5 of the rules in Part I shall apply mutatis mutandis in the cases of the officers outside Calcutta.

6. Policemen and police officers of the subordinate ranks shall be entitled to get free medical treatment and advice in Police Hospitals. In exceptional cases when the Civil Surgeon certifies that treatment of any such policemen and police officers is necessary and unavoidable in a hospital other than the Police Hospital, the policemen and the police officers concerned shall be treated in such a hospital nearest to his station. The cost of such medical attendance by private doctors and of those medicines supplied by the doctors that are usually stocked in Government or aided hospitals shall be borne by the Provincial Government.

8. Non-gazetted and ministerial officers who are not entitled to any concession in Calcutta, are entitled to the concessions provided in rules 1 to 5, in this Part, when they are on tour or exodus outside Calcutta.

AWARD.

Industrial dispute between Messrs. Jessop & Co., Ltd., and their workmen represented by Jessop's Labour Union, 36, Station Road, Dum Dum Cantonment, 24-Parganas, on the question of the minimum basic pay plus dearness allowance of workmen should be Rs. 57-15-4 as between the said Company and the said Labour Union on the 27th April 1948, or a lesser amount in terms of the award enforced under Government order No. 2161Lab., dated the 30th Dec 1948, has been referred to me by the Government of West Bengal by order No. 4849Lab., dated the 30th December 1948.

The material facts are not in dispute and may be briefly recapitulated here. Early in May 1947 dearness allowance payable to the workmen of the Company was linked to the Jagatdal living index, and the Company by its order dated the 3rd May 1947, cancelled with effect from the day-shift commencing at 8 a.m. May 1947 all previous dearness allowance concessions and recombined in one consolidated cash dearness allowance of 24 pies per hour which was subject to an increase or decrease of 25 points per hour for each 25 points by which the Jagatdal cost of living index might vary in a month. After a few months it was found that the Jagatdal cost of living index which was published by the Labour Commissioner's office had not been received some two or three months after the date for which the index applied. This in consequence caused dissatisfaction among workmen. Then followed a long series of discussions and interchange of letters between the Company and the Union. Eventually at the suggestion of the Union and under the acceptance of the Company, a meeting was held at the Writers' Buildings under the Chairmanship of the Hon'ble Sri Kalipada Mukherjee, the Labour Minister, under whose intervention a settlement was arrived at and it was to the effect that "the Labour Commissioner would furnish to the Company the Jagatdal cost of living index as soon as it was calculated and that appropriate rate of cash dearness allowance according to the scales given in the Company's notice, dated 3rd May 1947, would apply to the wages payable for the week during which the increased figure was received, and would continue to apply until the next figure was received." The Company implemented this agreement and arranged with the Labour Commissioner to have the index figure regularly supplied. Within less than a month, the Union by its letter, dated 7th April 1948, asked for a revision of dearness allowance. A conciliation proceeding was accordingly started by the Labour Commissioner and a meeting was held on 16th April 1948. In the meantime a Tribunal, which has come to be popularly known as the "Engineering Tribunal" had been appointed by the Government of West Bengal by its order No. 718Lab., dated the 31st October 1947, and the Company and the Union were parties before that Tribunal (the Company being 51 in the list No. 1 of the firms mentioned in the order of Reference). The Company submitted before the Labour Commissioner that the matter must wait until the award of the Tribunal had been published, but the Union was not willing to wait inasmuch as it was not known when the award would be published. Eventually in the course of the conciliation proceedings a settlement was arrived at on 27th April 1948 and both the Company as well as the Union signed the document which contained the terms of agreement as follows:—

"In a meeting between Messrs. Irving & Sitwell of Messrs. Jessop & Co. and the representatives of the Jessop's Labour Union held in the office of the Labour Commissioner on 27th April 1948 it was decided that the payment of dearness allowance to all daily-paid members on the sliding scale as at present in force should be discontinued from the week ending 25th April 1948.

It was agreed that henceforth dearness allowance to all daily-paid members should be at the rate of 29½ pies per hour which comes to Rs. 31-15-4 pies for a month of 208 hours. These rates will continue to be in force till the award of the Engineering Tribunal is published, upon which the rates paid by the Tribunal will be adopted."

The Engineering Tribunal gave its award on 4th June 1948 and the award was published in the Calcutta Gazette on 3rd July 1948. By Government of West Bengal order No. 2161, dated the 30th June 1948, the award was given retrospective effect from 1st April 1948, and would remain operative up to 31st March 1949. Issue No. 2 before that Tribunal was "Dearness allowance for such workers", and the dearness allowance awarded by the Tribunal for the Pay Range up to Rs. 50 per month was Rs. 25 per month.

After revision of the wage-structure in pursuance of the award, the Company offered to pay a minimum basic wage of 28 pies per hour which comes to Rs. 30-5-4 for the standard month and a dearness allowance of 29½ pies per hour which comes up to Rs. 25-7-4 per standard month (as 7-4 higher than the rate fixed by the Tribunal), the total remuneration coming up to Rs. 55-12-8 per standard month.

The Union's contention is that in the month of April 1948 the minimum basic wage was Rs. 26 per month, but the daily allowance had been raised by agreement on 27th April 1948 to Rs. 31-15-4 per month; that the Engineering Tribunal made it clear that its award would not affect adversely any existing higher total remuneration and therefore the workmen are entitled to get Rs. 57-15-4 (i.e., Rs. 26 per month as basic wage plus Rs. 31-15-4 per month as dearness allowance = Rs. 57-15-4). The difference is only Rs. 2 and odd, but the Company submitted that it contends on a matter of principle.

The following Issues were framed:—

- (1) Is the Company entitled to reduce dearness allowance from 27½ pies per hour to 23½ pies per hour in pursuance of the agreement, dated 27th April 1948?
- (2) Is such reduction of dearness allowance legal or permissible in view of the Engineering Tribunal's Award?
- (3) Are the workmen entitled to get dearness allowance at the rate of 25½ pies per hour with effect from October 1948?

I take all the Issues together for the sake of convenience.

Sri Sanyal appearing on behalf of the Union argued that the Engineering Tribunal's award does not adversely affect the workmen if the existing minimum basic pay plus dearness allowance is higher than the minimum basic pay plus dearness allowance fixed by the award.

The award itself is very clear on the point. I quote the following passage from it (appearing at page 33):—

"Application of the Award.—Where the existing minimum basic pay plus dearness allowance in a particular firm is higher than the minimum basic pay plus dearness allowance fixed by this award, the total remuneration of the present employees will not be adversely affected by this award. Where the existing total remuneration is more but the minimum basic pay is less than that fixed by this award, the basic pay should be increased to the minimum fixed, and the dearness allowance reduced by the same amount, keeping the total remuneration unaltered. This is necessary for the purpose of calculating the contribution to the Provident Fund and calculating gratuity.

We desire that the rules for holidays and leave should be standardised by all the firms as soon as possible, in order to eliminate one of the important causes of labour trouble. If, however, any firm has already announced leave and holidays for the current year at a scale more liberal than what the award provides, the right to such leave and holidays should not be affected by this award. Further leave at credit of any person under the existing leave rules of a firm will not lapse in spite of any provision as to leave contained in this award.

This award will not affect adversely any other kind of existing advantage which the employees of a firm may be enjoying in excess of the benefits given by this award, unless an express provision has been made in this award concerning such advantage.

The Unions have claimed that this award should be given retrospective effect from the 31st October 1947, the date of the Government order appointing this Tribunal. We consider however retrospective effect to that extent would place undue burden on the employers. We therefore recommend that the award of this Tribunal should be made operative from 1st April 1948."

Sri Sen appearing for the Company argued that the terms "existing" appearing in the phrase "existing minimum basic pay plus dearness allowance" should be taken to mean as existing on 1st April 1948, the date when the award came into operation retrospectively. If this interpretation is given to the word "existing" then the workmen cannot claim the benefit of 29½ per hour dearness allowance, because this higher rate of dearness allowance came into existence by the agreement dated 27th April 1948.

Looking closely into the award of the Engineering Tribunal, I do not think that the interpretation of the word "existing" as suggested by Sri Sen is either reasonable or just. The award makes it clear that it is not intended to adversely affect the case of the present workmen, that it should not adversely affect the higher total remuneration already being received by workmen of any firm. It also states that "this award will not affect adversely any other kind of existing advantage which the employees of a firm may be enjoying in excess of the benefits given by this award". That being so, it would hold that it would be altogether wrong in principle to use the award itself as a weapon against the workmen to curtail the higher total remuneration which they were already enjoying. In my view, the natural and plain meaning of the word "existing" is not antecedently and retrospectively on a past date, but existing actually on the date the award was signed. This interpretation is clear and naturally follows if the reason why the Tribunal recommended the award to have retrospective effect, is studied carefully. "Unions have claimed" says the award, "that award should be given retrospective effect from 31st October 1947, the date of the Government order appointing this Tribunal. We consider however that retrospective effect to that extent would place an undue burden on the employers. We therefore recommend that the award of this Tribunal should be made operative from 1st April 1948." The recommendation for a retrospective effect was made solely at the instance of workmen and not of the employers. The reason why recommendation was made with effect from 1st April 1948 and not an earlier date was that a burden on employers might not be unduly increased. By making the recommendation for a retrospective effect from 1st April 1948, the Tribunal granted in effect additional advantages to the workmen. Its intention was by no means to curtail in any manner whatsoever any advantages already being actually enjoyed by the workmen. This is how I read the award, and in my view the award itself is the best guarantee that the workmen are entitled to a daily allowance of 29½ pies per hour which amounts to Rs. 31-15-4 per month.

I do not think that even if the argument advanced by Sri Sen is accepted, it will affect the workmen's case. Both parties to a dispute can by a voluntary mutual agreement opt out of any specific term of an award, provided such a term does not affect a third party including the public. There is nothing in the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, which prohibits such a course. Remuneration is a term which concerns the employer and the employee and not one else. Therefore, even if Sri Sen's argument is accepted, there is no bar for the parties to enter into a voluntary agreement as to the rate of dearness allowance subsequent to the date when the award came retrospectively into operation. In my view also the agreement, dated 27th April 1948, stands. Section 29 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, does not in my opinion apply, inasmuch as a voluntary agreement between the employer and employee increasing the rate of dearness allowance cannot be regarded by any stretch of imagination as a "breach of an award". That section lies to unilateral conduct, as when an employer tries to carry out any express term or condition described in the award, to the detriment and injury of the employee, or vice versa.

Coming now to the agreement itself, it is to be noted that the agreement was a written one and agreed by both parties. It is clear and unambiguous in its terms and hence the prayer of the company to examine a Labour Officer to interpret terms of the agreement was rejected by me.

The agreement says "that henceforth dearness allowance to all daily-paid workers should be at the rate of Rs. 31-15-4 for a month of 208 hours. These rates will continue to be in force till the order of the Engineering Tribunal is published in which the rates fixed by the Tribunal will be applied".

It is common knowledge that Tribunals almost invariably give a direction that their awards are not to affect adversely any higher remunerations, basic pay and dearness allowance, or any other advantages already being enjoyed by the present workmen. It may well be presumed that at the time when the agreement, dated 27th April 1948, was being written both parties shared the common understanding above referred to. Yet, there is no use in the agreement to indicate that a direction which was likely to appear in the award to the effect that existing higher rates were not to be adversely affected, was to be abrogated or set at naught. In these circumstances, I hold that the total remuneration of Rs. 57-15-4 actually received by the workmen on the date of signing of the award should be regarded as the existing total remuneration contemplated in the award under the heading "application of the award," and that it shall remain unaffected, as laid down by the award itself. According to the award "where the existing total remuneration is more but the minimum basic pay less than that fixed by this award, the basic pay should be increased to the minimum fixed and dearness allowance reduced by the same amount, leaving the total remuneration unaltered".

In this principle, the basic pay shall be Rs. 30 (minimum fixed by the award) and the dearness allowance Rs. 27-15-4 per month, i.e., 25½ pies per hour (one month being equal to 208 working hours).

The workmen refused to draw their dearness allowance from 8th October 1948. I hold that they are entitled to get dearness allowance at the rate of 25½ pies per hour or Rs. 27-15-4 per month of 208 working hours with effect from 8th October 1948. The Issues are answered accordingly. I have discussed the Issues from the legal aspect of the case and I have held that in law the agreement between the parties must be given effect to. Considerations of equity and fairness also lead to the same conclusion. The Engineering Tribunal has made it clear that its award is not to affect adversely any existing higher total remuneration. In my decision I have given effect to the same view. Sri Sen for the Company has argued that production has fallen on account of the "Go slow" tactics followed by the workmen and so they are not equitably entitled to claim any increased dearness allowance. I notice from the "Statement of output" that the output tons per man per month has steadily fallen from 79 to 40 in the period from May 1948 to January 1949. This fall which is nearly half of the original output is really deplorable. The workmen's representatives explained this by stating that due to constant friction between the management and the workers, the latter had no peace of mind left and they could not wholeheartedly attend to production. I am thankful to the workmen for this candid admission. There is no reason to lose hope. Now that the demand of the workmen is met to their advantage, I hope they will do their best to increase production. They should not take it merely as a pious wish. The question of renewing the terms of the award will soon arise, as the period of the award is to expire on 31st March 1949. If clear indications are not forthcoming that in the meantime output per man per month has considerably improved, the claim of the workmen to continue to receive the higher total remuneration is very likely to be disregarded.

RESOLUTION No. L.S.-G.1M-6/49A.

Calcutta, the 24th March 1949.

The extremely unsatisfactory financial condition of the English Bazar Municipality, in the district of Malda, due to low taxation and heavy arrears and the consequent deterioration in its civic services and general administration have been attracting the attention of Government from the year 1944. Government have since been carefully watching the financial position and the collection of the municipality, but no satisfactory improvement has been noticed. In August 1946, at the recommendation of local officers, the municipality was given six months' time to improve matters. In November 1947 a warning was issued that if the collection of rates and the general condition of the municipal affairs did not improve within three months, Government would seriously consider the question of supersession. When on the passing of the West Bengal Act XI of 1947, the appointed Commissioners vacated their seats, the new Chairman, elected on the votes of the elected members, wanted two months' time to show appreciable improvement. This was allowed but when the District Magistrate, Malda, inspected the municipality on the 22nd April 1948 there were no signs of improvement. Again further time was given to the municipality to put its house in order. From the report of the District Magistrate which was submitted to Government on the 8th November 1948 it appears that in spite of repeated warnings and opportunities given by Government, the new Board failed to bring about any improvement in the collection and general condition of the municipality. The current collection varied from 30 to 40 per cent. during the last 7 years while the arrear collection during the same period varied from 42 to 50 per cent. During the first quarter of 1948 arrear collection was 21 per cent, while current collection was 1.8 per cent. The arrear which in 1936-37 was Rs. 26,149 has mounted up o Rs. 68,939 at the end of 1947-48. Government have reason to believe that this poor collection is not due to economic reasons but to the apathy and unwillingness of the municipal Commissioners.

Government are satisfied that the Chairman is unable or unwilling to control the Sanitary Inspector who in his turn has no control over the sweepers. As a result road refuses have accumulated, sanitation, drainage and trenching works have deteriorated and the District Magistrate has often had to interfere to keep the conservancy services going. The condition of roads is generally very unsatisfactory. The water works have reached a breaking point because pipes have become choked up on account of long neglect.

While civic services have fast deteriorated, the municipal Commissioners have by chronic apathy, incompetent handling of affairs, and factious quabbling over trifles brought the administration to a point where a complete breakdown can only be averted if the Commissioners are relieved of their responsibility.

After careful consideration Government have come to the conclusion that the Commissioners of the English Bazar Municipality have shown their incompetency to perform and have persistently made default in the performance of the duties imposed on them by or under the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932. In exercise of the power conferred by section 553 of the said Act, the Governor is, therefore, pleased to declare the Commissioners to be incompetent and in default and to supersede the said Commissioners for a period of one year with effect from the 1st April 1949.

ORDERED that this resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

ORDER.

No. 1393Lab.—22nd March 1949.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department, order No. 3945Lab., dated the 2nd November 1948, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Fraser & Co., 4, Fairlie Place, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by the Bengal National Chamber of Labour, 51, Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta, was referred for adjudication to Sri S. C. Chakravarti, Additional District Judge;

And whereas the said Sri S. C. Chakravarti, Additional District Judge, has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to direct that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of the industrial dispute between Messrs. Fraser & Co. of 4, Fairlie Place, Calcutta, and their workmen as represented by the Bengal National Chamber of Labour, 51, Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta.

PRESENT: SRI SAILES CHANDRA CHAKRAVARTI, Chairman, Tribunal.

By an order No. 3945Lab., dated the 2nd November 1948, Government of West Bengal, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, constituted a tribunal with me to adjudicate on the dispute between Messrs. Fraser & Co. of 4, Fairlie Place, Calcutta, and their workmen as represented by the Bengal National Chamber of Labour, 51, Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta.

For the Company—Dr. H. G. Waight, Counsel, instructed by Messrs. Orr, Dignam & Co., Solicitors, Calcutta.

For the Workmen—Jonah Saffatullah Khan, Secretary, Bengal National Chamber of Labour.

AWARD.

Messrs. Fraser & Co. own 68 inland river transport boats and, as such, have to maintain crew. They are the employees. The dispute has been filed on behalf of the persons engaged in the boats and they may be divided into two groups: Manjhees and the Dandeess. Under the rules of the Port of Calcutta, there must be one Manjhee for each boat and the licence is issued in the name of the Manjhee. According to the carrying capacity of each boat, the port authorities fix the number of Dandeess. So far as the Manjhees are concerned, they are direct employees of the Company. The Company, however, maintain that the Dandeess are employees of the Manjhees and not their direct employees though they work in boats engaged by them.

As the employers in the dispute are Messrs. Fraser & Co., it has got to be considered whether the Dandeess are direct employees of the Company. Messrs. Fraser & Co. are members of the Calcutta River Transport Association and have got to respect their whips. The Association fixed the rate of wages for Manjhees and Dandeess. This Company pay to the Manjhee his wages and a lump amount calculated on that basis for Dandeess. Dandeess are not paid directly nor are amounts disbursed against any particular Dandee. The names of Dandeess do not appear in any of the books of the Company. These facts indicate that they are like gangmen or contractor's labour and are not direct employees of the Company.

It has got to be considered whether the conclusion following from the above is displaced by other factors.

It has been argued that the Company has got pay compensation for injuries to Dandeess. "employer" has been very widely defined in section 2 of the Workmen's Compensation Act and cover such persons with whom a contract of service was not effected. This is not a circumstance displacing the conclusion.

Another fact is that the Dandeess are allowed to draw ration from the employers' Ration Shop. This is a centre for convenient distribution of ration was to the interest of Messrs. Fraser & Co. If the Dandeess took ration from this shop, then 5 Dandeess in a boat had taken out ration from different shops, all would not have obtained ration on a particular day and this would be meant also absence from the boat. This involved dislocation of work. In this context any admission in the application for ration card does not mean existence of a direct contract for service.

Another point is that Dandeess falling sick, sent to the Mayo Hospital on the letters of Messrs. Fraser & Co. Times have changed frequent change of Dandeess when one falls sick not possible. Fraser & Co. must have been interested to see that the Dandeess were well cared after. These facts do not displace the conclusion that the Dandeess are not direct employees of the firm. I hold that the Dandeess are not direct employees of the Company and they cannot seek an adjudication against it.

Now comes the question of Manjhees. The Company alleged that the cases of Manjhees should not be adjudicated as they do not want it. Jon Saffatullah Khan protested. Out of 68 Manjhees 64 were examined by me separately and camera. Every one of them said that he did not want any adjudication. Assuming that the absent persons want adjudication, I shall not be prepared to disturb a system which is supported by an over-whelming majority. So far as Manjhees are concerned, there is nothing for adjudication.

I award that there is nothing to adjudicate.

I have one word of caution to the Company. They allow things to drift in this way and do not protect the Dandeess, this matter may reach out of their control.

S. C. CHAKRAVARTI, Chairman, Tribunal.

BY SRI S. N. MODAK, I.C.S. (RETD.), Chairman, Industrial Tribunal, Government of West Bengal, Calcutta.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between the management of Rampooria Cotton Mills, Ltd., Serampore, and their workmen represented by Rampooria Cotton Mills Workers' Union, in connection with the question of Puja Bonus.

the Company—Sri H. N. Sanyal, Counsel, assisted by Messrs. Dutt and Sen, Solicitors.

the Union—Sri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate.

AWARD.

By Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4253Lab., dated the 25th September 1948, this industrial dispute between the management of the Rampooria Cotton Mills, Ltd., Serampore, Hooghly district, and their workmen represented by Rampooria Cotton Mills Workers' Union in connection with the question of payment of Puja Bonus has been referred to me as a Tribunal under the Industrial Disputes Act for adjudication. The dispute is regarding the question of payment of what is being called Puja Bonus for the year 1948 to the workmen. A three-Judge Industrial Tribunal was constituted by the Government of West Bengal by order No. 627Lab., dated the 7th October 1947, for the adjudication of various disputes in the Cotton Textile Industry in West Bengal between the employers of 36 cotton mills and their workmen. The Award given by that Tribunal was published in the Calcutta Gazette by Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 2956Lab., dated the 21st August 1948.

By that order the Government has declared that the Award made by the said Tribunal shall bind the management of the mills concerned and their workmen as specified therein and shall remain in operation for a period of one year with effect from the 1st August 1948.

The Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal considered the question of bonus under point No. 5, in giving its Award on the subject laid down in the Award for the payment of bonus linking it with dividend declared. It appears that the Company has given effect to the Tribunal's direction regarding the payment of bonus on the basis of the Award prescribed. The workmen, however, contend that what was called Puja Bonus for the year 1948 was not payable under the Award.

Respective of what was payable under the Award in accordance with the prescribed formula. The Company was not agreeable to pay the bonus. In addition, the Company's contention is that all such varieties of recurring annual bonus come under the consideration of the Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal and the Tribunal aimed at settling the whole subject of payment of bonus on the basis of uniformity and directed discontinuance of other varieties of annual bonus and introduction of a particular kind of bonus which would be linked with the profits derived and would be linked with the dividend declared. In other words, the bonus raised by the Company is that the question of what is being styled Puja Bonus was definitely included in the Award of the Cotton Textile Tribunal, and the Workers' Union cannot now be permitted during the period of operation of the Award to reopen the question and press for the payment of Puja Bonus in addition to the bonus actually allowed in the Award. It is contended by the Workers' Union on the other hand that the question of Puja Bonus never came under the consideration of the Cotton Textile Tribunal as that was not a subject-matter of the dispute referred for adjudication, and the Tribunal only considered a sort of bonus depending on profits and left the question of festival bonuses like Puja Bonus alone. The Union contends that the present question of Puja Bonus did not form a subject-matter in dispute before the Cotton Textile Tribunal, and in so far as it stands outside the scope of the Award given by that Tribunal, the claim now put forward by the workers is completely justified. It appears that the claim for Puja Bonus as an additional bonus was pressed so hard on behalf of the workers that some workmen resorted to hunger strike for a few days. That strike was, however, happily terminated on the basis of an agreement by which both sides agreed to have the matter referred to a Tribunal for adjudication as to the correct interpretation of the Award given by the Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal. That is how this matter has been referred to me as a Tribunal for adjudication. In the light of the statements submitted by both parties and of the discussions relating thereto the following issue has been framed by this Tribunal:—

In view of the Award of the Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal, is the claim for Puja Bonus maintainable? If so, on what basis should Puja Bonus be paid?

2. The scope of the adjudication by the present Tribunal should be clearly understood by all concerned at the outset. The primary question before me is to find out, on a correct and reasonable interpretation of the language used in the Award of the Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal, whether the present claim for what is being styled Puja Bonus should be held to be covered by that Award. If the answer to this question is in the affirmative, the present Tribunal will not proceed any further. If on the other hand, the answer is in the negative, it will be for this Tribunal to consider the question of payment of Puja Bonus on its own merits. It should be clearly understood that so far as the present adjudication is concerned there can be no question of revising or reviewing the Award given by the Cotton Textile Tribunal and further it is not open to either party to ask for anything which will have the effect of reopening that Award. The only task imposed on me as a Tribunal in the first instance, is to interpret the Cotton Textile Tribunal's Award in a reasonable manner in the light of such intention of that Tribunal as can be gathered from the language used and the chain of reasoning pursued. It is certainly not for me to import my own ideas regarding bonus into the Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal's Award. I must take the Award as it is and proceed to analyse it for a correct interpretation consistently with the intention of that Tribunal.

3. In order to understand the underlying principles adopted by the Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal and the dominating intention by which that Tribunal was actuated in coming to its conclusion on the subject of bonus as per point No. 5, it will be useful to make copious references to certain important passages in the Award. I would like to quote the following passages in particular: "The underlying principle for the payment of bonus is that the employee has contributed by labour for the earning of profits made by the Company. A part of the profits so earned which is determined at the end of the year will go to the employees. * * * Festival Bonus, Independence Bonus, etc., may be described as ex gratia bonus but there is a marked difference between such bonuses and bonus in general on which labourers seem to have got some claim, however thin it may be. * * *

The only just and equitable principle upon which an employer may be called upon to grant a bonus to the employees is to consider the amount of profits made by the employer in any given year and the general financial condition of the concern and its capacity to bear this additional burden of granting bonus without impairing the efficiency or injuring the business in any vital matter. It is clear that bonus, as described above, is obviously dependent on the prosperity of the business concerned inasmuch as certain conditions of prosperity may make the payment of it possible, other conditions of depressions may make it impossible". I give further quotation from the latter part of the Tribunal's Award under point No. 5 as follows: "It is obvious that it is time to bring about some uniformity in regard to the distribution of bonus. It has been said that almost all the mills in the Province except the Basanti Cotton Mill paid some bonuses during the years prior to 1947. Some of the mills paid bonus equivalent to a month's wage and some for a longer period. We consider that the method adopted in Madras for distribution of bonus is fair and reasonable. In the Buckingham and Carnatic Mills the bonus paid is linked with profits distributed. If the dividend declared to the shareholders is $12\frac{1}{2}$ per cent., the bonus is $12\frac{1}{2} \div 100 \times 12$ or $1\frac{1}{2}$ months' wages. When 30 per cent. dividend was declared by the Madras Mills three months' bonus was paid. In the Award of the Industrial Tribunal on the conditions of labour in the Textile Industry in the Madras Presidency Rao Bahadur M. Venkataramaia, the Adjudicator, favoured distribution of bonus in the Textile Industry in that Province on the method adopted by the Buckingham and Carnatic Mills. His observation on the point is that "if the shareholders who have contributed towards capital get a certain percentage of dividend, the same percentage should be made available to the workers whose investment, viz., labour is evaluated at the wages paid to them in the year. We also consider that adoption of that principle for distribution of bonus in this Province would bring about some uniformity in the matter and be fair to both capital and labour and recommend accordingly. The bonus paid shall be linked with the dividend declared." The Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal in West Bengal then proceeds to give certain directions and to lay down a formula more or less in accord with the principles laid down in the Madras Award. It will be clear from the passages which I have quoted above among other passages which occur in the Award given by the Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal that—

(1) the Tribunal was aware of the existence of varied practices regarding the payment of bonus in different units of the Cotton Mill Industry,

(2) the Tribunal felt the necessity of bringing about some uniformity in regard to the distribution of bonus,

(3) the Tribunal recognised that the only just and equitable principle upon which an employer might be called upon to grant a bonus to the employees was to consider the amount of profits derived and the general financial condition of the concern and its capacity to bear the additional burden, and with that end in view and also for bringing about some uniformity in respect of the payment of bonus the Tribunal decided to follow to a great extent the Award of Rao Bahadur M. Venkataramaia as per paragraphs 86, 87, 88, etc., of the Award of the Industrial Tribunal on the conditions of labour in the Textile Industry in the Madras Presidency, and holding that a policy of linking bonus with the dividend declared would be fair to both capital and labour the Tribunal laid down a formula governing the distribution of bonus. It appears from the earlier part of the Tribunal's Award under point No. 5 that the demand of the workers regarding bonus was for four months' wages with a minimum limit of Rs. 150 to be paid out of the profits earned by the Companies during the years 1942-1945 to all workmen employed during the period, on the profit-sharing basis, and three months' wages to all who worked or would work for 3 months in a year of annual recurring bonus, for every year subsequent to 1945. At another place of the Award the Tribunal has observed that bonus was claimed under two heads, viz., profit-sharing bonus and annual bonus for the period 1942-1945 and also for the period posterior to 1942-1945. It is clear, therefore, that the Tribunal had under consideration not only a subject of profit-sharing bonus but also all kinds of annual recurring bonus, and after fully considering the subjects from different angles the Tribunal laid stress on two fundamental things, namely, (1) uniformity and (2) fairness to both capital and labour, and then came to its conclusion about the formula linking bonus with the dividend declared. In coming to its conclusion, as I have already indicated, with reference to the passages quoted from the Tribunal's Award, the Tribunal was fully conscious of the existence of varied practices regarding the bonus paid from year to year in different mills of the industry and the Tribunal obviously wanted to put a stop to these varied practices and to introduce a uniform system in the same manner as Rao Bahadur Venkataramaia of Madras did in his Award. I must come to the conclusion that if the present claim regarding Puja bonus in respect of an annual recurring bonus, irrespective of its nomenclature, it must be held to be covered by the Award of the Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal.

4. I may now proceed to examine the character of the bonus claimed in the present dispute as Puja bonus. I must say in this connection that the name by itself cannot be the sole guide, and in judging the character of the bonus we must pay attention to all the circumstances surrounding it. The Company appears to have paid a bonus to its workmen from year to year for the last few years starting from the year 1943. In 1943 bonus to the extent of 15 days' wages was decided upon or paid in the month of December which was not the Puja season. In 1944 and again in 1945 bonus to the extent of 15 days' wages was paid in the month of November which also does not appear to have been the Puja season. In 1946 bonus to the extent of one month's wages was paid in the month of October which was probably the Puja season. In 1947 bonus at a flat rate to the extent of Rs. 100 was paid to the workers as a temporary measure pending the publication of the Cotton Textile Tribunal's Award, and bonus to the extent of two months' wages was paid to the clerical staff. It is not clear from the materials placed before me as to whether the bonus for 1947 was paid in the Puja season. We may, however, assume that it was paid. It is clear that although there might have been some connection between the payment of extra emolument in the shape of bonus and the additional expenses which the majority of the employees would probably incur during the Puja season, the bonus actually paid from year to year during the last few years did not necessarily have any intrinsic connection with the festival known as Puja. The whole idea on the part of the workmen was to get extra emoluments at some convenient time during the year and the idea on the part of the Company was probably to mitigate the hardship of the workers due to the rise in the cost of living. In paragraph 11 of the Union's statement in connection with the present adjudication I find a reference to the Company's having made substantial profits during the years 1947-48, the implication being that the payment of bonus would something to do with the fact of profits accrued. There is nothing before me to show the proposition that what is being called Puja Bonus is essentially a mere festival bonus, and analysing all the facts and circumstances surrounding the payment of bonus by the present company from year to year during the last few years, I can come to no other conclusion than that bonus claimed is nothing more and nothing than an annual recurring bonus. It is quite different from the Award given by the Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal that that Tribunal had the notion of annual recurring bonus fully under its consideration, and the Tribunal evolved a definite formula with regard to the payment of such an annual recurring bonus with the idea of doing away with all varieties of annual recurring bonus which were in existence in many of the individual mills of the Cotton Textile Industry. In view of the fact that the Tribunal has actually recorded in its award that I am unable to interpret the language in the award which would permit the grant of an annual bonus for the year 1948 in accordance with the formula prescribed by the Tribunal and also the award of an annual bonus in the garb of a particular festival. This being the position I must come to the conclusion that the present claim for bonus called Puja Bonus is not maintainable in view of the Award of the Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal. That being the answer to the first question involved in the issue framed the second question as to the basis on which Puja Bonus should be paid does not arise. I decide the issue in favour of the Award accordingly.

In conclusion I would appeal to the workers of the Rampooria Cotton Mills, Ltd., to note the implications of the Award given by the Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal in the proper sense and to accept the Award as it is and not to circumvent it by raising issues which are applicable during the period of operation of the award. The Cotton Textile Tribunal's Award was to operate after the 31st July 1949. If any finds the terms of the Award inconsistent from its own point of view in the light of experience, and wishes to re-agitate the question of bonus including what is sometimes loosely called Puja Bonus or by any other name, the time for putting forward such claims is after the 31st July 1949 and not before the operation of the period of operation of the Cotton Textile Industry Tribunal's Award. I would appeal to all parties concerned to exercise patience and to accept the Award in the spirit during the declared period of operation, if there are any real grievances, to take steps as may be necessary when a procedure stating the matter will be legally permissible.

BEFORE SRI S. N. MODAK, I.C.S. (RETIRED), Chairman, Industrial Tribunal, Government of West Bengal, Calcutta.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between the Birla Jute Manufacturing Co., Ltd., and their workmen over the question of puja bonus for 1948.

For the Company: Sri S. Banerjee, Counsel, and Sri T. C. Suboo, Secretary to the Company.

AWARD.

1. By Government of West Bengal, Department of Labour, order No. 657Lab., dated the 16th February 1949, this industrial dispute between the Birla Jute Manufacturing Co., Ltd., Birlapore, 24-Parganas, and their workmen represented by the Birla Jute Mill Workers' Union, Birlapore, 24-Parganas, over the question of payment of puja bonus for 1948 has been referred to me as an Industrial Tribunal under the Industrial Disputes Act for adjudication. The case put forward on behalf of the workers is that the Company paid puja bonus in various forms in the puja season every year since 1937 and this payment of puja bonus has become a special attractive feature for the workers employed in the Birla Jute Mill, and it has become a term of employment. The Company's case, on the other hand, is that puja bonus of a small value was given purely as an ex gratia payment since the year 1937, that the payment of such bonus was never a term of employment and the workers have no legitimate claim regarding such payment and the Company actually gave bonus from year to year sometimes in the form of cash, and sometimes in the form of wearing apparel or even utensils, such as an employer would ordinarily give as a token of love to household servants in the puja season. It appears that during the pendency of the proceedings before the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal which was constituted on the 15th August 1947, a question of payment of puja bonus for the year 1947 was referred to a special Industrial Tribunal constituted by Sri S. K. Sen, I.C.S., and the latter Tribunal gave its Award on 2nd January 1948 directing that puja bonus to the extent of Rs. 4 for each workman for 1947 should be paid to the workmen as represented by the Birla Jute Mill Workers' Union giving a certain undertaking relating to avoidance of lightning strikes. Under the direction of the special Tribunal appointed for adjudication of the matter about puja bonus for 1947, the amount of puja bonus awarded was paid on the necessary undertaking having been given by the Workers' Union. The Jute Textile Industry Tribunal gave its Award on the 31st August 1948 and that Award was published in the Calcutta Gazette by an order, dated the 20th September 1948. The Jute Tribunal dealt with the question of bonus under Issue No. 7, but under the particular circumstances discussed in the Award the Tribunal left the issue open for future decision. On the statements submitted by the parties in connection with the present adjudication the following issues have been framed:—

- (1) Was payment of puja bonus for 1948 a term of employment as alleged in the Union's statement?
- (2) If so, are the workers entitled to puja bonus for 1948, and on what basis?
- (3) If not, should the workers be paid puja bonus for 1948 and on what basis?

Issue No. 1.

2. I now proceed to deal with the issues one by one and take up Issue No. 1 first, the question being whether the payment of puja bonus for 1948 was a term of employment as alleged in the Union's statement. The Secretary of the Union and the Secretary to the Company have been examined as witnesses on the two sides respectively. The Union Secretary, in his evidence, has said that he considers the payment of bonus to be a term of employment inasmuch as the workers got bonus from year to year and they expected to get it for 1948. The Secretary to the Company has definitely stated that the bonus was paid by the Company only when the Company felt like it, or, in other words, that the payment of bonus was entirely an ex gratia affair and it depended on the sweet will of the employers. It is not disputed that bonus in some form or other was paid since the year 1937. It is interesting to note that apart from cash amounts having been paid on some occasions, chaddars, khaddar pieces, dhotis, saris, banians and even brass thalis were given in some years. It does not appear that bonus to the extent of one month's wages, as now claimed by the workers in the present proceeding, was paid on any occasion. In the light of the facts and circumstances appearing from the materials placed at my disposal I am satisfied that the small bonus given in the puja season from year to year, in cash or in kind, was an ex gratia payment, and in spite of the expectation which the practice might have created in the minds of actual or prospective workers, it is difficult to say that the payment of bonus of this kind has actually developed into one of the terms of employment. The subject may be considered on its own merits in the light of the particular circumstances arising from year to year, but, as matters stand, I must answer Issue No. 1 in the negative. I make my award under Issue No. 1 accordingly.

Issue No. 2.

3. Inasmuch as Issue No. (1) has been answered in the negative, Issue No. (2), which depends on an affirmative answer in respect of Issue No. (1), does not arise.

Issue No. 3.

4. I pass on next to Issue No. (3) which arises from a negative answer in respect of Issue No. (1). Although the payment of puja bonus for 1948 cannot be held to be a term of employment, the question is whether the workers should be paid puja bonus for 1948 as a measure of justice and fairness, and, if so, on what basis such bonus should be paid. At this stage it may be useful to dissolve any idea in the mind of any one to the effect that simply because puja bonus has been given so long as an ex gratia payment, and it cannot be said to be one of the existing terms of employment, this subject cannot form the subject matter of an industrial dispute which can be adjudicated upon. However petty the bonus given may have been and whatever may have been nature or nomenclature, it is claimed that it been a recurring annual bonus, irrespective of ex gratia character. The whole subject of being an ex gratia payment has been elaborated dealt with in paragraphs 8(1) and 8(2) on p 34 to 37 of the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal Award, dated the 31st August 1948. It is well-settled that bonus, irrespective of its character or nomenclature when demanded by the employees and refused by the employers becomes a subject matter of an industrial dispute in so far as a dispute is connected with the terms of employment, though the subject matter does not constitute one of the existing terms of employment. The subject matter of the dispute need not be of the existing terms of employment at all, as will be sufficient if the controversy between parties relates to a subject which, according to either party, may or should be a term of employment. The connection between the dispute and terms of employment is established as soon as employees demand that the subject matter should be a term of employment and the employers resist by contending that it is not, or should not or cannot be a term of employment. There is no manner of doubt, therefore, that this subject puja bonus for 1948 can properly constitute subject matter of an industrial dispute which be legally referred for adjudication. As regards the Award of the Jute Textile Industry Tribunal on the subject of bonus, that Tribunal evidently left the matter completely open for future decision and consequently there is no bar to any subject bonus, being considered on its own merits by present Tribunal. The sole and whole question here is whether the petty bonus which has actually paid by the Company from year to year should be paid in respect of the year 1948, in interest of industrial peace. There is no manner of doubt that in view of what has actually happened from year to year a sort of expectation has been created in the minds of the workers to the effect that the petty bonus would be paid to them before. Expectation unfulfilled sometimes gives rise to bitterness or lack of good will, and, as I can judge, the non-fulfilment of the expectation in respect of the year 1948 has been caused a certain amount of bitterness. I must appreciate that the practice of giving the petty bonus owed its origin to the generosity of employers whose attitude was undoubtedly commendable. So far as one can see without going into details, the present Company's prosperous concern and one would be justified in thinking that the Company can very well continue the practice of giving the petty bonus as in previous years, for purchasing the good will and co-operation of the workers if not for anything else. I say that when the whole question of bonus in various forms comes to be considered in a comprehensive manner with regard to the Jute Textile Industry as a whole, this subject of puja bonus may have to be subjected to scrutiny and review by the Tribunal concerned in the light of all the surrounding facts and circumstances. But that event happens, the expectation in the minds of the workers continues to persist, and in my opinion, it would not be too much of a burden on this highly respectable and prosperous concern to pay the petty bonus as claimed by the workers. It may be that many other mills were not paid any bonus of this character and they will not be called upon to pay any bonus, either petty or otherwise, till perhaps the whole question of bonus comes to be considered in a comprehensive manner in the future. But there is no reason why the Birla Mill should not continue to hold its head high and the others and maintain its serene dignity, from that point of view that I have decided to appeal to the employers in this case to continue the practice as a measure of good will in the interest of industrial peace.

and the direction given by Sri S. K. Sen in his award, dated 2nd January 1948, with regard to the award of a puja bonus for 1947 will be very appropriate in the present case. Although there were no production of strikes during the year 1948, it has been brought to my notice that there was partial cessation of work on the 5th January and the 13th January 1948. It is probable that the Birla Jute Mill Workers' Union was not quite responsible for what happened on those occasions, and there is no objection for taking a serious view regarding the cessation of work. But the necessity of giving an assurance for good behaviour still remains and I have come to the conclusion that the condition which was imposed in the Award of Sri S. K. Sen is still necessary. I have, therefore, directed to reiterate the direction which was given by Sri S. K. Sen in his Award, dated 2nd January 1948 accordingly direct as follows. The workmen under the Birla Jute Manufacturing Co., who have not received any puja bonus for 1947 shall be paid a puja bonus to the extent of Rs. four only per head, on the workmen as entered by the Birla Jute Mill Workers' Union in a written undertaking not to launch any further strike. This undertaking, however, would not apply to the case of any one day hartal held for political or other cause under a mandate issued by the All-India National Trade Union Congress to which the Birla Jute Mill Workers' Union is affiliated.

ORDER.

1124Lab.—23rd March 1949.—Whereas the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 366Lab., dated the 27th day of March 1949, the industrial dispute between the Calcutta Bullion Association, 68, Cotton Street, Calcutta, and their employees represented by the Secretary, Burrabazar Jamadar Sangha, 90, Lower Chitpore Road, Calcutta, was referred for adjudication to Sri S. C. Chakrabarty, Additional District Judge; and whereas the said Sri S. C. Chakrabarty, Additional District Judge, has given the award as contained in the annexure hereto;

and, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Government is pleased to make the following order in direct with reference to section 17 of the Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Sri S. C. Chakrabarty, Additional District Judge, shall bind the Association and their workmen aforesaid as specified in the annexure.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of the industrial dispute between the Calcutta Bullion Association, 68, Cotton Street, Calcutta, and their employees, represented by the Secretary, Burrabazar Jamadar Sangha, 90, Lower Chitpore Road, Calcutta, in connection with the cases of Sri Nanbu Dubey, Sri Anoop Dobey, Sri Show Gobind and Sri Suruj.

The Government of West Bengal, acting under the provisions of sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, constituted a Tribunal with me to adjudicate on the dispute between the Calcutta Bullion Association, 68, Cotton Street, Calcutta, and their employees, as represented by the Secretary, Burrabazar Jamadar Sangha, 90, Lower Chitpore Road, Calcutta, in relation to the cases of Sri Nanbu Dubey, Sri Anoop Dobey, Sri Show Gobind and Sri Suruj.

The services of these men were terminated on the following dates:—

Sri Anoop Dobey—16th December 1947.

Sri Show Gobind—1st July 1948.

Sri Suruj—1st July 1948.

The grievance is that they have been discharged as being members of the Union. The Association says that they had a surplus on account of reduction in work and discharged these men as they were irregular in attendance.

AWARD.

All the menials are members of the Union. Nothing has been shown to prove that the four persons were more militant than others. The four persons fall under two categories: jamadars and ordinary servants. Anoop and Nanbu Dubey were jamadars and Show Gobind and Suruj were ordinary servants. I give below a list of the servants in employ at the time of the discharge of Show Gobind and Suruj with respective dates of appointment:

Show Gobind Ram—1st July 1945.

Suruj—1st November 1947.

Ganesh Ram—September 1944.

Soumnath—22nd June 1944.

Samaru—2nd March 1945.

The two persons discharged were juniormost men and when all were equal members of the Union, no question of victimisation or unfair labour practice arises. No order for re-instatement can be made in their favour.

Now about the two jamadars: Anoop and Nanbuku. The names of jamadars with respective dates of appointment are given below —

Anoop—4th November 1944.

Nanbuku—1st February 1945.

Sachidananda Pande—June 1945

Kesen Dobey—26th July 1945.

Shew Prasad—18th October 1945.

Anoop and Nanbu were senior to all though the latter was not much senior to others in employ. The employers' version is that they had a surplus and had to retrench some and selected those who were most irregular in attendance to duties.

I have examined the attendance register of all these persons and I am satisfied that these two were worst in the matter of absence. They remained away from Calcutta for one reason or other. All the persons were members of the Union. No malice against these two has been proved. In the circumstances, I cannot find that the termination of services involved any victimisation or unfair labour practice. No direction for re-instatement can be made. As they were discharged not for misconduct but for fall in business, I direct that they be given preference if the Association has to recruit new men in future.

The claims are disallowed and I award accordingly.

The Union pressed for other demands about wages, etc. The question is whether these matters come within the scope of the reference.

The text of the reference is: "Whereas an industrial dispute has arisen including that in connection with the cases of Sri Nanbu Dubey, Sri Anoop Dobey, Sri Show Gobind and Sri Suruj, between the Calcutta Bullion Association, 68, Cotton Street, Calcutta and their employees represented by the Secretary, Burrabazar Jamadar Sangha, 90, Lower Chitapore Road, Calcutta, and it is expedient that the said dispute should be referred to a Tribunal constituted under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the Governor is pleased under sections 7 and 10 of the said Act to appoint Sri S. C. Chakrabarty, Additional District Judge to be the Tribunal and to refer the dispute to the said Tribunal for adjudication." The use of the words "including that" give rise to the idea that the reference covers other disputes. This however does not define what the disputes are. To ascertain this, I am to refer to the report of the Labour Commissioner on which Government constituted the Tribunal. It appears from the report of the Labour Commissioner that the disputes related to the discharge of 13 men out of which 9 men were re-instated at his instance, leaving these four. There is no demand for re-instatement of the 9 men nor can it be. It is thus abundantly clear that when Government constituted this Tribunal, the reference was to adjudicate on the dispute centering round the four discharged men. In these circumstances, the other matters are outside the scope of the reference and cannot now be considered. I was requested to look into the file of the Labour Commissioner to see what were the items of dispute. I am afraid, in the present situation this will serve no useful purpose as I am concerned to know only what dispute was in the mind of the Government when the reference was made. For this purpose the report of the Labour Commissioner to Government is the only relevant document. So the other matters cannot be gone into now despite the martistic language of the reference.

LABOUR DEPARTMENT ORDER.

603Lab.—1st April 1949.—Whereas under Government of West Bengal, Commerce, and Industries Department, order No. 135Lab., dated the 17th January 1948, the industrial disputes that had arisen or were apprehended between the employers of mercantile firms and subordinate firms specified in column 1 in the lists Nos. 1 and 2 annexed to the said order, their clerical and all subordinate staff in their firms as represented by some trade unions men-against firms in column 2 of the lists mentioned, and others represented by such registered trade unions as might have been referred by the Tribunal hereafter mentioned to be represented individually for legitimate reasons, referred for adjudication to a Tribunal constituted by Sri Ashutosh Das Gupta, Additional District Judge, as Chairman and Sri Sailesh Chandra Chakrabarty and Sri Sudhir Chandra Gupta, Additional District Judges, as members;

whereas the services of Sri Sudhir Chandra Gupta, one of the members aforesaid, having never been available, the said Chairman and Sailesh Chandra Chakrabarty, another member, had given the award in respect of the industrial dispute between the Allahabad Bank, (Calcutta Branch), 6, Royal Exchange Place, Calcutta, and 35, Cross Street, Calcutta, item No. 183 of list No. 1 aforesaid, in which the employees represented by the Bengal Provincial Bank Employees' Association, 20, Strand Road (1st floor), Calcutta, as shown in the list hereto;

and, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 read with section (3) of section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor directed to make the following order and to give with reference to section 17 of the said Act the award be published in the Calcutta award made by the said Tribunal shall bind the employers aforesaid and their employees as specified in the list and shall remain in operation for a period of one year with effect from the 17th February 1949.

ANNEXURE.

Matter of the industrial disputes between the Allahabad Bank, Ltd. (Calcutta Branch), 6, Royal Exchange Place, Calcutta, and 35, Cross Street, Calcutta, and their employees represented by the Bengal Provincial Bank Employees' Association, 20, Strand Road (1st floor), Calcutta.

PRESENT:

SRI ASHUTOSH DAS GUPTA, Chairman,

AND

SAILESH CHANDRA CHAKRABARTY, Member.

Pursuant to the provisions of sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the Government of West Bengal by order No. 135Lab., dated the 17th January 1948, constituted a Tribunal with Sri Ashutosh Das Gupta as Chairman, and Sri Sailesh Chandra Chakrabarty and Sri Sudhir Chandra Gupta as members to adjudicate the disputes between 267 mercantile firms of Calcutta and their employees.

The firms had been divided in two lists in the said order. Some of the firms compounded their differences with the employees while the employees did not come to us in a number of cases. These cases have already been disposed of by awards made from time to time.

Sri Sudhir Chandra Datta Gupta, one of the members, had been absent and as his services were not available, the matter was heard by the Chairman and the other member. Leaving aside few stray cases the employees came to be represented in three groups:—Mercantile Employees' Federation, Bank Employees' Association and the Federation of the Insurance Company Employees.

At a certain stage a question arose about the competency of the Tribunal to deal with the cases of individual firms separately. We decided that this was a collection of references of separate disputes and we could deal with different firms separately. To this view we still adhere.

Bengal Chamber of Commerce (No. 247 of list No. 1) is an association for the advancement of trade and all the different firms are affiliated to it. Bengal Chamber of Commerce exercises a guiding influence over other firms. It frames scales of pay and conditions of service of clerical and subordinate staff and recommends them to its constituent members. The expectations are that the constituent firms will respect the recommendations, though there are members who do not follow these recommendations. On behalf of the employers it was argued that if the case of Bengal Chamber of Commerce were taken up first and an award made, this might resolve the disputes of many of the firms. It was pointed out that at this stage the award of the Tribunal which will hear all the cases will be more persuasive than the recommendation of the Chamber of Commerce. To this course the different Federations agreed; only if the case of Tata Iron and Steel Co., Ltd. (No. 156 of list No. 1), was also considered. Both parties having agreed to this, the Tribunal had nothing to object. The Tribunal had to take up cases one after another and as the parties settled in order of precedence the Tribunal accepted it."

This has been published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 17th February 1949.

Balwant Sing—Salary Rs. 52-8 per month, increment every second year of Rs. 2 up to a maximum salary of Rs. 62, dearness allowance Rs. 25 per month.

Motor Drivers—Salary Rs. 65 per month, dearness allowance Rs. 25 per month.

Khidmatgur—Same scale as peons.

In Annexures A and B comparative tables given. These will show that in the initial stages the employees of the Allahabad Bank earn less but after a certain stage they earn more and total benefit is always greater. It should be noted that this calculation is made on the basis of present rate of dearness allowance allowed by Bengal Chamber of Commerce. If we consider scale of dearness allowance six months before, result would be that the employees of the Allahabad Bank would be gainers. We do, in the circumstances, adopt the scheme of the Bank about salary and dearness allowance as awarded in Bombay. When dearness allowance is raised to Rs. 30 for the subordinate staff, their cases do not require interference.

Retiring benefits and benefits on termination of service.

(a) Provident Fund.—A Provident Fund has been in existence for many years, the benefit which is extended to all grades of the permanent establishment with a basic salary of Rs. 25 month and over. There are two funds designated respectively, Allahabad Bank Staff Provident Fund and Allahabad Bank, Ltd., Cashiers Provident and Fidelity Fund, the former being vested in Trustees. Contributions are made by a member at 6½ per cent. of basic salary with equal contribution by the Bank. Interest allowed at 6 per cent. per annum, compounded yearly, the Bank making up any difference between this figure and the actual yield from the investments of the Fund, as also any depreciation in value of such investments. On leaving the Bank employment a member is entitled to the amount of both contributions irrespective of length of service, except in the case of dismissal, when the Bank's contribution and interest thereon is forfeited.

(b) Pension.—A pension, as understood, is payable, in terms of the following rules, to employees on the permanent staff of the Bank completion of 30 years' continuous and satisfied service and in special circumstances, such as health, may be granted proportionately at completion of 25 years' service:—

(i) Employees in receipt of a basic salary exceeding Rs. 100 per mensem.—One-third of the average monthly pay, exclusive of all allowances, drawn during the five years immediately preceding retirement.

Employees drawing more than Rs. 100 basic salary.—One-fourth of the average monthly pay, exclusive of all allowances, drawn during the five years preceding retirement, subject to a minimum of Rs. 33-5-4.

Gratuity.—Members of the clerical, cash and staff who resign or otherwise leave the employment, except in the case of dismissal dishonestly or misconduct, before qualifying pension in terms of the rules, receive a gratuity on the following scale provided they have satisfactory record of service:—

(a) On the death of an employee while on the active establishment.—One month's basic salary for each year of service, subject to a maximum of 15 months' salary, to be paid to his heirs or executors or nominees.

(b) On voluntary retirement or resignation.—After 15 years' continuous service—15 months' basic salary.

(c) On termination of service by the Bank.—
a) After 10 years' continuous service but less than 15 years.—Three-fourths of one month's basic salary for each year of service.

b) After 15 years' continuous service.—15 months' basic salary.

We consider the schemes to be fair and adopt

We have been assured by the Bank that there is no intention of discontinuing two months' bonus. In view of this assurance the matter of bonus is left to adjudication.

Canteen and tiffin.

Accommodation is possible and the demands are met.

Accommodation and children's education allowances.

These demands are disallowed.

Medical aid.

The Bank allows free medical consultation. It is proposed to extend it.

Issues Nos. 9 and 10.—Working hours, holidays and overtime and leave.

The usual banking hours for the customers are 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on week days and 10 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturdays. The Bank observes the same working hours as other banks. The staff with the exception of day-book writers, ordinarily remain in office from 9-45 or 10 a.m. up to 5 p.m. on week days and 2-30 p.m. on Saturdays. Day-book writers, by reason of the particular nature of their work attend office at 1 p.m. and leave at 7 to 7-30 p.m. We consider these arrangements as regards working hours to be more than reasonable. Employees are permitted a break of half-an-hour which is arranged in such a manner as not to interfere with an efficient service to the public.

The Bank observes all holidays under the Negotiable Instruments Act and all Sundays are holidays.

No overtime is paid to the staff who are expected on occasions, such as the periodical balancing of books, to remain, if necessary, little beyond the normal hour to complete the work. It has been the practice to grant an allowance to those members who are required to work late in connection with the half-yearly closing. We consider this to be fair.

Leave is granted as follows subject to the rules framed by the Bank, which are based on Adjudication Awards in Bombay and the United Provinces. The rules are given below:—

Clerks and Cashiers—

14 days per year—(casual leave on full pay and allowance).

One month per year—(privilege leave on full pay and allowance).

One month per year—(sick leave on half pay, without allowance subject to production of an acceptance certificate from medical practitioners. Privilege leave is cumulative to a maximum of three months in three years).

Peons, chowkidars and other subordinate grades:—

15 days per year—(casual leave on full pay and allowance).

One month per year—(sick leave on half pay without allowance).

Six weeks every two years—(privilege leave on full pay and allowance. Privilege leave is cumulative to a maximum of twelve weeks in four years).

We consider the rules to be fair and adopt them.

Issue No. 11.—Travelling allowance on duty as also on leave.

The Bank allows travelling allowance on duty. The claim for travelling allowance on leave is disallowed.

Issue No. 12.—Service conditions.

(a) Probation and confirmation.

All appointments to the Bank's service are on a probationary basis for six months. Confirmation is considered after four months and, if accorded, becomes effective after six months' probationary service. We consider the system to be fair and adopt the same.

(b) Service records.

The Bank maintains service records of its employees other than subordinate staff. The Bank is directed to maintain service records of the subordinate staff as well.

(c) Enquiry before punishment
And

Issue No. 14.—Dismissal, discharge and retrenchment or other punishment.

The existing rules are given below:

Any adverse comment on the work or conduct of individual members of the staff, including probationers, or warning given to them is recorded in a charge sheet, the entry being signed by the officer-in-charge and the employee asked to sign also. Should the latter refuse, this is also recorded and the signature of the Accountant or Head Clerk obtained in verification. A copy of the entry is forwarded immediately to Head Office together with whatever explanation or comment the employee has to offer. Thereafter, should Head Office consider the complaint justified, the report is incorporated in the official record of the employee and a copy furnished him, opportunity, if desired, being given to appeal to the Board of Directors against any disciplinary action taken. The decision of the Board is final.

In the case of retrenchment the principle of "last come, first go" should ordinarily be applied, exception being made, however, in the case of men showing outstanding promise and ability.

As regards dismissal or discharge, the Bank do not accept any interference with the employers' right to terminate the appointment of an employee, after due enquiry, in circumstances which do not permit of his retention in the services.

What the Tribunal has prescribed is the procedure for enquiry. We lay down the following procedure for enquiry.

The first thing to be done is that a charge shall be framed and the person proceeded against shall submit his explanation. Then a future date should be fixed for the matter to be enquired into. If the person proceeded against is found innocent, the matter ends. If, however, he is found guilty, the clerk concerned shall be supplied with a copy of the findings and the punishment proposed to be imposed. The clerk will get an opportunity again to plead about the punishment only at this stage. If the enquiring officer himself is competent to inflict punishment on the person proceeded against, he will hear his pleadings and order what he thinks best. If the Enquiring Officer is anybody other than the General Manager, an appeal shall lie with him within seven days of the communication of the order punishing the clerk. In case the Enquiring Officer is not competent to inflict punishment he will forward the proceedings to the authority competent to punish and that authority will hear the person again and then pass orders. If that authority be other than the General Manager, an appeal shall lie likewise with the General Manager. In all cases where the proposed punishment is discharge or dismissal, the papers must be laid before the General Manager who will hear the person proceeded against and then pass orders. The clerks proceeded against shall have always the right to be defended by any other employee or by any other retired employee. These are domestic matters and bringing outside agencies is not helpful to the person proceeded against. Any outsider may defend a person proceeded against with the permission of the Enquiring Officer.

We hope that the rules framed by us will remove apprehensions about abrupt termination of services and will give to the employees a sense of security which is essential for efficient working.

12. (d) Retiring age.

There is no fixed age for retirement from the Bank's employment, the period of service qualifying for retirement on pension being 30 years. In special cases this may be extended at the employee's request and subject to the concurrence of the Bank.

We prescribe that ordinarily 55 should be the retiring age and it may be extended up to 60, when both the employer and the employee agree.

Issue No. 13.—Recruitment rules: recruitment, promotion and transfer.

It has always been the Bank's practice to fill higher clerical posts by men promoted on merit and ability, recruitment to the Indian Office grade similarly being exclusively from the clerical establishment. Every clerk has thus the opportunity of rising to the highest scale of the Indian official grades. Entrance to the Bank's clerical staff is restricted to men between the ages of 18 and 25 and is subject to a probationary period of six months, as above stated, on expiry of which the appointment is confirmed or the employee is discharged if he is found unsuitable.

Members of the clerical and cash staffs are liable to transfer and on appointment agree in writing to serve at any office of the Bank. Mobility of staff is essential to the efficient administration of a branch system comprising a large number of small offices and, in practice, transfers, whether temporary or permanent, are effected only when absolutely essential.

Recruitment should be at the discretion of the employer. We need only add that when a clerk is recruited for the Calcutta office, and is transferred to a place outside Bengal, he shall get a special allowance of Rs. 5 a month, provided the transfer is not on his own seeking and it does not involve promotion and corresponding increase in pay.

Issue No. 15.—Uniforms and umbrellas menials.

The Bank is directed to supply these.

Issue No. 19(1)(a).—Adjustment of the basic pay and allowance of the clerical and subordinate staff as per Bombay Award on the basis of point to point calculation for the period between August 1946 and the date of enforcement of the Award herein.

The Allahabad Bank has got its branch in Bombay which was subject to adjudication there. During the pendency of adjudication in Bombay the authorities here gave a temporary increase in salary. Thereafter, when the Bombay award was published, this was made applicable to the Calcutta staff and salaries were adjusted. The grievance of the Union is that in some cases after the adjustment the total emoluments fell short of what the employees had been drawing. In some cases this is true, but only in a limited sense. We have already said that pending Bombay adjudication the authorities granted a temporary increase and it was expressly said that this was done pending final adjustment of pay. So this addition cannot be regarded as permanent additions. In the cases cited by the Union we find that after the adjustment no one is getting less than what he was getting before the temporary increment was given; but in some cases there has been little deficiencies. Therefore the grievance that there has been a reduction by advancement is not correct.

Another point pressed was that there should be point to point adjustment. Any adjustment, when a new scale is drawn, must, to some extent, be arbitrary. The Allahabad Bank made an adjustment in a way and this was considered by Shri Harsiddhbhai V. Divatia, President of the Industrial Court, Bombay, and he found that a fair principle was adopted. We quote below the judgment of the Industrial Court:—

in pursuance of the directions in paragraph the Bank's award. The employees under years of service have been given point to point ment and the grievance of the rest is that also ought to have been given such point to adjustment. The Bank has made the adjustment almost on the same basis as the Bank of has made, i.e., 20 per cent. of the salary minimum of Rs. 25 per month have been to those drawing a salary above Rs. 100 per and 25 per cent. of the salary with a minimum of Rs. 15 per month have been given to those with a salary of Rs. 100 or less. The Bank at the point to point method of adjustment given to employees under nine years of service as their existing salaries were very near the level under the new grade and out of the group only 15 senior clerks seem to be needed. The employees say that the instances of 8, 12 and 15 in Exhibit A are not given without increments. The Bank says that these persons reached the efficiency bar on the 1st of 1946 and therefore they could not rise but that the general principle of the minimum of Rs. 25 was applied to them while making adjustments. A large majority of the employees have no grievance as the Bank has acted on a general principle which had been applied except those whose efficiency is less. The contention is therefore rejected. As regards the discontinuance of local allowances it may be an illegal change, if at all it is so proved by satisfactory evidence. The applicants may file application for such change if they are so minded.

In our opinion the matter has been disposed of in a sensible way. Though there may be other ways of solving it, since one sensible way has been adopted for the officers of one branch and has been accepted by a Court, we shall not insist on it for a different section. We accept the principle of adjustment adopted in Bombay. In Calcutta, the Bank adopted a slightly different principle. There was a local allowance which in Bombay was consolidated with the basic salary before the adjustment. Hence the increments were allowed to the clerks by way of adjustment were calculated on the aggregate of the basic salary and local allowance. In Calcutta, the local allowance was consolidated with the basic salary after the adjustment. In calculating increments given by way of adjustment, the local allowance of the Calcutta staff was left out. But the same principle should have been followed in Bombay and Calcutta. We accordingly find that in the calculations by way of adjustment the local allowance should be considered as part of the basic salary. If by this modified method, the pay of a clerk is in between two steps in the time scale, he shall be placed at the higher stage. The adjustment already made shall be revised in the light of these directions and the benefit shall be available to the clerks from the date when the adjustment was given effect to.

dependence Bonus to all clerical and subordinate staff at the rate of one-half month's pay.

There is demand for a bonus to commemorate the Transfer of Power. When bonus is not paid up with any labour or wages, it becomes a payment and in this case the claim, as demand for ex gratia payment, is outside the jurisdiction of the Tribunal.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between the Management of Messrs. Electric Construction and Equipment Co., Ltd., Head Office 35, Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta; Works: 51/2, Hazra Road, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Siemens' Electric Engineering Workers' Union, 51, Bondel Road, Calcutta.

PRESENT: SRI P. K. SARKAR, Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

PRESENT: For the Union—SRI DEBABRATA DAS GUPTA, Secretary.

AWARD.

By Government Order No. 3713Lab., dated 16th October 1948, the above dispute was referred to me for adjudication under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. I gave notice to the parties and on 4th November 1948 the Union filed written statement. The Company filed written statement on 23rd November 1948 and issues were framed on 30th November 1948. After a preliminary hearing on 22nd December 1948, the Union wanted to file additional written statement. This was filed on 11th January 1949 and then the case was heard on several dates commencing from 28th January 1949. At a later stage the Union wanted to examine some witnesses and prayed for summons on them. Three witnesses were examined on 7th February 1949 and one more on 23rd February 1949 on which date the hearing was concluded.

The Electric Construction and Equipment Co., Ltd. (to be hereinafter referred to as the Company), is a new Company which came into existence for taking over the workshop of the Siemens (India), Ltd., which had been under the management of the Custodian of Enemy Property since the last war. At first Messrs. Lakhi Prasad Loknath and Co., the Managing Agents of the Company, took lease of this workshop from the Custodian of Enemy Property for a period of one year commencing from 1st July 1944. Then on the 13th June 1944 the present Company took a sub-lease of the workshop from its Managing Agents. The lease granted by the Custodian of Enemy Property was renewed from time to time after the expiry of the original period of one year and then in June 1944 the Custodian of Enemy Property decided upon selling the workshop and the machineries of Siemens (India), Ltd. The Company submitted tenders for purchase of the workshop and the machineries up to this time the sale thereof has not been completed, though the Company has been informed that the property of the workshop is to be sold to it. The Company has produced a copy of a letter, dated the 26th August 1948, from the Deputy Custodian of Enemy Property to Messrs. Java Sea & Fire Insurance Co., Ltd., in which the Deputy Custodian stated that the properties of Siemens' workshop had been sold to the present Company. As already stated, however, the sale has not yet been legally completed.

On the 26th June 1947 the Siemens' Electric Engineering Workers Union (to be hereinafter referred to as the Union) submitted certain demands to the Company on behalf of its workmen. On the 31st October 1947 the Company issued a circular, being circular No. 128, stating that in view of the indecision of the Custodian of Enemy Property regarding disposal of the workshop machineries and as the workshop was operating at a heavy loss, the Management had decided to close the workshop from 30th November 1947 and that this should be taken as a month's notice to all employees of the termination of their service. This was followed by another circular on 1st November 1947, being circular No. 129, in which it was stated that the Management had found it necessary to plan a complete reorganisation of the workshop by eliminating repair work and concentrating on manufacture and that the total staff required for running the reorganised works would be smaller than the existing staff. The Company offered to recruit the new staff from suitable members of the present staff who had been given notice of discharge. In the meantime, however, the matter had been reported to the Labour Commissioner who suggested that the status quo should be maintained during the pendency of the conciliation proceedings and so on 29th November 1947 the Company issued circular No. 132 suspending the operation of circular No. 128, dated 31st October 1947, without prejudice to its rights. Thus the workshop was not closed and no employee was discharged. Conciliation proceedings initiated by the Labour Commissioner, however, failed and disputes between the Company and its workmen consequent on the latter's demands, dated 26th June 1947, were referred to an Industrial Tribunal for adjudication. The said Tribunal made an award on 19th February 1948 and the award was published in the Calcutta Gazette of March 1948. By the award the pay scales and the dearness allowance of the employees were fixed and certain other amenities were provided for them. The Tribunal also cancelled the circular No. 128 dated 29th November 1947.

After this award, the Company carried out a reorganisation of the workshop and installed new machineries for concentrating on manufacture and also recruited new workers. Then on 1st August 1947 it issued 14 days' notice of discharge to 56 workers named in Annexure A to the report of the Labour Commissioner, a copy of which was enclosed with the Government order making reference. The ground of discharge was the management consequent on reorganisation of the workshop. About the same time the Company discharged a Foreman named J. Carran on the same ground. There had been an incident near the Company's workshop on 10th July 1948 in which a clerk of the Company was assaulted. In connection with this incident the Company had directed misconduct five of its workers on 13th August 1948. Two clerks of the Company had also been discharged before this, one named S. C. Sarkar on ground of habitual late attendance and unsatisfactory work on 30th April 1948 and another D. K. Ray on the ground of gross insubordination on 15th July 1948. The names of these discharged employees including the name of Mr. Carrau are mentioned in Annexure B to the Labour Commissioner's report referred to above. The Union brought all these cases of discharge to the notice of the Labour Commissioner who attempted to settle the dispute by conciliation but failed.

The dispute concerning these cases of discharge was thereupon referred to the present Tribunal. In the Government order it is described as a dispute "in connection with issues relating to the discharge of the workers mentioned in Annexures A and B".

The Union has filed three separate written statements in this case. The first written statement contains the cases of Mr. Carrau and the 56 workers mentioned in Annexure A mentioned above and the Union's case in this written statement is that the Company had completed reorganisation of the workshop by May 1948 and had no need to discharge any worker on 30th August 1948. The discharge of these workers is illegal and arbitrary and amounts to unfair labour practice. The second written statement contains the case of the five workers who were discharged for misconduct in connection with the dispute of 19th July 1948. The Union's case in this statement is that the Company's allegations regarding these workers are false and malicious and that they had been given an opportunity to prove their innocence. The third written statement concerns the cases of clerks S. C. Sarkar and D. K. Ray and the Union's case regarding them is that they were not at fault. The Union, therefore, demands that the above employees should be reinstated and given adequate compensation. In the alternative the Union demands gratuity and heavy compensation for them. In the additional written statement filed on 11th January 1949 the Union reiterated the case put forward in these written statements and submitted a new case in respect of employees, viz., Modudar Rahman mentioned in Annexure A and D. K. Ray mentioned in Annexure B, that they had been victimised for activities in connection with the Union.

The Company in its written statements justifies the discharge of all these employees and denies that there has been any case of victimisation or unfair labour practice. As regards discharge of workers named in Annexure A the Company states that it is not in a sound financial position and cannot afford to keep excess staff or carry on in a hazy manner. It also pleads its inability to pay any gratuity or compensation to the discharged workers in its present financial position. The Company states that it has been forced to close the workshop with effect from 20th November 1948 due to various criminal acts perpetrated by the workers and that as such there can be no question of reinstatement of the workers.

The following are the issues framed for decision:

1. Were the 57 workers mentioned in statement 1 of the Workers' Union (namely, Mr. J. Carrau and 56 workers referred to in Annexure A to the Government order) discharged in good faith by way of retrenchment? Was their discharge illegal and arbitrary? Are they entitled to reinstatement?

2. Were the five workers mentioned in statement 2 of the Union (Nos. 2-6 of Annexure B to the Government order) discharged on grounds of misconduct? If so, are they entitled to reinstatement?

3. Was D. K. Ray (No. 7 of Annexure B) discharged for gross insubordination? If so, is he entitled to reinstatement?
4. Was S. C. Sarkar (No. 8 in Annexure B) discharged for habitual late attendance and unsatisfactory work? If so, is he entitled to reinstatement?
5. In the event of reinstatement not being allowed are these workers or any of them entitled to get any compensation by way of gratuity or otherwise?

Issue No. 1.

The Company's case is that the 56 men mentioned in Annexure A to the Labour Commissioner's report and Mr. J. Carrau, Foreman, were discharged as unnecessary in consequence of reorganisation of the workshop. The Siemens (India), Ltd., used to import their motors from the Siemens Company and maintain only a repair shop in the workshop here. When the present Company took lease of the workshop, the orders for repair gradually fell off and so the Company decided to switch over to production of small horse-power motors and pumps and to gradually abolish the repair shop. The repair work became unremunerative and troublesome. As already stated, the Company issued a circular on 31st October 1947, being circular No. 128, in which it stated that the workshop was operating at a heavy loss and would be closed with effect from 30th November 1947 in order to enable the Company to put into operation new plans for working in future. Then in circular No. 129, dated 25th November 1947, the Company stated that it was planning a complete reorganisation of the workshop by eliminating unprofitable repair work and concentrating on manufacture. At the suggestion of the Labour Commissioner, however, reorganisation was kept in abeyance until the conclusion of the proceedings before the Tribunal. After the award of the Tribunal the Company again took up the plan for reorganisation and invited the Secretary of the Union on 17th April 1948 for discussing the scheme (Annexure 5 to the additional written statement of the Union). On 15th May 1948 the Company informed the Labour Commissioner that it had commenced manufacture of electric pumps and motors, switch boards, switch gears and transformers and that a detailed scheme of reorganisation was under compilation. On 18th May 1948 the Company wrote to the Labour Commissioner that a detailed scheme had been worked out by the Company's experts sub-dividing the whole works into 15 shops, estimating the capacity of each shop both with regard to output and the amount of labour required and generally arranging for fully planned and organised production and that it had been found that a labour force of 275 persons would be required on the new scheme. On that date the total labour strength of the Company was 325 men. The Company therefore informed the Labour Commissioner that retrenchment of excess labour was inevitable.

The Union has nothing to say against the Company's scheme of reorganisation. The Union does not suggest that the Company's scheme was not bona fide. On the other hand the Union mentioned in its additional written statement that the Company's idea of purchasing the Siemens' workshop was entirely based on the plan of complete reorganisation and extension of the workshop for further expansion of business. The Union's case, however, is that the reorganisation had been completed by the first of May, that the Company had before that date installed new machineries for production and appointed new men and that all the existing employees had been absorbed in the 15 shops.

created under the reorganisation scheme. The Union accordingly contends that there was no need for retrenchment in August 1948 and that discharge of these 57 men on the ground of reorganisation was unjustified. The Union relies upon the letter which the Company wrote to the Labour Commissioner on 18th May 1948 in which the Company mentioned the creation of 15 shops but in the very same letter the Company stated that according to the scheme of reorganisation, a labour strength of 275 persons only would be required to carry the scheme into effect and that retrenchment of excess labour was inevitable. In support of this letter the Company has filed a copy of a report containing a survey of the capacity of the Company for the manufacture of electric motors, pumps, etc., which shows that the total labour force required by the Company was estimated by the experts responsible for this report at 279 and 41 men were described in this report as labour in excess. It is true that the Company had recruited some men towards the end of 1947 and in the beginning of 1948 for the working of the new machineries installed for production of motors, pumps, etc., but the Company had never accepted the position that it had work for everybody in the completed scheme of reorganisation. In view of the experts' report above referred to and the letter to the Labour Commissioner, dated 18th May 1948, I cannot accept the Union's case that the Company had provision for the entire existing labour force in the scheme of reorganisation. Some labour was certainly in excess, according to the said report. It has been explained by the Company that the scheme of retrenchment was not actually put into operation in May 1948 because it wanted to watch the situation for some time more to see if retrenchment could be avoided. Gradually, however, the financial position of the Company deteriorated. The Company found that it could not sell its products. The Company had been producing D.C. motors and pumps which required more men for production. These, however, could not be sold and hence the Company began to produce in June and July 1948 A.C. motors, the production of which required less men. This is clear from the summary of production figures filed by the Company. Production gradually fell off, for which the Company also blames the workers. It has further been stated that when the Company began production of electric motors and pumps import of such things was restricted but that the import restrictions were relaxed subsequently. The Company was therefore forced to make retrenchment in consequence of the heavy losses it was sustaining. The Company has filed its balance sheets for the years ended 31st October 1946 and 31st October 1947. In the first year it sustained losses amounting to Rs. 50,268 and odd, and in the second year its losses amounted to Rs. 66,543 and odd. In 1948 the Company's losses are expected to be still heavier. A probable estimate of the loss has been filed showing that the loss would amount to about 2 lakhs for the year ended on 31st October 1948. In consequence of the deteriorating financial position the Company had to decide on retrenchment of more hands than had been originally found necessary under the scheme of reorganisation and the axe of retrenchment fell mostly on the workers newly recruited in 1947 and 1948.

The Union was not in a position to challenge the above facts stated by the Company. The Union suggested that the retrenchment carried out in August 1948 was sudden but, as stated above, the Company merely put off the scheme of retrenchment in expectation of better days and ultimately decided on retrenchment when it found that it was sustaining heavy losses. The Union has not suggested that the discharge of these 56 workers was due to any motive for victimisation. It is not the case of the Union that any of these 56 workers excepting one was an office bearer or a prominent member of the Union. The Union has specifically pleaded victimisation in respect of only one worker namely, Modudar Rahman, whose case I shall consider later on. As regards the others the Union's case is that the Company decided on retrenchment in August 1948 in order to crush the Union and get rid of highly paid skilled workers. It is not, however, clear how the Company could have intended to crush the Union by discharging workers who were not actively connected with the Union. As regards the allegation that the Company wanted to get rid of highly paid skilled workers the Union Secretary could not substantiate it and could not say who of the 56 workers were highly paid skilled hands. It was urged by the Secretary of the Union that the whole policy of the management was to get maximum work out of the labour staff by minimum payment and that in order to carry out this policy the management retrenched the highly paid staff. It appears, however, from the wage-chart submitted by the Company that only 12 out of these 56 workers were getting above Rs. 30 per month at the time of their discharge and only 6 were getting Rs. 50 or above. Thirteen of these 56 men were apprentices, two of whom were unpaid. On principle, there cannot be any objection to retrenchment of highly paid staff if the management has really no work for them and finds them unnecessary. I do not, therefore, find any substance in the Union's contention that the retrenchment was directed against the Union.

It was next urged by the Union that the retrenchment involved unfair labour practices inasmuch as these workers were retrenched suddenly and in a most arbitrary manner. I have already explained that the retrenchment was not sudden. It had been decided upon long ago as the Union had notice of it and it was delayed only because the management was watching the situation and the management was at last forced to retrench on account of heavy losses sustained by the Company and other circumstances mentioned above. The retrenchment was not effected in an arbitrary manner. Out of 56 workers retrenched excluding the Foreman, Mr. Carrau, 13 were apprentices appointed in 1948 and 24 were workers who had also been appointed in 1948. Seventeen of the workers had been appointed in 1947 and mostly between September and December 1947. Only two had been appointed before 1946—one in 1946 and the other in 1944. Mr. Carrau had been appointed only in February 1948. The Company has stated that in making the retrenchment it gave effect to the principle of "Last come first go". The Union has not challenged the fact that the Company followed this principle in making the retrenchment, excepting in five cases. According to the Union, five of the workers, viz., Saurendra Naskar, Khaleque, Wahed Ali, Abdul Huq Molla and Modudar Rahman, had not been recruited on the dates shown in the Company's papers but had been recruited long ago. The Company produced the cards of all these persons. It appears from the cards that all these persons had worked as apprentices under Siemens Company. Saurendra was first appointed as an apprentice on 13th August 1943, Khaleque on 18th August 1944, Wahed Ali on 28th August 1944, Abdul Huq Molla on 10th July 1944 and Modudar Rahman on 1st May 1941. The cards, however, show that they were given substantive appointments as workmen on the dates mentioned in Annexure A. Thus Saurendra was appointed as a workman on 1st July 1947, Khaleque, Wahed Ali and Abdul Huq Molla were appointed on 1st July 1948 and Modudar Rahman was appointed on 1st July 1946. Khaleque, Wahed Ali and Abdul Huq Molla were still temporary when they were given notice of discharge. Certainly in deciding the length of service of a workman the period of apprenticeship served by him should not be taken into account. The Company, therefore, rightly considered that these workers had commenced es on which they were appointed as work-Regarding at least four of them (all except-Modudar Rahman), it is clear that the prinof "last come first go" had been strictly red. The case of Modudar Rahman, as whom the principle is said to have been ed, will be considered later on. I find ingly that the retrenchment was not effected fairly and that there is no room for the con-on that it amounted to unfair labour practice.

regards illegality, the Union's contention at the retrenchment was illegal because it effected during the period when the award of February 1948 was in operation. In the Industrial Disputes Act, however, there is no bar to discharge of workmen during the period of operation of an award. All that the Act lays down in sections (b) and (c) of section 23 is that no court shall declare a lock-out during the pendency of proceedings before a Tribunal and months after the conclusion of such proceedings or during any period in which a settlement award is in operation, in respect of any of the persons covered by the settlement or award. In the present case, the award had been published on the 4th, 1948 and these workers were given notice of discharge on 30th August 1948. I do not think that discharge of workers with proper notice can be construed as a lock-out within the meaning of section 23 of the Industrial Disputes Act, apart from that question, these workers had been discharged more than two months after the conclusion of the proceedings before the Tribunal.
The discharge of these workers was not also in any way connected with any of the matters covered by the award. The award did not prohibit retrenchment. The award had cancelled circular No. 132 of November 1947 by which the operation of award No. 128, dated 31st October 1947, had been terminated. The award also recognised the need for organisation of the workshop. Thus it cannot be said that the retrenchment was illegal on account of the award. It was next urged that the discharge of the workers was illegal because they were discharged after conciliation proceedings had been started before the Labour Commissioner.
It appears that on 30th August 1948 the Labour Commissioner had written to the Company requesting to stop retrenchment until a joint discussion could be held on 3rd September 1948. That letter was received by the Company on 31st August 1948 after notices of discharge had already been served.
It was made clear by the Company in its letter of the same date to the Labour Commissioner, a copy of which has been filed. Thus the notices were issued before the Labour Commissioner's initiating conciliation proceedings was started by the Company. Apart from that, section 23 only prohibits an employer from declaring a lock-out during the pendency of conciliation proceedings before a Board. It does not prohibit discharge during the pendency of conciliation proceedings before a conciliation officer. I am unable, therefore, to find that the notices of discharge were in any way illegal.

If I come to the case of Modudar Rahman.
The Union wants his case to be treated on a separate footing because the Union's case is that his discharge amounted to victimisation. The Union produced a copy of a resolution of its Executive Committee, dated 18th July 1948, showing that Modudar Rahman had been elected the Assistant Secretary of the Union on that date. The Union's suggestion is that Modudar Rahman was retained because he was an office-bearer of the Union and had taken the lead in the agitation for implementation of the award. On behalf of the Union it is denied that the Company had any objection about the status of Modudar Rahman in the Union. The Union has not suggested that the Company was formally informed at any time about the election of Modudar Rahman as the Assistant Secretary. The Union Secretary did not say that the Company had knowledge about it.

It is also admitted by the Union Secretary that Modudar Rahman never signed any letter sent to the Company on behalf of the Union and that such letters used all to be signed by the Secretary.
There is no evidence that Modudar Rahman took the lead in the agitation for implementation of the award or led any deputation of the workers to the management, as was suggested by the Secretary of the Union. It appears that there were some conferences between the management and the workers for discussing the question of implementation of the award and there was also some correspondence with the Labour Commissioner on the point. One such conference was held on 20th July 1948 and the minutes of that conference, as kept by the Company, were shown to me. These minutes contained names of many workers' representatives but did not contain the name of Modudar Rahman.
On behalf of the Company it has been contended that if Modudar Rahman had been a leader or representative of the workers in the negotiations with the Company regarding implementation of the award, he must have attended this conference and his name would have appeared in the minutes.
The Union Secretary stated that his name had been deliberately omitted from the minutes, but no evidence was adduced to show that he had attended this meeting or negotiated on behalf of the Union with the Company, and I do not find any reason why his name should have been omitted from the minutes if he had really attended the meeting. It was next stated by the Union that though Modudar Rahman was a skilled worker he had not been given the wages fixed for the skilled workers by the award. His pay, according to his card, was Rs. 33-10 from 1st July 1946 and by the award the minimum pay of a skilled worker had been fixed at Rs. 50. The Company denies that Modudar Rahman was a skilled worker. It only admits that he was a semi-skilled worker.
The award recognised that the question as to who was a skilled worker should be left to the Company.
The Company informed the Labour Commissioner on 18th May 1948 by the letter already referred to that certain trade tests had been prescribed for each category of skilled workers and that the classification of skilled workers would be made according to the said tests. The Company states that Modudar Rahman did not appear for such trade tests in spite of repeated requests. It was finally urged by the Union that in his case the principle of "last come first go" had not been followed and that he was discharged though he had been appointed as a workman in 1946. He was a machinist attached to the Machine Shop when he was discharged. The Company's case is that he was discharged as being one of the juniormost men amongst the machinists and that those who were retained were senior to him and that as such the principle of "last come first go" was also followed in his case. The Company's further case is that though a machinist he was not suitable for production work and this is noted against his name. It is stated that he had mainly worked in the repair section of the Machine Shop and that the Works Manager considered him unsuitable for the production machine. Taking all the above facts into consideration I am unable to find that he was victimised on account of his being an office-bearer of the Union as to which, as I have already stated, the Union has not been able to prove the Company's knowledge.

Mr. Carrau, Foreman, had been recruited in February 1948. He was confirmed on 1st April 1948. On 30th July 1948 he was given notice of discharge because his services were no longer necessary. The Company's case is that Mr. Carrau was given notice of discharge because he was the youngest of the chargemen. Even Mr. Dale, the Production Manager, who had been newly

Issue No. 2.

The Union's contention is that the allegations against these persons are all false and malicious and that no investigation was held in the matter and no opportunity was given to them to prove their innocence. The Union contends that their dismissal amounted to unfair labour practice. There is, however, no substance in the contention of the Union. Babu Sudhir Kumar Roy Choudhuri was examined as a witness by the Union. The two other witnesses, namely, Adhir Roy Choudhuri and Suren Ganguly, were also examined by the Union. The Union is, therefore, bound by their evidence. Sudhir Babu has definitely mentioned in his evidence that the named five persons had surrounded him at the time of the assault by Gobardhan. Adhir Choudhuri has stated that he had seen Babu surrounded by Nehal, Radhanath, Wahed and Wahedur Rahman at the time of assault by Gobardhan. He released Sudhir from the clutches of Gobardhan and his evidence is that Nehal then remonstrated with him asked him to go away. Suren Ganguly's evidence is that he had seen Nehal at the time of incident. In the statement submitted by Adhir Babu regarding the incident on 4th August, he had also named Abdul Wahed as who remonstrated with him along with Nehal. When his attention was drawn in cross-examination to this statement (Exhibit A) he stated that what was mentioned there was correct. Suren Ganguly has also mentioned in his statement, dated 4th August 1948 (Exhibit B), that Nehal and Abdul Wahed had argued with Adhir Babu and when his attention was drawn to his statement he stated that what was mentioned in the statement was correct. It is not true that no enquiry was made in the matter. Suren Ganguly has mentioned his evidence that the Works Manager had made an enquiry regarding the incident and questioned people who were known to have been present. Nehal who was examined as a witness by the Union admitted that the Works Manager had made enquiries and questioned him. Nehal has denied that he was present at the time of the incident but he has been named by all the three witnesses as having been concerned in the incident. The other four persons have not been examined by the Union and thus there is no denial that they were also concerned in the incident. The Company reported the incident to the Labour Commissioner on 21st July 1948. A copy of this letter has been filed by the Company. Along with the letter what was described as a copy of the report submitted by Sudhir Babu to the Works Manager regarding the incident was enclosed. In this report it was mentioned that there were some workers standing at a short distance who connived at the attack by Gobardhan on Sudhir Babu and these men were standing in a group with Gobardhan from before and were apparently conspiring to do something. No names of workers were, however, mentioned excepting the name of Wahed who was described as having argued with Adhir Babu. The Secretary of the Union contended that the report enclosed with this letter must be presumed to be a verbatim copy of Sudhir Babu's statement and that Sudhir Babu had originally submitted a statement which did contain the names of these five workers. He contended that the report (Exhibit C) purported to be the statement of Sudhir Babu must have been subsequently prepared at the instance of the Company and antedated. In Exhibit C all the five persons are definitely named and are said to have surrounded Sudhir Babu and attacked Gobardhan in the assault. Sudhir Babu was asked whether he had submitted any other statement regarding the incident excepting Exhibit A and he denied that he had done so. He stated that he did not submit any statement which did not contain the names of these five persons. As already stated, Sudhir Babu is a witness examined by the Union. Besides, Sudhir Babu is no longer in the service of the Company. He was discharged in November 1948 when the Company closed its workshop. Similarly, Adhir and Surendra are no longer in the service of the Company. It is thus no reason why they should now deny their evidence falsely in the interest of the Company. The Secretary of the Union commented on minor discrepancies in their evidence regarding the time and place of the incident but they are not to be taken into consideration. There is thus no reason to disbelieve their evidence. The Company

It stated that the names of the five workers deliberately omitted from the copy of Sudhir's statement which was enclosed with the letter to the Labour Commissioner because at that time the Company was not willing to disclose the names without holding an enquiry in the matter. This is quite probable. On 3rd August 1948 the Manager wrote to the Labour Commissioner that the Workshop Manager had been directed to hold an enquiry into the incident and discharge the persons who might be found guilty. Thus the letter enclosed with the letter to the Labour Commissioner was not a verbatim copy of Sudhir Babu's statement. I am not prepared to disbelieve Sudhir Babu's evidence and hold his statement, but it has to be seen whether it has been subsequently prepared as an instance of the Company. The evidence of Sudhir Babu proves that these five persons were present in the assault and the evidence of the two witnesses corroborates Sudhir Babu as to some of the persons, if not all. As already stated, none of the discharged persons, Nehal, came forward to contradict the statement of Sudhir Babu and though Nehal abducted him, I cannot obviously accept his statement because all the three witnesses have contradicted him. It is also proved that the Workshop Manager held an enquiry in the matter and that the discharged persons were questioned and there is no substance in the Union's contention that the Company gave them no opportunity to establish their innocence. I am satisfied that these five persons were rightly discharged for misconduct as they were concerned in the incident of assault on Sudhir Kumar Roy, Thum. Such conduct can never be excused and there can be no question of reinstatement of these persons. It is worthy of note in this connection that the Union did not suggest that the five bore any grudge against these five or wanted to victimise them. In fact the Union could not suggest any reason why the five should have picked up these five men in connection with the incident of July 1948.

Issue No. 3.

Dilip Kumar Roy (No. 7 of Annexure B) was originally appointed as a clerk in 1946. On 14th July 1948 he was appointed a Salesman on probation. On 26th April 1948 he prayed for promotion in the post and in reply he was informed on 29th April 1948 that he had not a capacity for the work of Salesman and that there was distinct improvement in his work could not be given better prospects. Then on 1st June 1948 he was given notice that his services would not be required after 31st July 1948. On 14th July 1948 he was informed that he had been granted privilege leave to his credit and that he was to stay away from office from the 26th July utilising himself of the leave due, and in the meantime he was directed to bring up to date all sales records and to follow instructions from day to day from the Workshop Manager about his work. Thereafter it was stated that he absented himself for some days without notice. On 15th July 1948 he was informed that as he had failed to report to the Manager as instructed in the letter of 8th July and as he had refused to sign the attendance register on 15th July 1948, he was dismissed with immediate effect for gross insubordination. Copies of these letters have been filed by the Company. The Union has not produced Dilip Kumar Roy. He has not come forward to challenge the facts which appear from the above letters. The Secretary of the Union is also not in a position to deny the said facts. The Union's case, as mentioned in the additional written statement, is that Dilip Roy took a prominent part in the activities of the Union, specially in the agitation for implementation of the award, and that he was victimised on this ground. There is, however, absolutely no evidence on this point and as already stated, Dilip Roy himself has not come forward to substantiate this case. The Company states that Dilip Kumar Roy is now working as a broker of the Company for sale of its products on commission at his own request. Apparently he now entertains no grievance and there is nothing to show that he wants reinstatement. The Union has made a grievance of the fact that no reason for discharge was mentioned in the notice given to him on 30th June 1948. The reason is apparent from the letter, dated 29th April 1948, in which he was told that his work was unsatisfactory. This letter further mentions that several instances of the unsatisfactory nature of his work had been brought to his notice. He was, however, discharged before expiry of the date mentioned in the notice for gross insubordination inasmuch as he had not carried out the instructions mentioned in the letter of 8th July 1948 and had refused to sign the attendance book on 15th July 1948. The Union mentioned in the written statement that he could not attend office from 9th July 1948 to 14th July 1948 on account of illness. There is, however, no evidence that he was ill and there is no suggestion that he had sent any intimation to the Company. Apparently he had absented himself without any notice and in the absence of any denial I must accept the Company's case that he had refused to sign the attendance register on 15th July 1948. I cannot say therefore that he was wrongfully dismissed and since he has not come forward to establish the Union's case regarding him but is, on the other hand, working for the Company in another capacity, I must find that there is no substance in the Union's case. He cannot therefore be reinstated.

Issue No. 4.

S. C. Sarkar (No. 8 of Annexure B) was the Accountant of the Company since June 1945 and he was discharged on 30th April 1948 for habitual late attendance and for unsatisfactory work. In the letter issued by the Company to him, a copy of which has been filed, he was told that though repeatedly asked to attend office regularly and punctually he had failed to do so and that his work had not improved since the written warning issued to him on 28th November 1947. His services were accordingly terminated from 1st May 1948 and he was given one month's salary in lieu of notice. A copy of the warning, dated 28th November 1947, has been filed by the Company. It shows that he had on several occasions given incorrect information regarding the pending position of the accounts of the Company. It is stated that he did not timely prepare the return required by the Sales Tax authorities and that this caused serious trouble to the Company. The Company has also produced the attendance register for March and April 1948 which shows that excepting for 8 days during these two months he failed to attend office at 10 a.m. and was sometimes late by nearly an hour. The Union's case is that he was a daily passenger and so was not able to reach office in proper time. But certainly such continuous late attendance cannot be excused, even if he were a daily passenger. It is said that he used to work frequently after office hours because he was late in the morning; but even then his late attendance must have caused a good deal of inconvenience to the Company and the Company's work must have suffered. S. C. Sarkar has not also been produced by the Union. The Secretary of the Union does not know what he is doing now. Apparently he is not keen for reinstatement. I find from the facts mentioned by the Company that he was a most unsatisfactory worker and a habitual late-comer and that he was rightly discharged with one month's pay. He is not entitled to reinstatement.

Issue No. 5.

It is clear from what has been stated above that the discharge of none of the employees mentioned in Annexures A and B was wrongful or amounted to victimisation or unfair labour practice. Further, as already stated, the factory has been closed since 20th November 1948 and it is not known when the Company will resume work. The Secretary of the Union informed the Tribunal at one stage that he would not press for the reinstatement of any of the workers named in Annexure A excepting Modudar Rahman, if the Company was agreeable to pay gratuity and compensation to them. He subsequently changed his position but finally he stated that if the Tribunal found that they could not be reinstated, the Tribunal should give them adequate compensation and gratuity. The question now is whether any of them is entitled to any gratuity or compensation. So far as the five workers, namely, Nehal, Kuli, Radhanath, Abdul Wahed and Wahedur Rahman (of Annexure B) are concerned, they were discharged for misconduct and they are not therefore entitled to any gratuity or compensation. Dilip Kumar Roy was also discharged for gross insubordination and so no question of gratuity or compensation can arise in his case. S. C. Sarkar received one month's pay in lieu of notice. Considering the reasons for which he was dismissed he too is not entitled to get any compensation or gratuity. As regards the 56 workers of Annexure A and Mr. Carrau who were discharged by way of retrenchment, the question of compensation or gratuity may arise because they were discharged for no fault of their own. In the award of the Tribunal regarding this Company, however, the claim for gratuity was rejected with these observations: "I do consider that in view of other advantages given in this award and particularly in view of the proposed introduction of the Provident Fund system, the workers are not entitled to any extra benefit in the shape of gratuity". These workers were discharged while this award was in operation and so they were not entitled to claim any gratuity, since the claim was rejected by the award. The Company was directed by the award to start a Provident Fund. Though the award came into operation from 22nd December 1947 no Provident Fund was actually started by the Company up to the date when these men were discharged. It appears from the report of the Labour Commissioner that the Company was then willing to pay 6½ per cent. of each employee's salary per month from 22nd December 1947, i.e., from the date on which the award came into operation. If the Company had started the Provident Fund, as directed by the award, these 56 retrenched workers would have been entitled to get the Company's contributions to the Provident Fund. The Company pleaded before me that it was unable to pay anything extra to the workers in its present financial position. But the Company certainly cannot avoid the liability to pay what the workers were legitimately entitled to get and what they did not get on account of the Company's default in introducing the Provident Fund as directed by the award. It should also be remembered that the Company itself had made such an offer of payment to the Labour Commissioner. I think therefore that the Company should honour that offer. Of the 56 workers named in Annexure A two, according to the Company's statement, are unpaid apprentices. They are B. C. Roy and Anil Kumar Paul. They are also so described in Annexure A. Excepting these two the remaining 54 workers named in Annexure A were all paid workers and they must be deemed to be entitled to payment at the above rate. I accordingly direct that the Company should pay to each of these 54 paid workers per cent. of his pay per month for every month of service calculated from 22nd December 1947 from the date of his appointment as a worker whichever is later, up to the date of his discharge. These payments should be made to workers concerned within two months from date of the publication of the award. The Company should also pay Mr. Carrau 6½ per cent. of salary per month from the date of his appointment up to the date of his discharge and I direct that this should be paid within two months from the date of the publication of the award.

NOTIFICATIONS.

Subject:—Grant of gratuity to temporary Central Government servants discharged from service.

No. TM/980.—18th March 1949.—In continuation of this office circular No. TM/947 of March 1948, it is notified for information of all Treasury Officers in West Bengal and all Central Drawing and Disbursing Officers under the audit control of this office, that the concession mentioned therein has been extended by the Government of India up to 28th February 1950. As already intimated, bills on this account should be drawn in accordance with the instructions issued previously.

Subject:—Procedure for subscribing to the C. P. Fund.

No. Fd.I-200/2304.—28th March 1949.—Attention of all heads of offices is invited to item (9) of this office notification No. Fund-1/1959, dated the 22nd January 1949, published at page 257 of the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 10th February 1949.

Facilities of Provident Fund subscriptions have been granted both by the Government of India and the Provincial Government to the temporary Government servants, but it has come to notice that in many cases, deductions have appeared from pay bills although no formal applications for admission to the fund from the new entrants have been sent to this office and account numbers got assigned for them. It may be observed in this connection that no Government servant can be treated as a subscriber to the Fund unless he sends his application in the prescribed form for admission to the Fund, supported by the requisite nomination, and a number is assigned to his fund account which is required invariably to be quoted in all correspondence relating to his fund account and also in fund schedules. Any Government servant who has been subscribing or will subscribe to the fund in future without the allotment of an account number, is not a subscriber and he should be asked to take refund of the amounts deducted on this account from his pay bill.

2. It is further pointed out that raising the subscription once a year has no retrospective effect, i.e., a Government servant cannot raise the rate of his subscription in December with retrospective effect from June.

LABOUR DEPARTMENT ORDER.

1044Lab.—4th April 1949.—Whereas under Government of West Bengal, Labour Department order No. 4045Lab., dated the 8th November 1948, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Caltex (India), Ltd., 22, Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta, and its employees in connection with the case of Sri Balai Chand Gupta, 7/1, Radha Kanta Jew Street, Calcutta, was referred for adjudication to Sri P. R. Mukherjee, Additional District Judge; and whereas the said Sri P. R. Mukherjee, Additional District Judge, has given the award as shown in annexure hereto;

and therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Government is pleased to make the following order in pursuance of the award made by the said Sri P. R. Mukherjee, Additional District Judge, with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Sri P. R. Mukherjee, Additional District Judge, shall bind the Company and its workmen aforesaid as specified therein.

ANNEXURE.

Matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Caltex (India), Ltd., 22, Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta, and their employees in connection with the case of Sri Balai Chand Gupta, 7/1, Radha Kanta Jew Street, Calcutta.

By: SRI P. R. MUKHERJEE, Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

Company: Sri S. C. Sen, Advocate, and Sri J. K. Ghose, Pleader.

Employee: Sri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate.

AWARD.

Government order No. 4045Lab., dated the 8th November 1948, the above dispute was referred to me for adjudication.

The case is over the discharge of an employee Sri Balai Chand Gupta who was a City Sales Representative of Messrs. Caltex (India), Ltd., and a whole-time employee of the above concern. It is alleged that he was rewarded by the Company with a Service Medal and was given an increment of pay of Rs. 105 per month from 1948.

When the employee was working as a City Sales Representative, pressure was, it is so alleged, put upon him by the Section Manager Mr. Downing to do some favour to one Rajgariah Brothers who were one of the new distributors brought to the field through the patronage of Mr. Downing. Sri Gupta alleges that he refused to give preference to Rajgariah Brothers and fell into their bad book. Later on, a case was formed against Sri Gupta by Mr. Downing in collaboration with Rajgariah Brothers to injure and damage the integrity of Sri Gupta. Rajgariah Brothers, however, succeeded in getting the minor son of Sri Gupta aged 9 years to sign a document by cajole which Rajgariah Brothers wanted to display as a proof of Sri Gupta's private business in the city. Sri Gupta alleges against such surreptitious conduct of the Rajgariah Brothers when all on a sudden a notice of termination of employment was served on him from 13th July 1948. Sri Gupta prays for reinstatement with effect from the date of termination of service under the same conditions.

The Company states that Sri Gupta had been dismissed after due enquiry into his conduct amounted to malpractice as the Company learnt that he had been carrying on private business and was not devoting his whole-time energy for the service of the Company. It is alleged that a confidential report from Rajgariah Brothers was received by the Company alleging inter alia that Sri Balai Chand Gupta utilising his position as the Company's Sales Representative, induced that firm to sell on certain occasions diverse quantities of oil to one Eastern Oil Distributing Company on credit and the report further stated that Sri Balai Chand Gupta was the real proprietor of the said Oil Distributing Company and that he had been carrying on the said business in benamu. The Company made a thorough enquiry into the matter and was satisfied about the truth of the allegations and as such he had been discharged from service.

Issues.

1. Is Sri Balai Chand Gupta, a workman as contemplated under section 2(5) of the Industrial Disputes Act?
2. Assuming that he is a workman, is the dispute relating to his dismissal an industrial dispute under section 2(a) of the Act?
3. Was Balai Chand Gupta wrongfully dismissed by the Company as alleged?
4. Can he claim to be reinstated, if not, can he claim compensation?

Issue No. 1.

The written statement in this case has been filed by Sri B. C. Gupta who is not represented by any Union nor by any representative of the employees. In the written statement, he never mentioned that he was representative of any Union or of the employees of Caltex (India), Ltd. On the other hand, he stated that no Union was formed and registered in Caltex (India), Ltd. No evidence is advanced before this Tribunal that any other employee is interested in the dispute which is in existence between Sri Balai Chand Gupta and the Company over the question of his discharge. Nor it is clear if the employees of Caltex (India), Ltd., authorised Sri B. C. Gupta to represent them in this case or to take up this case on their behalf as provided under clause 4(b) of rule 3 of the rules under Industrial Disputes Act.

It is also admitted by Sri B. C. Gupta that he was a Sales Representative and his principal duties were enumerated in paragraph 3 of the written statement of the Company which shows that his duties were purely of supervisory nature. This is not disputed. It is thus clear that he was not employed to do any manual or clerical work. Consequently he is not a workman who is entitled to and can be given any relief under the Industrial Disputes Act.

The expression "clerk" has not been defined in the Industrial Disputes Act but it has come to be interpreted by Sir H. V. Divatia in the Reference between Certain Banking Companies and their employees and it has been there observed that "A clerk is generally a person who does routine work of writing, copying or making calculations under the direction and supervision of an officer. A person whose work is of purely supervisory or technical nature is not a clerk." Sri Gupta's work was of a purely supervisory nature and as such he was not a clerk and consequently he was not a "workman" within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act. So his case is not maintainable on this preliminary point.

Issue No. 2.

It is next urged by the Company that the dispute between Sri B. C. Gupta and the Company is not an industrial dispute as contemplated in the Act on the ground that Sri B. C. Gupta after his discharge, is not a workman under the Industrial Disputes Act. The dispute over the question of Sri Balai Chand Gupta arose after his discharge.

Consequently Sri B. C. Gupta, not being a workman who was discharged during any pending dispute, is not entitled to raise any dispute and to get it referred under the Industrial Disputes Act to any Tribunal. The present dispute was caused by the discharge of Balai Chand Gupta and it did not arise during any pending dispute between the Company and its employees. The Hon'ble Chief Justice of Calcutta High Court in the case of Indian Paper Pulp Co., Ltd., and the Indian Paper Pulp Workers' Union in considering the Company's plea that the dispute between the Company and its discharged workmen is not an industrial dispute held as follows—"A dispute must be between employers and workmen and not between employer and dismissed workmen though an exception is made in the definition of 'workman' in the case of workmen discharged during a dispute. If a dispute has commenced and during such dispute workmen are discharged, a dispute between such discharged workmen and their employers will be industrial dispute.....If the discharge caused the dispute then obviously a dispute has not arisen until the moment or after the discharge." There is no evidence that any industrial dispute between the employees and the Company was pending at the time when Sri B. C. Gupta was discharged and inasmuch as the present dispute relating to his discharge arose after the discharge of Sri Gupta and in fact was caused by the said discharge, in my considered opinion, therefore, it is not an industrial dispute which can be considered by the Tribunal. The issue is answered accordingly.

Issues Nos. 3 and 4.

On a preliminary point I already held that this dispute is not at all cognisable by the Tribunal and as such it would be simply academical to go into the merits of the case. However, I shall now examine the merits of the contention of Sri Gupta and if he had fallen a victim to an intrigue of Mr. Downing and Rajgariah Brothers.

The case of Sri Gupta is that one Rajgariah Brothers, a new distributor under the Caltex and the Section Manager Mr. Downing, bore a grudge against Sri Gupta and got him wrongfully discharged. The allegations on analysis are—

(a) Mr. Downing pressed for booking all orders to one of the three distributors named Rajgariah Brothers, Ltd., but on his refusal to do so, and on his distribution of the same fairly amongst all the three distributors, both Mr. Downing and Rajgariah Brothers got annoyed with Sri Gupta.

(b) Mr. Downing was responsible for selling diesel oil surreptitiously against the policy of the Fuel Advisory Committee in a manner which brought about a "wild" situation in the market. Sri Gupta had the audacity to bring this fact to the notice of the District Authorities against the anarchical activities of Mr. Downing.

(c) Mr. Mayne, the Sales Manager, after the complaint of Sri Gupta against Mr. Downing, directed Sri Gupta to enquire into the matter and a report had been submitted against Mr. Downing. Mr. Downing felt very much offended and after the transfer of Mr. Mayne, had been on the lookout to remove Sri Gupta from the field.

(d) Rajgariah Brothers made a clique with Mr. Downing to disrepute and damage the integrity of Sri Gupta and induced his minor son aged 9 years to sign a document by cajole and on his protesting against this surreptitious conduct of Rajgariah Brothers, Ltd., his services were terminated.

The Company, on the other hand, denied all his allegations and stated that the Company received a confidential information that Sri Gupta was carrying on an unauthorised and illegal business in the name of Eastern Oil Distributing Company and utilising his position as Sales Representative of Caltex, had been carrying on shady transaction through the newly started concern. On the basis of the confidential report from two high officials of the Company who were deputed to enquire into the matter, the Company came to the conclusion that no confidence could be placed on Sri Gupta and as such they discharged him on payment of one month's pay according to the terms of contract of service and practice under the Company.

It is clear from the confidential report which was placed before me that Sri Gupta was surreptitiously carrying on business in the name of Eastern Oil Distributing Company and that was devoting some time to this unauthorised business.

The Company has placed evidence before the Tribunal to substantiate the charge against Sri Gupta—the Company has placed the material evidence, namely, the letter of Rajgariah Brothers Ltd., which is the basis of the charge. The District Manager Mr. Abbott considered the matter and was of opinion that Sri Gupta could not be entrusted with work which he was given and subsequently discharged him. No reason is suggested why Mr. Abbott and Mr. Sopher went against him. Not a whisper is said against Mr. Sopher and Mr. Abbott and it cannot be presumed why they should submit an adverse and baseless report against Sri Gupta. The Company has also adduced evidence to the effect that Sri Gupta was carrying on such business himself in the name of Eastern Oil Distributing Company and that this Company's office was situated in Sri Gupta's house and that a chalan of the Company was received and signed by Sri Gupta and his son.

Sri Gupta wanted to prove that this Company owned by one Benoy Krishna Kundu (Choudhury), but neither Benoy Krishna nor his officers could give any satisfactory reason why Benoy Krishna Choudhury used the room of Sri Gupta in their own office and house. Besides no municipal license or Sales Tax Book could be produced to show that it was a genuine business. It is clear that Sri Gupta had been neglecting his own duties by devoting his time to the unauthorised business although under the terms of contract of service, he is supposed to be the wholetime servant of the Company. The Company has also placed evidence to the effect that since April 1948 the petrol sales in the zones of Sri Gupta had considerably declined presumably owing to his not paying proper attention.

Regarding the allegations of Sri Gupta against Rajgariah Brothers cajoling his minor son at inducing him to sign documents, I believe it is a cock and bull story. Even Sri Gupta in his deposition did not utter a single word about the cajoling. The allegations are of a sweeping nature without any basis. There is another important point which is to be noted here. In this case, the Company has adduced strong evidence to prove that Sri Gupta was a man on whom the Company could not place full reliance and as such the discharge was in the course of normal administration of the Company. All the Tribunals are practically unanimous in holding that if the workmen are discharged for their Union activities, then and there only the Tribunal should interfere. The following cases may be referred as an authority on this point:—

(a) Fort Gloster Jute Mills (Calcutta Gazette, 4th September 1947).

(b) India Jute Mills (Calcutta Gazette, 18th November 1947).

(c) Calcutta Insurance Association (Calcutta Gazette, 2nd September 1948).

(e) Bengal Chemical and Pharmaceutical Works Ltd. (Calcutta Gazette, 18th January 1949).

in United Mills (Industrial Court Volume 3, July to September, page 360).

Following pertinent observations reported in Industrial Court Reporter at page 366, July to September 1948, are significant:—"Employees are not to be discharged by management for reasons other than reasons stated by the management. If they will have to prove that they are not fit in order to break the Trade Union and the unity of the workers and to bring about a movement and that it was an unfair practice." If this is proved, then and then the employees will be reinstated. In my opinion the question is not whether the reason stated by the management is true or otherwise. The material is to show that it was a mere pretext and that the real reason was that the management wanted to victimise the leading employees. The employer, in the ordinary course of business, has the right to discharge an employee for acts amounting to misconduct, but not for other reasons including reason that an employee has no confidence on a particular employee. Judging the facts and circumstances, it is not on merits, Sri Gupta has got no case to state and from the evidence adduced by the Company, I am quite satisfied that the conduct of the employee was not loyal and his activities were not in the interest of the Company and as such he will be doing gross injustice to the Company if I do not reinstate Sri Gupta on them. This is a case which is maintainable both on fact and law and as such the issues are answered against the employee. The discharge was connected with misconduct on the part of the employee and as such no question of compensation can arise.

AWARD.

By order No. 4263Lab. of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, dated the 26th November 1948, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Das Brothers and their employees in connection with the cases of ten discharged employees has been referred to me for adjudication. The names of the ten discharged employees are (1) Sri Prokash Chandra Roy, (2) Sri Ganga Prosad Dey, (3) Sri Nepal Chandra Ghosh, (4) Sri Panchanan Kar, (5) Sri Madan Gopal Das, (6) Sri Dulal Chandra Pal, (7) Sri Kartick Chandra Dey, (8) Sri Lakshman Chandra De, (9) Sri Dulal Chandra Ghosh and (10) Sri Bejoy Kumar Das. It transpired at the hearing that six of these discharged employees have since been taken in by the Management of the Press on their original salary and allowances. Hence the dispute is limited to the cases of (1) Sri Bejoy Kumar Das, (2) Prokash Chandra Roy, (3) Ganga Prosad Dey and (4) Lakshman Chandra De.

The only point for adjudication in this present case is whether the aforesaid four workmen are entitled to be reinstated, if so, on what terms. An issue was raised by the Press Employees' Association as to what should be the terms and conditions of service of these workmen if they are reinstated. Before the hearing of the present case commenced there was a reference in general terms for adjudication of the disputes between the present Press and their employees, which included terms and conditions of service of the employees under the Press.

The Press Employees' Association alleges that the employers not having implemented the award of the general Tribunal given in respect of 169 Printing Presses which was published on 11th May 1948, the Association served a printed notice on the employers demanding implementation of the award. In the notice it was made clear that in the event of employers' failure to comply with the demands of the Association within 15 days, the employees would take recourse to lawful actions to safeguard their interests. It has been further alleged that since service of this notice, the employers threatened with physical violence and dismissal those employees who took active part as members of the Association in the submission of the charter of demands and in holding out the threat of strike. The Union's case is that Bejoy Kumar Das, a machineman, was taken away from his house on 19th August 1948 at about 10 p.m. by Sri Kanai Lal Das, one of the partners, to the office and was assaulted in the office room on the suspicion that he had led all workers to the Union and had been creating unrest. The question was reported to the local Police in the same night and Bejoy Kumar Das was discharged on 4th October 1948. Prokash Chandra Roy, a Block Printer, was absent for only one day on 17th September 1948 on account of illness. He is said to have been discharged on 18th September 1948 for the simple reason that he failed to produce a medical certificate at his own expense to explain his absence. Lakshman Chandra De, a Board Cutter, and Ganga Ram De, a Seat Man in the Box Department, were discharged on the ground that the room in which the Box Department was accommodated had to be vacated in compliance with the decree of ejectment passed by the Court of Small Causes, Calcutta, although the room was not actually vacated and has all along been in possession of the Press. It has been alleged that the employers started a criminal case under section 107, Cr. P. C., against Prokash Chandra Roy and Lakshman Chandra De and two others on false grounds.

The employers deny to have assaulted Bejoy Kumar Das as alleged and pleaded that he was discharged for perfectly valid ground following repeated warnings for wilful disobedience, insubordination and absence from duty without sufficient reasons and subversive activities calculated to undermine the morale of the workers. The employers deny to have discharged Prokash Chandra Roy. According to them, one of the partners called for a medical certificate from Prokash Chandra Roy to explain his absence and Prokash Chandra Roy voluntarily left his job.

Lakshman Chandra De and Gangaram Dey along with six others of the Card Box Department had to be discharged on the ground that the Management had to vacate the room in which the Card Box Department was accommodated. But these workers were given the assurance that they would be re-employed in the event the department was reopened. In fact the department was reopened after a month and the old employees were recalled by notice issued to them personally as also by a notification published in the Ananda Bazar Patrika. Six of these employees who could turn up in time were re-employed on their original salary and allowances. As Lakshman Chandra De and Ganga Ram De did not turn up as notified they could not be taken in and a new man had to be appointed in their place. Prokash Chandra Roy and Lakshman Chandra De along with others are said to have threatened to do wilful damage and loss to the property of Messrs. Das Brothers. This led to the case under section 107, Cr. P. C., against them. They, however, had given a written undertaking to keep the peace, the proceedings were dropped.

I now take up the cases of the four employees Bejoy Kumar Das, Prokash Chandra Roy, Lakshman Chandra De and Ganga Prosad Dey.

Bejoy Kumar Das—He appears to have left office on 28th September 1948 corresponding to 12th Aswin 1355 B.S. after midday recess. He left an application in which he stated that he had been suffering from a pain in the chest and had been feeling feverish in the afternoon and that he had consulted a doctor who had advised him to get him examined in the Medical College and to have his blood tested. He prayed for leave for two or three days and undertook to file a medical certificate on the day on which he would return to duty. He had been absent since the afternoon of 28th September 1948 and on the 4th October 1948 the Press terminated his services on and from the midday of 28th September 1948 on the ground that he had been absent without notice and had been guilty of repeated misconduct for which he had been given several warnings. Bejoy Kumar Das appears to have obtained a certificate from Dr. Kamala Kanta (Ghosh, M.B. (Regd. No. 12897) in which the doctor stated that Bejoy Das had been suffering from Influenza since 29th September 1948 and was under his treatment and had been advised rest for the period. This doctor also appears to have prescribed some medicine for Bejoy Kumar Das on 29th September 1948 and this prescription was served on the same day by the New Simla Pharmacy. Previous to this Bejoy Kumar Das appears to have left office after midday recess of the 4th Aswin and to have been absent on the 28th and 29th Bhadra. On neither of these two occasions Bejoy Kumar Das did make any written application. For his absence on the 4th he submitted a written explanation on a lat. His explanation was that he had a pain stomach and had intimated his ailment to the partners of the Press and that the said did not raise any objection. That Bejoy Das intimated his ailment to one of the has not been denied. About his absence 28th and 29th Bhadra he appears to have sent a written explanation in which it was stated he had received an urgent telegram from inform him that his daughter has been ill. He was asked to produce that urgent telegram by the Manager by a letter, dated 18th September 1948. It was made clear in that letter that event of his failure to produce this urgent telegram he would be considered to have been at those days meaning thereby that he would be considered to have been on leave on those two days. The Attendance Register shows that he was absent on those two days. Obviously he cannot produce the telegram. The Management cannot believe that he was ill as alleged in his application of 28th September 1948. In the notice the claims to have ample proof of the falsity of Kumar Das's statement made in the application of 28th September 1948, and it was said that Kumar Das had all along been seen loitering and there without the least sign of any illness. There is no evidence worth the name on this and I cannot persuade myself to believe the statement of the partners in preference to a medical certificate and the prescription which appear to have been served by a dispensary. The evidence of Bejoy Kumar Das about the date he called the doctor does not agree with that mentioned in the medical certificate. This discrepancy may be due to lapse of memory, and I am inclined to attach undue importance to this discrepancy. Bejoy Kumar Das's absence in the noon of the 4th Aswin cannot also be explained by any false pretext. His absence on the 28th and 29th Bhadra was condoned. He was directed to produce the telegram but as he failed, his absence was not considered as leave.

The Company claims to have adopted the award which was given in respect of 169 Presses with effect from 2nd Aswin 1351 B.S. Press must have adopted the Standing Orders which were part of the award. Rule 13(d) of the Standing Orders clearly lays down that no order of discharge shall be made unless the workman concerned is informed in writing the alleged misconduct and given an opportunity to explain the circumstances alleged against him. But no such step was taken by the employers. The Management should have started an enquiry as to whether the plea of illness was false but nothing was done. The violation of the Standing Orders and is an instance of unfair labour practice. Bejoy Kumar Das undertook in his application for leave to produce a medical certificate when he would return to duty. The Management did not care to wait till Bejoy Kumar Das returned to duty. No explanation was offered for this indecent haste. On the other hand the Union's case is that he was discharged for Union activities. This is also corroborated by evidence on record. The uncorroborated testimony of the partner Kunai Lal De is that Bejoy Kumar Das dissuaded the workmen from doing overtime work. The Attendance Register, on the other hand, shows that Bejoy Kumar Das himself worked on Sundays and on weekdays outside the regular working hours. The Union's case is that the Management of the Press had an impression that Bejoy Kumar Das had been leading the workmen to the Union. This is also corroborated by suggestion which the Management threw out against Bejoy Kumar Das as to whether he wrote applications for other workmen. There was another charge against Bejoy Kumar Das. Prokash oy was absent on 17th September 1948. In September 1948 when Prokash Chandra Roy's office, one of the partners enquired if he had been absent. On his pleading that he had been absent, he was asked to produce a doctor's certificate. Bejoy Kumar Das is said to have produced a letter and referred Prokash Chandra Roy to the Press Employees' Association. This fact was mentioned in a letter, dated 18th September 1948, by the Press to the Secretary of the Press Employees' Association. In the absence of evidence as to what had happened, I am not in a position to make any remark either way. The conduct of Bejoy Kumar Das amounted to a breach of trust, the charge should have been made to him and an explanation obtained. He should have been warned for this act of insubordination. In any case this was condoned.

The Company was not a party to the award in respect of 169 Printing Presses. The award was published in the Presses. The Company had agitated for implementation of the award.

The Company's case is that the Press Employees' Association had asked the Company and the Union to settle the disputes among themselves. The representatives of the Press Employees' Association met the partners of the Press, discussed the award and on the 20th August 1948, the Secretary of the Press Employees' Association wrote to Kanai Lal Das, one of the partners of the Press, stating therein the terms of the award between the said partner on behalf of the Company and the Assistant Secretary of the Press Employees' Association. On 20th August 1948, the Company wrote to 4th Bhadra 1355 B.S. According to the employers, there was an agreement between the employers and the employees on the 8th Bhadra.

Signatures of the employees were on the agreement. The evidence of the Company is that this was represented to be in the award. The employers, on the other hand, contend that this agreement was entered into between the employers and the employees themselves. The suggestion of the Office-bearers of the Press Employees' Association who had asked them to settle the disputes among themselves. Evidence led that in the discussion between the Press Employees' Association and the partners of the Press, nothing had been settled. The Company claimed that the agreement—called as it is called—was read over and signed by the workmen and that they put their signatures as token of their agreement to the terms.

Charan Bhodak, a workman of the Press, is not a member of the Press Employees' Association. His signature has been examined for the employers. His testimony is that the workmen expressed their agreement with the terms of the Chuktipatra in the very afternoon of the day on which it was adopted before them. There is no evidence to the effect that the letter of the Press Employees' Association dated 20th August 1948. On receipt of the letter, the Company wrote to the Secretary of the Press Employees' Association to contact the Press Owners' Association which had been asked by the Company to deal with the case.

The Company dated 21st August 1948. In view of the facts, it cannot be believed that there was an agreement between the employers and the employees which was not in line with the award. In the Chuktipatra, dearness allowance is Rs. 20. Sri S. N. Guha Roy, Secretary of the Press Owners' Association was called as a witness by the Company and he gives evidence in support of the Chuktipatra. His evidence is that the partners have adopted the award of the 169 Presses and previous to this there was an agreement between the Company and the Press Employees' Association. Then again the workers' objection and the Company adopted the award. He could not remember to have seen any document like the Chuktipatra which has been submitted. Ext. C. In the letter which Messrs. Das Brothers had written to him to inform about the settlement, dearness allowance was mentioned to be of Rs. 22 and the minimum pay according to the award. It is regrettable that a responsible firm like Messrs. Das Brothers could take recourse to such unfair means. They concealed the real agreement, took signatures of the employees on a document representing it to be the real agreement. The workers were not satisfied and started agitation. To stop this agitation the Company might have picked up Bejoy Kumar Das for victimisation.

Although I feel that Bejoy Kumar Das was dismissed as an unfair labour practice, I am constrained under circumstances of the present case to refrain from giving any direction for his reinstatement. Bejoy Kumar Das appears to have lodged an information to the Bartala police-station in the night of 18th August 1948 alleging that he had been assaulted by Kanailal Das, one of the partners of the Press when he had demanded payment of his wages due. The Press Employees' Association alleged in the written statement that the incident took place in the night of 19th August 1948. Bejoy Kumar Das remembers that the incident took place in the night following a Thursday, 18th August 1948 was a Wednesday. Bejoy Kumar Das's evidence is that he was called from his residence by one Mritunjoy Hye to the Office where he was assaulted. After he was let off he at once ran to the house of another workman. The three went to the Bartala police-station where he lodged an information. He was referred by the Police to the Court and to a doctor. Bejoy Kumar Das says that he had a pain in the neck and he consulted a doctor the next morning. But neither Mritunjoy Hye nor the other workman who had accompanied him to the thana nor the doctor had been examined. I cannot believe that if really Bejoy Kumar Das had been assaulted by one of the partners he continued in the employ of the partners for about a month and a half. Bejoy Kumar Das does not appear to have been a straight man. Both the employers and Bejoy Kumar Das were not pulling on well. The employers appear to have on the look out how they could get rid of Bejoy Kumar Das. Bejoy Kumar Das appears to have been attempting to bring the partners of the Press to discredit. I cannot believe the alleged incident which was the basis of the entry in the General Diary of the Bartala police-station, dated 18th September 1948. It was a deliberate attempt on the part of Bejoy Kumar Das to bring the partners of the Press to discredit. Considering these facts, I cannot persuade myself to direct reinstatement of Bejoy Kumar Das. The entry in the Police Diary was possibly meant to be used as a shield when the employers were on the offensive. Now that the feelings of the two parties against each other have been laid bare, it is desirable that the relationship of master and servant between the parties should cease, for such a relationship can no longer subsist with peace. I accordingly direct that Bejoy Kumar Das shall be paid one month's wages and dearness allowance in lieu of notice to which he was entitled before his service could be terminated.

Prokash Chandra Roy—Prokash Chandra Roy was not discharged. The employers only made an enquiry as to why he was absent and when he pleaded illness he was asked to produce a medical certificate. It is not a fact that he was discharged because he could not produce the medical certificate. He says that he did not consult any medical man for such short illness. The evidence is that he ran to the Press Employees' Association when he was asked to produce a medical certificate. The Press Employees' Association wrote to Sri S. N. Guha Roy on this point. The Press Employees' Association had sent the letter to Sri S. N. Guha Roy through Prokash Chandra Roy. But Prokash Chandra Roy did not care to see Sri S. N. Guha Roy. But however Sri S. N. Guha Roy talked with the partners of the Press on the phone and the partners were agreeable to take back Prokash Chandra Roy, because they had not dismissed him. Prokash Chandra Roy did not turn up. The question of reinstatement does not come in and I direct that he should be dismissed forthwith without any compensation if he had not been dismissed already.

Lakshman Chandra De and Ganga Prosad Dey—The evidence is that one section of the Box Department of the Press was accommodated in a room in 15B, Garanhatta Street. The Press had rented the room from one Harinarayan Babu who had taken settlement of the entire house from the owner Sri Chandi Charan Das. Chandi Charan Das obtained a decree for ejectment against Harinarayan Babu and the evidence is that vacant possession had to be delivered to the landlord on 30th September 1948. One Subal Chandra Sarcar took lease of the house from the landlord and the Press secured the room again from Subal Chandra Sarcar. Before delivering vacant possession of the house, Harinarayan Babu served a notice upon the Press requiring it to vacate the room on or before the 30th September 1948. The Press decided to wind up the Box Department and to vacate the room. All the employers were apprised of the situation and their services were terminated with proper notice. In the notice the workers were given the assurance that they would be reappointed if the department were reopened. And in fact when the department was reopened, the workers were recalled by individual letters and a notification was published in the Ananda Bazar Patrika. In the letters that were addressed to the workers they were asked to turn up by 3rd November 1948. As all the workers did not turn up by 3rd November 1948, a notification was published in the Ananda Bazar Patrika of the 6th November 1948 inviting the workers to rejoin. But Lakshman and Ganga Prosad did not turn up. They are not accordingly entitled to any relief in this case. The partners of the Press did all that could be expected of them to recall the discharged workers. The notices were sent on a postal certificate and a notification was duly published in the newspaper. If the notice did not really reach any workman or if the workman did not look up the notification in the newspaper, the fault was not of the employers. I cannot, therefore, direct reinstatement of Ganga Prosad Dey and Lakshman Chandra De.

It appears that the employers started a criminal case against Prokash Chandra Roy and Lakshman Chandra De and two others under section 107, Cr. P. C. The employers speak of some incidents as basis of the criminal case. The criminal case appears to have been compromised and the workmen appear to have given an undertaking to keep the peace. Lakshman Chandra De and Prokash Chandra Roy say that they were not aware of the terms of compromise except that they were informed by their pleader that the case would be compromised and they would be reinstated. The pleader has not been examined in this case. A discussion of the incidents which are said to have been the basis of the criminal case is irrelevant in the present case. I do not propose to discuss the evidence on this point.

In the result, I reject the demand of the Press Employees' Association for reinstatement of the four workmen, Bejoy Kumar Das, Prokash Chandra Roy, Lakshman Chandra De and Ganga Prosad Dey. Bejoy Kumar Das shall, however, be paid one month's salary and dearness allowance as compensation within a month from the date of publication of this award in lieu of notice to which he was entitled before his services were terminated.

For the Company: Sri S. C. Sen, Advocate and Sri J. K. Ghose, Pleader.

For the Union: Sri D. L. Sen Gupta, Pleader.

AWARD.

By Government of West Bengal, Department of Labour, order No. 820Lab., dated 24th February 1949, this industrial dispute between the Eastern Manufacturing Co., Ltd., Titagarh, 24-Parganas, Managing Agents: Messrs. McLeod and Co., and their workmen represented by the Eastern Manufacturing Co. Employees' Union, in connection with the case of a female worker named Gulabiah, has been referred to me as an Industrial Tribunal for adjudication. The case of the Union is that one Ram Parikha Singh who is sardar of the Twisting Department in the factory made improper overtures to the female worker Gulabiah who refused to respond, and the sardar being indignant, brought on that account brought about her discharge.

December 1948 by setting up a false case, action of the Company in discharging Gulabia on false and groundless grounds amounted to an unfair labour practice. The Union has prayed that Gulabia may be re-instated and be paid compensation for the period of non-employment. The statement incorporated the case of another worker named Hari, but as the Commission does not find any place in the Government order of reference, Hari's case cannot be taken into consideration by this Tribunal. As regards Gulabia, her case is that she was discharged by the Company without any enquiry and without getting himself after adequate enquiry and without the worker's service record on the part of a supervisor, and the twisting sardar Ram Parikha Singh had no hand in the matter, and the management never received any complaint from Gulabia about the alleged immoral conduct on the part of the twisting sardar. The Commission further is that Gulabia was guilty of immoral conduct as she had not corrected herself she was dismissed on 2nd December 1948, and she was guilty of unseemingly behaviour in coming to the factory on the following day and persisting in staying near her place of work for several days in spite of warnings given to her by the management for leaving the factory inasmuch as no special provisions had been dispensed with. It is stated that the police had to be informed about the discipline in which Gulabia continued to work. On the statements submitted by the parties the following issue has been framed:—

1. Gulabia be reinstated and be paid compensation? If so, on what basis?

This case has been conducted by the Union in a very curious manner. The order of reference issued by me on 25th February 1949, and in which I was asked to file its written statement by 1st March 1949. On the latter date the Commission made an appearance, but no one appeared for the Union. The President of the Union telephoned me that he was ill and had not been able to attend the matter and asked for a week's extension. The President's request over the telephone fixed 15th March 1949 to enable the Union to file its written statement. The written statement was filed and I fixed 24th March 1949 for the Union to file its statement in reply. On the latter date the Company filed its statement but no one appeared for the Union. On perusal of the statements of the two sides I framed the issue, and a record to be put up on 25th March 1949, and a date of hearing in the hope that some day on behalf of the Union might happen to make an appearance to enable me to fix a date of hearing convenient to both sides. The learned pleader for the Union appeared at 4 p.m. in the latter part of 4th March 1949, and a copy of the Commission's statement was made over to him and the case was asked to be put up in presence of both sides on the following day. On 25th March 1949 both sides appeared and they were informed that the case would be heard on 29th April 1949 and both sides should produce evidence, if any, on that date. On 29th April 1949 lawyers on behalf of the Company appeared with witnesses. But no one appeared for the Union. I waited up to 12 noon in the hope that some one on behalf of the Union might turn up to ascertain the position. No one for the Union made any enquiry even over the telephone. It was apparent that the Union was taking no interest in this case and there was no evidence to be produced or arguments to be advanced on the part of the Union. Under these circumstances I proceeded to take the evidence on the part of the Company and examined the factory manager and the supervisor concerned. I also examined the service record of Gulabia, the discharge order issued on 2nd December 1948, and the letter written by the factory manager to the police on 3rd December 1948. As the Union has declined to produce any evidence or even to examine Gulabia to enable her to state her case, there is really no evidence before me in respect of the case put forward by the Union. The service record of the female worker indicates that she was occasionally guilty of doing her work badly since 1946 and occasional fines had been imposed on her and she had also been warned. On 2nd December 1948 a bobbin containing samples of her bad twisting work was detected by the supervisor and he took it to the manager who had Gulabia brought before him and who questioned her and Gulabia simply begged to be excused and did not give any further explanation, and did not say a word about the immoral proposals alleged to have been made to her by the twisting sardar Ram Parikha Singh. The manager and the supervisor are quite positive that they never heard about the alleged immoral proposals before the present case was talked about. As Gulabia has not been produced before me and I have not had any opportunity of ascertaining her version or subjecting her to cross-examination or of watching her demeanour, the position is that there is no evidence to establish the proposition sought to be made out by the Union to the effect that Gulabia was discharged out of an ulterior motive and not for legitimate reasons in the interest of the production carried on in the factory. I am satisfied that there is nothing to indicate that the action taken by the Company in dispensing with the service of Gulabia amounted to an unfair labour practice, and I see no reason to interfere with the action taken by the management in the interest of the production of the factory and for the maintenance of proper discipline. I come to the conclusion, therefore, that this is not a case in which I can properly pass any order of reinstatement or compensation. I make my Award accordingly.

Calcutta, the 4th April 1949.

By order of the Governor,

ORDER.

No. 1755Lab.—9th April 1949.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 437Lab., dated the 31st January 1949, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Gilanders Arbuthnot and Co., 8, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta, and their employees in connection with the case of Sri Topendra Kumar Bose, 3, Chandi Bose Lane, Belliaghata, Calcutta, was referred for adjudication to Sri S. K. Haldar, I.C.S.;

And whereas the said Sri S. K. Haldar, I.C.S., has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Sri S. K. Haldar, I.C.S., shall bind the Company and their workmen aforesaid as specified therein.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Gillanders Arbuthnot & Co., and their employees in connection with the case of Sri Topendra Kumar Bose, 3, Chandi Bose Lane, Belliaghata, Calcutta.

PRESENT: SRI S. K. HALDAR, I.C.S., Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company—Sri S. C. Sen, Advocate, Sri J. K. Ghosh, Pleader, for Orr, Dignam & Co.

For the Union—Sri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate, instructed by Sri Topendra Kumar Bose.

AWARD.

This industrial dispute between Messrs. Gillanders Arbuthnot & Co., 8, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta, and Sri Topendra Kumar Bose, 3, Chandi Bose Lane, Belliaghata, Calcutta, was referred to me under the Industrial Disputes Act under sections 7 and 10 for adjudication.

The case of the employee Sri Topendra Kumar Bose was that he served for about 7 years as the Store-keeper of Charanpur Magazine, that on the 18th of September 1947, his services were dispensed with without any reason by the Company's letter, dated 16th September 1947, that his pay was Rs. 55 per mensem, plus dearness allowance of Rs. 25 per mensem and house allowance of Rs. 15 per mensem. His prayer was for reinstatement and for recovery of his commission due for the period July to 18th September 1947.

The case of the employer Company Messrs. Gillanders Arbuthnot & Co. was inter alia that Sri Topendra Kumar Bose was not a workman as contemplated under section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act, that the Company had been receiving complaints extending over a period of more than a year from its clients making allegations about Sri Topendra Kumar Bose's honesty and fair-deal, that the Company made necessary enquiries which disclosed some suspicious circumstances indicating that the allegations were not unfounded, that the Company gave Sri Topendra Kumar Bose several warnings and that as the dealings and conduct of Sri Topendra Kumar Bose did not improve in spite of repeated warnings the Company on receipt of further complaints had no other alternative than to discharge the said Sri Topendra Kumar Bose.

Several issues were framed and this matter was heard at length on each of the issues. Both sides examined some witnesses and at the time of argument of this case both sides fortunately came to a compromise. Both parties agreed that the management is to pay to Sri Topendra Kumar Bose Rs. 405 as his total dues on account of commission for past services and Sri Topendra Kumar Bose withdrew all his other claims. The amount of Rs. 405 was paid to Sri Topendra Kumar Bose in my presence by cheque No. OD/10 66201, dated 1st April 1949, and both parties submitted to me by a petition that there is no longer any dispute pending between them and in this view of the facts I find that there is no dispute left for adjudication. I make my award accordingly.

S. K. HALDAR,
Chairman, Industrial Tribunal.

The 1st April, 1949.

By order of the Governor,
D. S. P. MUKHERJEE, Jt. Secy.

ORDER.

Rodda & Co (Gun Makers, Armourers and Boat Builders) Wellesley Place, Calcutta-1, and its employees in connection with the case of Sri Dhirendra Kumar Guha, an employee of the Company, of 5/2 Rajballav Street, Calcutta, was referred for adjudication to Sri S. C. Chakravarti, Additional District Judge;

And whereas the said Sri S. C. Chakravarti, Additional District Judge, has given the award shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 read with sub-section (3) of section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Government is pleased to make the following order and to give effect thereto with reference to section 17 of the said Act:—

The award made by the said Sri S. C. Chakravarti, Additional District Judge, shall bind the Company and their workmen aforesaid as specified therein and shall remain in force for a period of one year with effect from the date of publication of the award.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of the industrial dispute between Messrs. R. B. Rodda & Co., Ltd. Gun Makers, Armourers and Boat Builders, Wellesley Place, Calcutta-1, and its employees in connection with the case of Sri Dhirendra Kumar Guha, an employee of the Company, 5/2A, Raja Rajballav Street, Calcutta.

PRESENT:—SRI SAILES CHANDRA CHAKRAVARTI, Chairman of the Tribunal.

Government of West Bengal order No. 572Lab. dated the 9th February 1949, is a direction under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, to adjudicate on the dispute between Messrs. R. B. Rodda & Co., Ltd. (Gun Makers, Armourers and Boat Builders), 2, Wellesley Place, Calcutta-1, and its employees in connection with the case of Sri Dhirendra Kumar Guha, employee of the Company, of 5/2A, Raja Rajballav Street, Calcutta.

Sri Dhirendra Kumar Guha had been an employee of the firm for the last 19 years. On the 1st of October 1948 he received the following letter from the Company:—

"DEAR SIR,

Due to disobedience together with other reasons best known to you, your services are hereby dispensed with from today. You are not required to attend office from tomorrow.

As regards your dues, you may call in the afternoon and settle any time."

Sri Dhirendra Kumar Guha says that he has been a faithful and efficient employee and in recognition of his services, he got an increase of salary to the extent of Rs. 10 only in July 1948. The story told by him is that this was a matter of concern and that it passed on to two Indian gentlemen, H. L. Somany and Sri O. M. Somany from the beginning of the year 1946. It is said that the gentlemen considered the salaries paid to employees extravagant, but did not take any action. Leaving aside matters which are not material, the story is that soon after the increase of salary was given to Sri Dhirendra Kumar Guha, the proprietors, viz., Sri H. L. Somany, asked him to sign a spurious voucher showing expenditure of Rs. 300 spent for wages of labourers.

worked. Sri Dhirendra Kumar Guha says he declined to be a party to this and the matter there. It has been said that this is the dience referred to in the letter by which his s were terminated.

P. K. Sanyal, advocate, appeared for the men but nobody appeared for the Company.

receipt of the reference notices were issued to parties requiring their attendance on 19th May 1949. The notice was served on both s and they signed acknowledgments. On the date Sri Dhirendra Kumar Guha formally red and applied for time and informally one can gentleman together with another gentleman for the Company, but no formal stance was made. The case was adjourned to February 1949 for submission of statement of Dhirendra Kumar Guha. Subsequent to the 26th February was declared a holiday and case was taken up on the next opening date, on the 28th. Sri Dhirendra Kumar Guha submitted his statement, but none appeared for company. The case was adjourned to 7th March 1949 for statement of the Company. No case came for the Company. The case was adjourned to 10th March 1949 and again came for the Company. The case was finally taken up on 17th March 1949 and the company had been absent. This absence of the company need not surprise me as I find from the report of the Labour Commissioner that even at the conciliation proceedings the Company did not go there though requested.

The only question for consideration is whether termination of the services of Sri Dhirendra Kumar Guha involved any unfair labour practice. Evidence of Sri Dhirendra Kumar Guha stands attested that the only act of disobedience was refusal to sign a spurious voucher showing false wages. In the absence of evidence to the contrary I believe this.

The employer can force an employee to commit to be a party to the commission of a felony and punishment for refusal amounts to an unfair labour practice. In my opinion, the termination of services of Sri Dhirendra Kumar Guha has been an instance of unfair labour practice.

It is ordered that Sri Dhirendra Kumar Guha be allowed to service on his own pay and he shall receive salary and other emoluments for the period of work from 8th October 1948 to the date when he was admitted to service. The period of his absence shall be treated as continuous service.

S. C. CHAKRAVARTI,

Chairman of the Tribunal.

ORDER.

No. 1866Lab.—18th April 1949.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department, order No. 3557-Lab., dated the 28th September 1948, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Newman Printing Works, 21, Meredith Lane, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Press Employees' Association, 249B, Bowbazar Street, Calcutta, in connection with the cases of Sukarjan and others mentioned in the list attached with the said order was referred for adjudication to Sri P. R. Mukherji, Additional District Judge;

And whereas the said Sri P. R. Mukherji, Additional District Judge, has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the powers conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 read with sub-section (3) of section 19 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased to make the following order and to direct with reference to section 17 of the said Act that the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

The award made by the said Sri P. R. Mukherji, Additional District Judge, shall bind the Company and their workmen aforesaid as specified therein and shall remain in force for a period of two months with effect from the date of its publication.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Newman Printing Works, 21, Meredith Lane, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Press Employees' Association, 249B, Bowbazar Street, Calcutta, in connection with the cases of Sukarjan and others.

PRESENT: SRI P. R. MUKHERJI, Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Mr. A. M. Kibe, Advocate, Allahabad.

AWARD.

By Government order No. 3557Lab., dated Calcutta, the 28th September 1948, the above dispute had been referred to me for adjudication.

The case of the Union is that on 2nd June 1948 Majid Mahammad, a compositor of the press, was saying prayers as usual when he was abused, kicked and assaulted by Mr. Ramanath, Managing Director of the Company, and that one Sukarjan, inker, put in a mild protest but he was also assaulted after that. The above incident created a tension amongst all the workers and thereupon the said Managing Director compelled all workers to go out and locked the premises before the usual closing time. The premises was also kept closed for two subsequent days which amounted to lock-out as all the workers went to resume their work but had to come away. The workers, however, were allowed to resume employment on 6th June 1948. Notices were served on 33 workers terminating their services. Later on 6 workers out of 33 dismissed workers were taken in as if they were new employees on fresh appointment but at a much reduced rate of wages although most of them had more than twenty years of loyal service to their credit in the same concern. The Union prays for reinstatement of 27 dismissed workers as per list attached to their petition. There is also a prayer for payment of full pay and benefits from the date of dismissal to the date of reinstatement. In the alternative, the prayer was for payment of pension or gratuity in lieu thereof, if these workers are not reinstated.

According to the Company, the alleged assault was sternly denied and it was said that the Company suspended the daily work for three days, i.e., on 3rd June 1948 and 4th June 1948 order to enable them to give effect to the order of the Bengal Association of Masters Printers and Allied Industries. It was further stated that the Company had paid all the workers in full for the period when the daily work was thus suspended as aforesaid. It is also alleged that 6 workers of 33 had since been re-employed and that 27 workers were taken back on their old grade of pay. Regarding discharge of workers, the Company submits that it was deemed necessary and expedient to terminate the services of the 27 workers on financial grounds.

ISSUES.

- (1) Reinstatement of 27 dismissed workers as per list.
- (2) Sanctioning old grade of pay and allowances to the six discharged workers who have been reinstated later on.
- (3) Payment of full wages and benefits from the date of dismissal to the date of reinstatement.
- (4) Payment of pension or gratuity in lieu thereof if not reinstated.

DECISIONS.

Issue No. 1.

The Union alleges that the Managing Director Mr. Ramanath kicked one Majid Mahammad, compositor, while he was saying prayers at 4-15 p.m. On this Sukarjan, inker, protested. Daliluddin Ahmed, Head Clerk, but he was assaulted. There was a tension in the premises and the employees were asked to vacate premises at about 4-40 p.m. Evidence had been adduced both by the Union and the Company on reading between the lines of evidence. To follow why Mr. Ramanath, the Managing Director should all on a sudden kick a man while he was saying his prayers. It is quite unbelievable. I am not inclined to swallow the story that association where more than one-third employees are Mahomedans, the Managing Director should provoke a Moslem employee while he was in prayer. No doubt a complaint was lodged at the thana about the incident but the matter was not pursued further. So, in my opinion, the alleged story of assault is a myth. On reading entire records, it is clear to me that due award already passed in the Printing Presses' industrial disputes cases, the Company in pursuance of the letter of the Association of Masters Printers and Allied Industries had to consider terms of the award and how to implement the same. The award of the Printing Presses' is of vital importance to this concern as well, and such it is no wonder that the Company should close the workshop for two days in order to consider the points raised in the award in a meeting. This was obviously the reason for which the concern had to be closed for two days. What may be, the employees cannot have any grievance on this score for they had been paid full wages for the above two days which can be seen from any view of the matter be deemed to be correct.

Regarding retrenchment of 33 workers, in my opinion, it was a case of bona fide retrenchment and the Company has advanced a very good reason why the workers had been retrenched on 6th June because that was a pay date. If the Company had been maliciously inclined to dismiss the workers after the so-called incident of 2nd June, they could have done it forthwith. At the time of discharge, it is clear all these 33 workers were paid full pay of May plus full wages of June and one month's pay for the arrears. It is true that due to the award of the Printing Presses, the wages and dearness allowances and working hours have all been revised upwards.

of the workers and these necessarily heavy financial burden on this concern the Company had no other option than to the staff to one-sixth. In my opinion, a case of bona fide retrenchment. The Company signally failed to establish that there was any intention on the part of the Company to dismiss the workers for Union activities. In fact, the Union has not been able to establish the case of unfair labour practice and hold that the discharge was made in good faith on a view to effect bona fide retrenchment. It is clear from the fact that the Company has taken back six of the retrenched workers. In any view of the matter, there can be no restoration of the remaining 27 workers. I, however, add that the Company is not to take back these workers in order of if they subsequently make any new claim. The issue is answered accordingly.

Issue No. 2.

It is explained that the six retrenched workers were reinstated with a much lesser pay than they had been earning before. The Company had made a statement which is not challenged by me from which I find that except one worker every other worker is getting higher pay than what they had been drawing prior to discharge. Regarding Md. Abid, the case is that he is most irregular and the Company would have to discharge him for such irregularity. In my opinion, there is no basis of any complaint for deduction of wages in case of the retrenched workers.

Issue No. 3.

It is of the fact that the retrenchment was made and in view of the fact that there is no statement, no question of payment of benefits from the date of dismissal to the reinstatement arises.

Issue No. 4.

The question is if the discharged employees are entitled to any gratuity. The Company urges that it purchased this concern in the hope that it was a profitable one but they found afterwards that no reserve had been created in spite of the fact that the liability of about 4 lakhs relating to the discharge of the employees was prior to the taking over of the Company. The Company urged that they had discovered other liabilities which were not known to them at the time of the purchase. It is further contended that the Company is in danger of going into liquidation, and hence it they had to retrench this staff. It was said that a statement had been produced before me to verify the facts. In my opinion, this Company if it had discovered their liabilities as aforesaid, it would not have forthwith informed their employees that their services would not be considered as continuing and that on discharge if any by the Company, they would not get any gratuity or any other benefit as the previous proprietor of the Company had granted bonus or gratuity and after the discharge the assets and liabilities of its concern, the Company is bound both in law and equity to pay the gratuity or bonus and to the same conditions of service as its predecessor. But no notice to the workers had been given informing that the present Company was bound to accept the terms and conditions of its predecessor. That being so, I am of the opinion that the Company is bound to pay gratuity to the discharged workers. As regards the length of service, etc., the Company has treated the workers as putting in continuous service by treating the old workers in the same manner as before. The Company had not made a balance-sheet to show its correct financial position up-to-date. The Company is not willing to pay some compensation to the discharged workers, on a much smaller scale than is being given by the Industrial Tribunals on the basis of the award given by J. Divatia and also on the basis of the award given by the Major Engineering Tribunal in West Bengal. I am inclined to allow gratuity on the basis of the award of the Major Engineering Tribunal to which I had been a party. No papers were shown to me to establish that the Company is financially incompetent to pay such amount. I, therefore, make an award that gratuity at the rate of one month's pay for last year of service up to a maximum of 15 months' pay calculated on the average monthly pay during the last three years of service should be given. Of course, salary for the purpose of calculating gratuity should be the substantive salary exclusive of allowance. The Company, however, urges that deductions should be made of the amounts paid in 1944 by the predecessor to the employees. But I find that this amount was not paid as gratuity but as bonus, so no deduction should be made as urged. In calculating gratuity, the period of service as mentioned in the Appendix and admitted by the employer should be strictly followed.

The award is to come into force from such date as the Government may be pleased to notify.

Summary of the award.

(1) The workers had been discharged on ground of bona fide retrenchment, as such no restoration is ordered.

(2) Regarding sanctioning old scale of pay and allowance to the 6 discharged workers who had been subsequently reinstated, no order is called for as they are already drawing old grade of pay and allowances.

(3) Gratuity at the scale mentioned in the body of the award is to be paid to the remaining 27 workmen who had been discharged.

The award made by the said Sri P. K. Sarkar, Additional District Judge, shall bind the Company and their workmen aforesaid as specified therein and shall remain in force for a period of two months with effect from the date of its publication.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between the Sun Rolling Mills, 8, Station Road, Lillooh, Howrah, and their workmen represented by the Secretary, Sun Rolling Mill Mazdoor Union, 6, Peary Mohan Mukherji Street, Belur, Howrah.

PRESENT:—SRI P. K. SARKAR, Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Mills—Sri S. P. Ghosh, Advocate.

Present for the Union—Sri D. L. Sen Gupta, Pleader.

AWARD.

By Government order No. 4303Lab., dated the 27th November 1948, the above industrial dispute was referred to me for adjudication under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. I gave notice to the parties and the Sun Rolling Mill Mazdoor Union, which will hereafter be referred to as the Union, filed written statement on 10th December 1948. The Sun Rolling Mills, which will hereafter be referred to as the Company, filed written statement on 27th December 1948. Issues were framed on 6th January 1949. The Union then took some adjournments in order to move the Government for amendment of the order of reference by inclusion of certain matters. Ultimately, however, nothing was done. The case was heard thereafter and the hearing was concluded on 8th March 1949.

The dispute in question is described in the order of reference as a dispute in connection with the cases of 27 workers of the Mills named in a list attached to the order. These 27 workers had been discharged with effect from 23rd April 1948 by a notice, dated 22nd April 1948. Before this certain disputes between the Mills and the Union had been referred to a Tribunal and the award of that Tribunal was published on 8th April 1948 in the Calcutta Gazette. The award was made operative for a period of one year with effect from 1st March 1948. The Union's case is that the Company did not take the said award in good grace and with the object of crushing the Union the Company suddenly and unjustifiably gave notice of discharge to these 27 workers. Immediately after the discharge of these workers the remaining employees of the Mills went on strike with effect from 23rd April 1948. Thereafter on May 1948 the Company after giving due notice discharged all the workers with effect from the date of the strike. Subsequently work resumed in the Mills from 1st June 1948 and certain workers recruited from the discharged and certain new hands. The matter was brought to notice of the Labour Commissioner who attempted to settle the matter by conciliation which attempt having failed the dispute in regard to these 27 workers was referred to this Tribunal.

The Union contends that the discharge of these 27 workers amounted to victimisation and unfair labour practice. It further contends that their discharge was illegal and constituted an industrial dispute as defined in the Industrial Disputes Act. The Union accordingly demands that they be allowed to resume their duties forthwith and be paid their wages for the period of non-employment. The Union also demanded in its written statement "strike pay" for the rest of the workmen who joined the strike on 23rd April 1948. The Tribunal stated that the workers had withdrawn from the dispute after reference of this dispute to the Tribunal and that the Company had locked them out. The workers were accordingly entitled to their wages for the subsequent period also. These demands, however, ruled out as being outside the jurisdiction of this Tribunal, since the dispute referred to this Tribunal is confined particularly to the workers named in the list attached to the order of reference. It is clear from the said order that the only dispute referred to the Tribunal is in connection with the cases of the 27 workers mentioned in the list and no other workers mentioned in the list and no other dispute, as already stated, had taken place between the Union, in order to move the Government for amendment of the order of reference by inclusion of certain matters of the remaining workers but apparently nothing was done. This adjudication will therefore be confined to the cases of the said 27 workers.

The Company's case is that these 27 workers were discharged as a bona fide measure of retrenchment and that no question of victimisation or unfair labour practice or illegality was involved in the matter. It is stated by the Company that these 27 men had been engaged for the purpose of constructing the machinery of the Sun Rolling Mill and that the process of construction had not been completed, no work could be given to them and they had accordingly to be discharged. According to the Company, it had been decided to retrench them even when the previous proceedings were pending and the same had been brought to the notice of the Tribunal. The Company waited till the publication of the award and issued notices of discharge to the remaining workers the Company's case is that it was an illegal strike.

The following issue has been framed for the case of these 27 workers:—

ISSUE.

Was the discharge of the 27 workmen by the Company in violation of the order of reference of the Government and justifiable and due to genuine reasons? Are they entitled to reinstatement and compensation?

DECISION.

The Sun Rolling Mill is a B class concern, run as a joint-family concern, the partners of which are Messrs. B. Tarruck & Co. It ation regarding the disputes between the authorities and their workmen had been made and I made an award on 16th March 1948 as enforced by Government order No. 953 dated 30th March 1948, and published in the Gazette of 8th April 1948. According to Government order, the said award came into force on the 1st March 1948 and remained in force for one year from that date. Originally I started with only a Hot-rolling Mill commenced operation in 1941 but subsequently a Sheet Mill was added. The machineries of the Sheet Mill were constructed inside the Mill premises. The case of the Company is that it had to construct the machineries of this Sheet Mill and that after construction of the machineries there was no work for the said workers in consequence of which they had to be discharged along with three other workers for whom there was no work. The Union disputes that at these 24 workers had been recruited for construction of the machineries of the Sheet Mill. The Union's witness Arabindo Sinha, who is secretary, has admitted that the machineries of the Sheet Mill had been constructed inside the premises but he denies that any additional workers had been engaged for their construction. According to him, these 27 workers had been engaged for the Hot-rolling Mill and had been in that Mill for 3-6 years before their discharge. This does not, however, appear to be true and the actual dates of employment of the discharged workers supplied by the Company show that all except 3 out of these workers had been appointed in the year 1947, the month of June or thereafter. There is evidence to show that they had been appointed for the Hot-rolling Mill or that they had been working for 5 years. According to the Manager of the Company, who was deposed for the Company, the dates of employment of these men had been supplied from the Attendance Registers. It was suggested to him during examination that the entries in the Attendance Registers were false and had been recently prepared. This suggestion has no basis whatsoever and it is curious that none of the discharged workers has been examined by me to prove that they had been engaged long before the dates supplied by the Company. Only these 24 workers, Rambharas Ahir, had been in employment of the Company before 1947 and has been stated by the Mill Manager, he was injured and went away. He later instituted a claim for compensation under the Workmen's Compensation Act which was compromised and he received some compensation and was then re-employed on 1st November 1947 in terms of the compromise. His was therefore a new appointment. It is impossible to accept the sweeping statement of Arabindo Sinha that no additional workers had been engaged for construction of the machineries of the Sheet Mill. This was additional work undertaken by the Company long after the Sheet Mill had started functioning and so this work would have involved appointment of additional workers.

In the case of the Company that 24 workers had been engaged for construction of the machineries of the Sheet Mill is not a new case. In the statement filed by the Company at the time of the previous adjudication before me it had been fully mentioned that for the manufacture of the Sheet Mill machineries some extra hands had been engaged and that the machineries having been completed the new hands had no further work and had to be retrenched. The total number of new hands was mentioned as 24. Though none of the workers were not mentioned in my statement, details were given showing the appointments in which they had been working. My written statement was filed on 4th February 1948. I have consulted the record of the said adjudication proceedings and I do not find there anything to show that the Union then challenged this portion of the written statement. During the pendency of the adjudication proceedings, however, the Company did not actually retrench these men. The hearing before that Tribunal concluded on 4th March 1948. Two days before this, on 2nd March 1948, the Company informed the Labour Commissioner that it was going to retrench 27 men (without mentioning names) who had been engaged for making some machineries and whose work had been completed. A copy of this letter was sent to the Union. The Union protested in a letter dated 12th March 1948 and thereafter the Company wrote to the Union on 17th March 1948 reiterating that these men had been recruited for the purpose of manufacturing Sheet Mill machineries and that the said job having been completed they had become absolutely unnecessary. The Company, however, invited practical suggestions from the Union agreeing not to give immediate effect to its decision. Copies of these letters have been filed by the Company as an annexure to its written statement. It does not appear, however, that the Union offered any practical suggestions in the matter. All that appears is that a meeting was arranged on the 24th April for discussion of certain matters outstanding between the Union and the Company, but before that meeting the Company issued notice of discharge to these 27 workers on 22nd April 1948. Comment has been made by the Union on the fact that the Company did not wait for the meeting arranged for 24th April 1948. But it appears from a copy of a letter dated 26th April 1948 from the Company to the Union that the Union did not attend the meeting on the 24th. Even if the Company had waited and the meeting had been held, it was unlikely that the retrenchment of these workers could have been avoided. The mere fact that the Company did not wait for the meeting is not sufficient to justify the Union's complaint that the Company's decision to retrench these workers was sudden or that it took the Union by surprise in view of what has been stated above.

Thus it is clear that 24 of these 27 discharged workers had been specially recruited in the year 1947 for the construction of the Sheet Mill machineries and that the said construction having been completed these workers had no further work to do in 1948. The Union's witness has made a suggestion that the construction of the said machineries had been completed towards the end of 1946 and that the Sheet Mill had started working by the middle of 1947. This is also not correct. The Sheet Mill does not appear to have started working before 1948 and it was certainly not ready in 1947. It has not been stated by the Union in what way these 27 discharged workers might have been provided with work in the Mill. The Company has produced its Production Register to show that its production was not affected by the discharge of these men. The Mill Manager has stated that in spite of their discharge the production has not fallen and this fact, it is contended, is sufficient to show that they were in excess of the requirements of the Company. The Production Register does actually show that the production level of March and April 1948 before discharge of these men was generally maintained when the Company started work after the strike. The Company had 75 workers in March 1948 (excluding clerks, darwans and superior staff) according to the pay-sheet of that month. When it started work after the strike in June 1948 it had about 40 workers. In July and August the number was 47. In September and October the number was 52. It was again 49 in November. From December the number has increased a little and now exceeds 50. I have taken the figures from the Attendance Register filed by the Company and these show that the Company did not make any appointments to replace these discharged men when the Mills were opened and that they were really unnecessary at the time they were discharged. The production figures also confirm the same conclusion. It is further clear that the general principle of retrenchment that the juniormost men should be retrenched was followed in the case of these men as they had all been recruited in and after June 1947.

The remaining three of the discharged men had been appointed before 1947. One of them Durjadhan had been appointed in the Machine Shop on 8th September 1945 and two, Baidyanath and Sagar, had been appointed as pattern-makers in December 1945 and March 1946, respectively. As to Durjadhan the Mill Manager's evidence is that he was retrenched because he had been taken for the Draw Bench Machine which was ultimately not put into operation because of its unsuccessful working. And as regards the pattern-makers his evidence is that they had been engaged mainly for making patterns for the machineries of the Sheet Mill and that it took the Company one year to have the patterns prepared and the casting of the machineries made. After that work was finished the pattern-makers had nothing to do and, accordingly, they had to be retrenched. The Company has got no pattern-makers now. The Union suggests that the Company now gets its patterns made from outside, but the Manager denied this and there is no evidence about it. The very fact that these pattern-makers have not been replaced shows that the Company had no work for them. As to Durjadhan the Union has made no suggestion that the Company had any special reason to select him for retrenchment. Though therefore these 3 workers had been appointed long before the other 24, I am satisfied from the circumstances proved that they had no work to do and that their retrenchment was equally justified. It is true that in the written statement filed by the Company in the previous adjudication proceedings the number required to be retrenched was mentioned as 24 and not 27. Probably then the Company had intended to retrench only the 24 men appointed from June 1947. This slight increase in the number should not, however, be made much of, if the Company is able to prove that retrenchment was necessary and justified. In the last analysis it is for an employer to decide the number of workmen he requires for carrying on his work and I have shown above that the retrenchment of all these 27 men was necessary and justified.

The Union has suggested in its written statement that in discharging these workers the Company had an ulterior motive, namely, to crush the Union and that this was because the Company did not take the previous award of the Tribunal in good grace. It has further been stated at the time of hearing that the Company discharged these men in order to avoid paying them at the rates fixed by the award and that it has since taken new men on lesser rates of pay. There is nothing to substantiate the above allegations of the Union suggesting victimisation. There is no evidence or suggestion that these 27 workers were office bearers or prominent members of the Union. As already stated, most of them were workers who had been newly recruited in and after June 1947. There is no justification for the complaint that the Company decided to discharge these workers in consequence of the award in order to avoid paying them higher rates of pay or in order to crush the Union. The Company had informed that Tribunal in its very written statement about the necessity for retrenchment and that was long before the award. The retrenchment could not therefore have been decided upon in consequence of the award. Much has been made of the fact that the Company did not pay wages to its workers at the rates fixed by the award for the month of March.

The award was published in the Gazette on April 1948, though it was to be enforced with effect from 1st March. In view of its publication in April it was not possible for the Company to pay the workers at the rates fixed by the award for the month of March in the month of April. The Manager has stated that the Company decided to pay the workers at the rates fixed by the award with effect from the month of March the month of May. But before this could be done the workers went on strike from 23rd April in consequence of the discharge of these 27 workers and this strike continued in May. The Company thus got no opportunity of paying the workers at the rates fixed by the award in the month of March. Twenty-six of these twenty-seven workers had been discharged with 7 days' notice in terms of the award. One of them who was in charge of the Machine Shop and a monthly paid employee received one month's notice. The notice, dated 22nd April 1948, a copy of which has been filed by the Company, mentions one month's notice in the case of this employee, Dulal Krishna Pal, and 7 days' notice in the case of the others, though they were discharged with effect from 23rd April 1948. In a letter dated 21st April 1948 authorising the Works Manager to issue notices of discharge to these workers, a copy of which is included in the annexure to the Company's written statement, it is mentioned that the workers should be given 7 days' notice and that pay-sheets should be prepared for early payment of their dues. Pay-sheets were accordingly prepared including pay up to the 30th of April but the pay of these workers was calculated therein according to the old rates. The pay-sheets which have been filed by the Company further show that only 8 of these workers have received their pay and that some of them received it in May and July and one in December. The Union has commented on these facts and argued that the very fact that the Company did not calculate their pay according to the rates fixed by the award and has not yet paid most of them shows that it was not willing to implement the award. But apparently the pay-sheets were prepared at the end of April 1948 immediately after the discharge of the workers, according to the instructions received by the Works Manager and so the pay of these workers was calculated according to the old rates. It is likely that in consequence of the strike and the subsequent developments most of the discharged workers did not call for payment and so most of them have not yet been paid their wages. There is no suggestion by the Union that they had called for payment and that payment had been refused. The Manager of the Mill has stated that these workers are entitled to extra pay and dearness allowance in terms of the award from the month of March on liability to pay them accordingly is admitted on behalf of the Company. I do not think that these facts have any bearing on the Union's suggestion that the Company was not willing to implement the award. As already stated, the Company continued work in the Mill on 1st June 1948 after the strike with some old hands who had joined before that date and some new hands. The pay-sheets for July 1948 which have been filed by the Company show that the workers with whose help the Mill started working in June 1948 all received pay and dearness allowance according to the rates fixed by the award, whether they were new or old hands. This is sufficient to show that the Company did implement the award and had no intention to avoid it. The Union's suggestion to the Manager that these employees were not paid at the rates fixed by the award but that their signatures and thumb-impressions were taken on the pay-sheets by undue influence is worthless. I cannot be entertained for a moment. I cannot accept the pay-sheets as evidence that the Company has implemented the award and is paying its workers at the rates fixed by the award.

heretofore be imputed to the Company and no action can be made that the Company discharged these 27 workers with any such intention. I do not hold that in discharging these 27 workers the Company had been actuated by any motive of punishing the workers because of the previous dispute. Nor can I hold that the Company was guilty of any unfair labour practice in the matter. I have already stated, I am satisfied that these workers were discharged as a bona fide measure of retrenchment justified by the facts and circumstances proved by the Company.

It was next contended by the Union that the discharge of these 27 workers amounted to a lock-out as defined in section 2(1) of the Industrial Disputes Act, and that such lock-out was illegal under section 24 of the Act as being in contravention of the provisions of section 23(b), because it was declared within two months after the conclusion of the proceedings before the last Tribunal. Section 23(b) provides that no workman shall go on strike and no employer shall declare a lock-out during the pendency of proceedings before a Tribunal and two months after the conclusion of proceedings and section 24 provides that any strike or lock-out shall be illegal. Section 23 of the Act provides that proceedings before a Tribunal shall be deemed to have concluded when an award is published by the appropriate Government under section 17. In the present case the award was published on 8th April 1948 and these workers were retrenched on 23rd April 1948. Since they were discharged within two months after the conclusion of the proceedings before the Tribunal and it is argued by the learned counsel for the Union that the provisions of sections 23 and 24 are attracted to the case because the discharge amounted to a lock-out. According to him, lock-out, as defined in the Act, includes cases of discharge or dismissal of any number of workers and every discharge of workers amounts to a lock-out. Lock-out is defined in section 2(1) as the closing of a place of employment or the suspension of work, or the refusal by an employer to continue to employ any number of persons employed by him. It is argued that the "refusal by an employer to continue to employ any number of persons employed by him" is sufficient to cover any case of retrenchment or discharge of workers.

Reference has been made in this connection to the award of Sir Harsiddhai v. Divatia in the dispute between the Empire of India Life Assurance Ltd., and its employees, published in the Calcutta Labour Gazette of October 1947 (at 187) and to two recent awards of Tribunals made by the Government of West Bengal, namely, the award of Sri M. C. Banerji in the dispute between Messrs. Spence, Ltd., and its employees' Union, published in the Calcutta Gazette of 3rd February 1949, and the award of Sri S. N. Modak in the dispute between the National Iron and Steel Co., Ltd., and the Tatanagar Iron Works Co., Ltd., and their workmen, published in the Calcutta Gazette of 10th March 1949, in which the award of Sir H. V. Divatia was followed. The facts of the dispute between the Empire of India Life Assurance Co., Ltd., and its employees were that the employees had submitted demands which not having been conceded went on strike from the 10th January 1947 and on the 21st January the Company sent to all the members of the Union a discharge order from the Company's service. Subsequently on 25th February 1947 this dispute was referred to Sir H. V. Divatia for adjudication under Part A of the Defence of India Rules. Under the Central Government had issued an order on 19th December 1945 providing that when a dispute has been referred for adjudication, no person employed in any undertaking concerned in the dispute shall go or remain on strike and no employer in any undertaking concerned in the dispute shall lock-out or continue to lock-out his employees during the period from the making of the reference until the expiry of two months after the completion of the proceedings upon such reference. This order is substantially in the same terms as the provisions of section 23(b) above referred to. Sir H. V. Divatia held that the employees continued to be the employees of the Company during the strike and that the management had no right to discharge them wholesale for any reason connected with the trade dispute, though they were at liberty to discharge or dismiss such persons as might be guilty of violence or misconduct even while the trade dispute was going on. On the facts he held that the Company did not mean the notices issued to the employees on 21st January 1947 to be bona fide notices of discharge but only threats and that as such the action of the Company really amounted to a lock-out within the definition of the term under the Trade Disputes Act inasmuch as the Company refused to continue their employment in consequence of the dispute that was going on and it was intended for the purpose of compelling the strikers to accept the terms and conditions of the Company for resuming work. It should be noted here that the definition of lock-out in the Trade Disputes Act was different from the definition in the Industrial Disputes Act as it contained some additional words defining the intention, or object without which the action taken by an employer would not amount to a lock-out.

It will be seen from the above that the facts of the dispute adjudicated upon by Sir H. V. Divatia were altogether different from the facts of the present dispute. There was in this case no wholesale discharge of workers consequent on submission of demands by them which were ultimately referred to a Tribunal. In the present case, as I have already stated, the discharge of these 27 workers was a genuine measure of retrenchment. It has not been shown or suggested that it was in any way connected with the dispute which had been referred to that Tribunal. There was no victimisation or unfair labour practice involved in the discharge of these workers and the Company had no such motive as was found by Sir H. V. Divatia in the case before him. The notices of discharge were also bona fide and not meant to be threats as in that case. Finally these workers were retrenched after the conclusion of the proceedings before the Tribunal and not during the pendency of such proceedings.

In the case of the National Iron and Steel Co., Ltd., certain workers had been discharged after an industrial dispute between the Company and its workers had been referred to a Tribunal and during the pendency of the proceedings before that Tribunal. These workers had previously been working under the contract labour system which was, however, discontinued and the Company took over direct management of the section worked under such system. Subsequently the contract labour system was reintroduced and at that time these workers were asked by the Company to work under the contractor, but they refused and thereupon the Company terminated their services. It was held by Sri S. N. Modak that the reintroduction of the contract labour system by the Company during the pendency of proceedings before a Tribunal amounted to an alteration of the conditions of service to the prejudice of these workers within the meaning of the first part of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act and that as such the action of the Company was illegal under that section. He further held that in the circumstances the refusal of the Company to employ these workers amounted to a lock-out and that such lock-out was illegal under sections 23 and 24 of the Act. It will be seen that here also the facts were different from the facts of the present case. The employer in that case was guilty of contravention of section 33 and the discharge of the workers was connected with such contravention. In the dispute between Messrs. Spence, Ltd., and its workers three workers had been discharged after certain disputes between the parties had been referred to a Tribunal and during the pendency of the proceedings before that Tribunal. The Company alleged that they had been discharged as a genuine measure of retrenchment but the Union alleged that they had been discharged by way of victimisation. The Union subsequently abandoned the claim for reinstatement of these workers and the question as to whether their discharge was a genuine measure of retrenchment or a measure of victimisation was not actually decided by the Tribunal. The Tribunal proceeded on the footing that the discharge of these workers, whatever might have been the grounds thereof, amounted to a lock-out under section 23(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act and was illegal. The facts of this case are to some extent similar to the facts of the present case with this difference that the discharge in that case took place during the pendency of the proceedings before the Tribunal and not after the conclusion of such proceedings as in the present case.

The basis of these two awards is that the Industrial Disputes Act intends that during the pendency of any proceedings, whether for conciliation or for adjudication, in respect of any industrial dispute the status quo should be maintained and that no action should be taken by the employers to the prejudice of the employees. There can be no doubt about the said intention of the Act and section 33 of the Act provides for maintenance of the status quo during the pendency of such proceedings. This section enjoins that no employer shall during the pendency of such proceedings alter to the prejudice of the workmen concerned in such dispute the conditions of service applicable to them immediately before the commencement of such proceedings. It next provides that save with express permission in writing of the Conciliation Officer, Board or Tribunal, as the case may be, no employer shall, during the pendency of such proceedings, discharge, dismiss, or otherwise punish any such workmen, except for misconduct not connected with the dispute. It will be seen that this section absolutely prohibits the alteration of the conditions of service of the workmen to their prejudice during the pendency of conciliation or adjudication proceedings, but in so far as the question of discharge, dismissal or punishment of the workmen is concerned, the bar is not absolute because the section permits dismissal or punishment of workmen for misconduct not connected with the dispute and also provides for dismissal or discharge of workmen with the express permission in writing of the Conciliation Officer or Board or Tribunal. The question of discharge or dismissal of workmen during the pendency of conciliation or adjudication proceedings is specifically provided for in this section and there is no other section in the Act which deals with this question specifically. It is therefore very important to consider whether it is necessary to invoke any other section of the Act in deciding questions of legality or otherwise of dismissals and discharges of workmen during the pendency of conciliation or adjudication proceedings.

Section 23 occurs in another chapter of the Act under the heading "Strikes and Lock-out". The bar against lock-out under section 23 is absolute. An employer is forbidden to declare a lock-out under all circumstances during the period mentioned in section 23(b). There is a difference between the provisions of section 23(b) and section 33 in so far as the period of the bar is concerned. Under section 33 the bar against dismissal of workmen in contravention of that section is confined to the actual period during which proceedings before the Tribunal may be pending and such proceedings, as already stated, are concluded with the publication of the award. Under section 23(b), however, the bar against lock-out is continued till two months after the conclusion of the proceedings before the Tribunal. If therefore every discharge or dismissal of workmen is to be construed as a lock-out, the discharge or dismissal of workmen contemplated by section 33 would also constitute a lock-out. Section 24 provides that a lock-out in contravention of section 23 shall be illegal and section 26 provides penalties for it. The penalties are different from the penalties mentioned in section 31 for contravention of the provisions of section 33. The question therefore naturally arises as to whether the Legislature intended that every discharge or dismissal of workmen, whatever ground and with whatever motive an employer might have discharged or dismissed them, would amount to a lock-out and so prohibit it under section 23(b). If so, then there would necessarily be a conflict between this section and section 33 because of the differences in the provisions of the two sections and also because of the different penalties prescribed. Thus even if an employer discharges an employee for misconduct not connected with the dispute, as he is entitled to do under section 33, he will still incur the penalty for contravention of section 23(b), if his action is deemed to amount to a lock-out of that particular employee. In the present case the Company have discharged these 27 workers after the conclusion of the proceedings before the Tribunal, the provisions of section 33 are not attracted to the case and the Company is not guilty of any contravention of that section, but still it is said to be guilty of contravention of section 23(b). These considerations raise great doubt as to whether every discharge or dismissal of workers can be interpreted as a lock-out within the meaning of section 23(b). The section should not be so interpreted as to raise a conflict between its provisions and those of section 33; it should not be presumed that such conflict was intended by the Legislature, if it is possible to interpret it otherwise so as to avoid a conflict.

Much stress has been laid on the words "refused by an employer to continue to employ any number of persons employed by him" occurring in the definition of lock-out in section 2(1) of the Act. But do these words really apply to a case of bona fide discharge of employees on justifying grounds? The very word "refusal" suggests that the employer must refuse to provide employment for an employee who is still employed and entitled to claim such employment, but if the employee is lawfully discharged with notice or if employment is otherwise terminated on justifying grounds, can such employee be said to be entitled to claim employment? I do not think that the question of refusal to employ him can arise in such a case. Employment can only be refused to one who is already employed and is lawfully entitled to claim employment. The very idea of a lock-out suggests action taken by an employer against existing employees. It cannot be applied to persons who had ceased to be employees. The question of lock-out can arise when the relationship of employer and employee has ceased. In the case before Sir H. V. Divatia he came to a decision finding on the facts that the notices of discharge issued by the Company were not meant to effect bona fide discharges but only threats and that employment of the employees of the Company was not ceased. With great respect I cannot say that the action taken by the Company in the present case amounted to a lock-out, as defined in the Industrial Disputes Act, and that section 33 of the Act applied to the case. These considerations discharged as a bona fide measure of retrenchment, and, as I have shown, no question of victimisation or unfair labour practice was involved in the matter. I cannot hold therefore that discharge of these 27 workers was in any way illegal under the Industrial Disputes Act. On the other hand, it is the action of the remaining workers who went on strike immediately after the discharge of these 27 workers which contravened the provisions of section 23(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act, because this section prevents any person who is employed in any industrial undertaking from going on strike during the pendency of proceedings before a Tribunal and two months after the conclusion of such proceedings. The Company, as already stated, had demanded "Strike" in its written statement for the remaining workers, but this demand was not pressed, since it was the view that the present adjudication was confined only to the 27 workers whose names were given in the Government order of reference. If this question had been before me, I would have had no other alternative but to hold that the strike of the remaining workers was illegal under section 24 as being in contravention of section 23(b) of the Act.

I hold accordingly that these 27 workers were bona fide discharged by way of retrenchment, that there was no question of victimisation or unfair labour practice or illegality involved in the discharge and that they are not entitled to reinstatement. The claim for reinstatement is accordingly rejected. They were given proper notice according to the directions of the last award dated 16th March 1948. The monthly paid employees received one month's notice and the 26 daily-rated workers received 7 days' notice. Though they were actually discharged with effect from 23rd April 1948, they are entitled to pay according to the terms of the notice. Dulal Krishna Pal is entitled to pay for one month from 24th April 1948, as having received one month's notice, and the others are entitled to pay up to 30th April 1948. They are also entitled to pay and dearness allowance on the scales fixed by the last award dated 1st of March 1948 up to the dates of expiry of the terms of the notice, i.e., up to 23rd

May 1948 in the case of Dulal Krishna Pal and up to 30th April 1948 in the case of the rest. Their pay as shown in the pay-sheets for April 1948 filed before me has not been correctly calculated and so the Company should revise their pay-sheets both for March and April 1948 and calculate their pay and dearness allowance according to the said award. Eight workers who have already drawn their pay according to the old rates should get the excess calculated according to the scales of that award. Twenty-four of these twenty-seven workers had been appointed, as already stated, in or after June 1947 and so they had not completed even one year's service when they were discharged. They are not therefore entitled to any additional compensation beyond 7 days' notice. Only three of the workers had been appointed before 1947. They are Durjadhan Singh, appointed on 8th September 1945, Baidyanath Pal, appointed on 1st December 1945, and Sagar Chandra Pal, appointed on 1st March 1946. I direct that in consideration of the length of their services each of these three workers should receive one month's pay and dearness allowance, according to the scales fixed by the last award, as additional compensation apart from 7 days' pay in terms of the notice. The Company is directed to pay the dues of all these 27 workers in terms of this award within two months from the date of publication of the award.

Hutchison Workers' Union, 58/1, Hari Ghosh Street, Calcutta, in connection with the cases of Sree Kartick Das, Sree Bhagat Das, Sree Bhoglu Singh and Sree Sanat Ghosh, was referred for adjudication to Sree S. K. Haldar, I.C.S., District Judge;

And whereas the said Sree S. K. Haldar, I.C.S., District Judge, has given the award as shown in the annexure hereto;

The award made by the said Sree S. K. Haldar, I.C.S., District Judge, shall bind the Company and their workmen aforesaid as specified therein and shall remain in force for a period of two months with effect from the date of its publication.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. J. & R. Hutchison, Ltd., 10, Clive Row, Managing Agents of the Hutchison Product Company, and their workmen represented by J. & R. Hutchison Workers' Union, 58/1, Hari Ghosh Street, Calcutta.

PRESENT:—SRI S. K. HALDAR, I.C.S., Judge, Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company—Sri S. P. Ghosh, Advocate.

For the Union—Sri Gokul Chandra Samanta,

AWARD.

This dispute between Messrs. J. & R. Hutchison, Ltd., and their employees in connection with the dismissal of four employees has been referred to this Tribunal under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, for adjudication under Labour Department order No. 517Lab., dated the 7th February 1949.

The facts in this case are very simple. About the middle of 1948 the management of Messrs. J. & R. Hutchison, Ltd., suspected that bar-soap produced in their factory was being stolen by the factory-hands and a watch was kept by the durwans to detect theft. Finally, on 3rd May 1948 durwans Triveni Prosad and Dhora Ray of the Company noticed that bar-soap had been thrown out of the factory premises upon an open piece of ground adjoining the factory. Immediately an enquiry within the factory was made and, according to the management, three workmen Kartick Das, Bhagat alias Bhagawat Das and Bhaglu Singh were caught "red-handed" stealing soap. They were called upon to show cause why they should not be summarily dismissed. According to the management, they failed to show cause and they were summarily dismissed on the ground that "The management have been fully convinced by positive evidence that they were engaged in the act of committing theft in respect of soap."

With regard to the other workman (Ghosh), the management alleged that he had warned several times previously of his absence from duty without leave, etc., and on the present occasion when he was guilty of disobedience he was called upon to show cause why he should not be dismissed, and on his failure to show cause he was dismissed.

According to the Union, the three workmen Kartick Das, Bhagat alias Bhagawat Das and Bhaglu Singh had never committed any theft of soap or any other article and had been engaged for their activities in connection with the Union. So far as Sanat Ghosh is concerned the management case is that Sanat Ghosh had never been warned for anything and that his dismissal was also due to his Union activities.

The following Issues were framed:—

- (1) Whether the dismissal of Sri Kartick Das, Sri Bhagat Das and Sri Bhaglu Singh was justified or not?
- (2) Whether the dismissal of Sri Sanat Ghosh was justified?
- (3) What is the remedy and consequential relief if the discharge was justified?

The evidence adduced before me by both parties conclusively shows that there was a theft of soap from the factory on 3rd May 1948. Workman Kartick Das himself admitted in cross-examination: "A quantity of soap was lying outside the factory and the durwans brought it in and showed it to the Manager." Workman Bhaglu Singh admitted in cross-examination: "On the day of our discharge, Triveni (durwan) had picked up soap from outside the factory a quantity of soap could not be carried by anyone from the factory. The durwans at the gate detected this. Hence the modus operandi was to throw a quantity of soap from the factory through an opening in the wall on the first floor of the factory building—the only opening available for the purpose—to an open plot of land just outside the factory, and from there the soap was taken away by some accomplice. Durwan B. Prosad stated in his deposition: "I saw B. and Kartick throwing soap from the factory side. I did not see Bhagat alias Bhagawat Das throwing soap." Durwan Dhora Rai stated: "B. (durwan) asked me to go upstairs and see if there was any soap throwing from the factory. I went up and saw Kartick and Bhaglu standing on one side and Bhagawat standing alone at a short distance. The three of them were talking together." In cross-examination he said: "Soap could be taken only from that room and from no other room, because there is no opening towards the main building or any other room." The case of the management was that these workmen were "caught red-handed" stealing soap. But the only durwan who saw that soap was thrown was durwan Triveni Prosad and he saw only Kartick and Bhaglu throwing soap. He did not see Bhagat throwing soap. The Manager Sri Hazari Lal Biswas contradicted the durwan by saying that Triveni durwan reported to him that Bhagat and Bhaglu were throwing soap. Upon this evidence a conviction of these workmen for theft would not lie.

But the evidence though falling short in respect is still sufficiently strong to establish that these three workmen Kartick, Bhagat and Bhaglu were each reasonably suspected of theft. They could be thrown from one room upstairs of the factory building, because, according to the case of workman Sanat Ghosh stands entirely ifferent footing. According to the managesanat Ghosh had been warned on three pre-occasions, viz., 30th December 1947, 17th

des mentioned above showing the details of t or omission for which the warning was ed. These records in each case bear the ure of Sanat Ghosh. They were not chall as forgeries and I have no reason to doubt genuineness. Sanat Ghosh was not present the hearing of this matter. Nothing was his behalf as to what justification he had in g to carry out the legitimate orders passed superior officer. Proceedings were drawn writing against him in accordance with the g rules of the management. He was given ortunity to defend himself but as he did not any explanation the management dismissed from the report of the Assistant Commissioner. It appears that the management could not Bri H. K. Biswas, Labour Officer, about the charge of disobedience against Sanat. The management assured me that those records which have been shown to me were also shown to Sri Biswas. The conclusion which Sri Biswas drew from these reports and records appears to me to be a curious one. I do not wish to say anything further. I hold that the order of dismissal of Sanat Ghosh was justified and that he is not entitled to any remedy.

This issue has already been dealt with above.

ANNEXURE.

In the matter of Industrial Disputes between Messrs. Kilburn & Co., Managing Agents of the India General Navigation and Railway Co., Ltd., and their employees as represented by the India General Navigation and Railway Company Employees' Union.

PRESENT: SREE A. DAS GUPTA, Chairman, Industrial Tribunal.

Dr. H. G. Waight, Counsel, instructed by Sree S. Sen, Advocate, of Messrs. Orr Dignam & Co., appeared for the Company.

Sree P. K. Sanyal, Advocate, and Sree Niren Dey, Bar-at-Law, instructed by Sree Gunendra Nath Ghosh, President of the Union, appeared for the Union.

By order No. 440-Lab., dated the 18th February 1948, of the Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department, the industrial disputes between the two Steamer Companies, viz., Messrs. Kilburn & Co., Managing Agents of the India General Navigation and Railway Co., Ltd., and Messrs. MacNeill & Co., Managing Agents of the Rivers Steam Navigation Co., Ltd., and their workmen as represented by the India General Navigation and Railway Employees' Union and the Inland Steam Navigation Company Workers' Union were referred to me under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, for adjudication. The Government order of reference is as follows:—

"Whereas an industrial dispute has arisen between the Joint Steamer Companies, namely, Messrs. Kilburn & Co., Managing Agents of the India General Navigation and Railway Company, Limited, 4, Fairlie Place, Calcutta, and Messrs. MacNeill & Co., Managing Agents of the Rivers Steam Navigation Company, Limited, 2, Fairlie Place, Calcutta, and their workmen as represented by the India General Navigation and Railway Company Employees' Union, 4, Fairlie Place, Calcutta, and the Inland Steam Navigation Workers' Union, 48, Harrison Road, Calcutta, and it is expedient that the said dispute should be referred to a Tribunal constituted under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the Governor is pleased under sections 7 and 10 of the said Act to appoint Sri Ashutosh Das Gupta, Additional District Judge to be the Tribunal for adjudication of the said dispute. ****"

A preliminary objection has been raised by Dr. Waight that, as the order of reference stands, this Tribunal can assume jurisdiction only over demands that may be placed against the Joint Steamer Companies and that the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to entertain any dispute against either of the two Steamer Companies individually. Messrs. Kilburn & Co. are the Managing Agents of the India General Navigation and Railway Co., Ltd., at 4, Fairlie Place, Calcutta, and Messrs. MacNeill and Co. are the Managing Agents of the Rivers Steam Navigation Co., Ltd., and their office is at 2, Fairlie Place, Calcutta. It has been urged by Dr. Waight that the parties to the disputes are: (1) The Joint Steamer Companies, The India General Navigation and Railway Co., Ltd., and the Rivers Steam Navigation Co., Ltd., and not any of these Companies individually. (2) The workmen of the Joint Steamer Companies as represented by the India General Navigation and Railway Employees' Union and the Inland Steam Navigation Workers' Union.

Inland Steam Navigation Workers' Union has demands jointly against the two Steamer Companies under the management of Messrs. Kilburn & Co. and Messrs. MacNeill & Co., Managing Agents, but as the India General Navigation and Railway Employees' Union has no demand individually against the Rivers Steam Navigation Co., Ltd., managed by Messrs. MacNeill & Co. and against the joint establishment under the management of Messrs. MacNeill and Co. and Messrs. Kilburn & Co. as Managing Agents of the two Steamer Companies, the Rivers Steam Navigation Co., Ltd., and the India General Navigation and Railway Co., Ltd., the said Union has placed its demands only against the India General Navigation and Railway Co., Ltd., managed by Messrs. Kilburn & Co. Dr. Waight urges that the demands of the India General Navigation and Railway Company Employees' Union cannot be entertained by this Tribunal and assumes jurisdiction upon the order of reference and cannot go beyond it. That this Tribunal assumes jurisdiction on the order of reference and cannot go beyond it cannot be disputed. The only question involved in the preliminary objection is whether on a correct interpretation of the order of reference, it can be said to comprise a reference of the disputes which the India General Navigation and Railway Employees' Union has individually against the India General Navigation and Railway Company, Ltd., under the management of Messrs. Kilburn & Co. The two Steamer Companies taken individually, are juridical persons and have therefore, individual legal existence. But as the term "Joint Steamer Companies" indicates, one is likely to infer that the two Steamer Companies have entered into a partnership business and the partnership business is one of the parties to the disputes. There is no evidence on record to show that any such partnership business was registered under the Indian Partnership Act. The written statements of the Companies indicate that the Companies have joint departments as also individual departments. Section 69 of the Indian Partnership Act lays down some disabilities to partners and the firm in a suit where the partnership business is not registered. By providing these disabilities this section renders registration of a partnership firm compulsory. This does not, however, affect the right of a third party to proceed against the firm or its partners even though unregistered. Thus although we are not very much concerned in this connection with the principle of registration, the fact remains that if there has been a real partnership business between the two Companies, to guard against any possible disadvantages to the Companies, individually or in their partnership, business, the Companies would have got the partnership business registered. Absence of registration shows that there was a real partnership business, although the two Companies held out to the public in all papers, e.g. time and fare table, notifications, etc., that the two Steamer Companies constituted themselves a Joint Steamer Companies. This fact is responsible for the popular belief that the two Steamer Companies constitute a partnership firm, "the Joint Steamer Companies". A partnership firm, even though registered, is not a legal entity notwithstanding its special meaning in the commercial sense. I have indicated how the Companies would think that the two Steamer Companies constitute a partnership firm. The two Steamer Companies may have some joint departments, but the fact remains that they are separate entities. In this view of the case I may be permitted to note that instead of describing the two Steamer Companies as "Joint Steamer Companies" they should be described as "two Steamer Companies".

The order of reference was based on a recommendation of the Labour Commissioner for constituting a Tribunal for adjudication of the disputes of the India General Navigation and Railway Company Employees' Union and the Inland Steam Navigation Company Workers' Union. The latter submitted its demands before the Labour Commissioner against the two Steamer jointly and the India General Navigation and Railway Company Employees' Union submitted its case against the India General Navigation and Railway Company, Ltd., under the management of Messrs. Kilburn & Co. In the recommendation memorandum (No. 7939-11-47), the Labour Commissioner notes: "the parties desire reference of the dispute to a Tribunal, I recommend that the dispute be referred accordingly for adjudication".

The India General Navigation and Railway Company has no demand against the Rivers Steam Navigation Co., Ltd., under the management of Messrs. MacNeill & Co. or against the two companies jointly. Obviously, the intention of the Government was to get the disputes of the India General Navigation and Railway Company Employees' Union and the India Steam Navigation Company Employees' Union settled by adjudication by a Tribunal. Although the wording of the order of reference is rather confusing, it is abundantly clear that the Government intended to refer both the disputes to this Tribunal. This was the existing practice when the reference was made: there were two disputes: (1) of the Inland Steam Navigation Workers' Union jointly against the two companies under the management of Messrs. Kilburn & Co. and Messrs. MacNeill & Co. and (2) of the India General Navigation and Railway Company Employees' Union against the India General Navigation and Railway Co., Ltd., under the management of Messrs. Kilburn & Co.

The disputes required to be settled by reference to this Tribunal, and Government's intention was always to refer both these disputes to a Tribunal for adjudication, but the term "two Steamer Companies" in the order of reference has raised some seeming difficulties in the disputes of the India General Navigation and Railway Company Employees' Union against the India General Navigation and Railway Co., Ltd.

The Indian Evidence Act lays down the rule for interpretation of documents: "The language used in a document is plain in its meaning, in reference to existing facts, and may be given to show that it was used in a peculiar sense." The term, "Joint Steamer Companies" is only descriptive and is not correct even if it be held that it is not correct. Having considered the state of things at the time of reference and the intention of the Government as evidenced by the order of the Labour Commissioner, I am inclined to hold that the "two Steamer Companies" for the purpose of the reference are the Rivers Steam Navigation Company, Ltd., and the India General Navigation and Railway Company, Ltd., and to hold that the reference contains two references for adjudication of disputes between (1) Messrs. Kilburn & Co., Managing Agents of the India General Navigation and Railway Co., Ltd., 4, Fairlie Place, Calcutta, and Messrs. MacNeill & Co., Managing Agents of the Rivers Steam Navigation Co., Ltd., 2, Fairlie Place, Calcutta, and their workmen as represented by the Inland Steam Navigation Workers' Union, 48, Harrison Road, Calcutta, and (2) Messrs. Kilburn & Co., Managing Agents of the India General Navigation and Railway Co., Ltd., 4, Fairlie Place, Calcutta, and their workmen as represented by the India General Navigation and Railway Company Employees' Union, 4, Fairlie Place, Calcutta.

On the basis of my findings, arrived at after hearing the parties, I split up the order of reference into two parts, dated the 18th February 1948, of the Government of West Bengal, Commerce and Industries Department, which I have now set aside as follows:—

Whereas an industrial dispute has arisen between Messrs. Kilburn & Company, Managing Agents of the India General Navigation and Railway Company Limited, 4, Fairlie Place, Calcutta, and their workmen as represented by the India

General Navigation and Railway Company Employees' Union, 4, Fairlie Place, Calcutta, it is expedient that the said dispute should be referred to a Tribunal constituted under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the Governor is pleased under sections 7 and 10 of the said Act to appoint Sri Ashutosh Das Gupta, Additional District Judge, to be the Tribunal for adjudication of the said dispute.

The said Tribunal shall meet at such places and on such dates as the said Sri Ashutosh Das Gupta shall direct."

(2) "Whereas an industrial dispute has arisen between the Joint Steamer Companies, namely, Messrs. Kilburn & Co., Managing Agents of the India General Navigation and Railway Company, Limited, 4, Fairlie Place, Calcutta, and Messrs. MacNeill & Co., Managing Agents of the Rivers Steam Navigation Company, Limited, 2, Fairlie Place, Calcutta, and their workmen as represented by the Inland Steam Navigation Workers' Union, 48, Harrison Road, Calcutta, it is expedient that the said dispute should be referred to a Tribunal constituted under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the Governor is pleased under sections 7 and 10 of the said Act to appoint Sri Ashutosh Das Gupta, Additional District Judge, to be the Tribunal for adjudication of the said dispute.

The second paragraph of the original order of reference shall be read with both the references as specified above.

I have decided to take up the two references separately. Some preliminary points were raised with regard to the second reference, which relates to the disputes between the two Steamer Companies, Messrs. Kilburn & Co., Managing Agents of the India General Navigation and Railway Company, Limited, and Messrs. MacNeill & Co., Managing Agents of the Rivers Steam Navigation Company, Limited, and their workmen as represented by the Inland Steam Navigation Workers' Union. These points were heard at length and necessary orders were passed, the last order having been passed on 19th June 1948. After this order was passed, which related to the jurisdiction of this Tribunal, the Companies moved the Hon'ble High Court and got a writ of certiorari staying further proceedings before this Tribunal. The matter has since been disposed of by the Hon'ble High Court and the stay order has been vacated.

The disputes of the India General Navigation and Railway Company Employees' Union against the India General Navigation and Railway Co., Ltd., have been heard without any objection about the jurisdiction of this Tribunal and the present award relates to these disputes.

The demands of the India General Navigation and Railway Employees' Union will be clear from the points which have been formulated for adjudication after hearing both parties. Points:—

Before I enter into the merit of the case, I should like to discuss the scope of the present reference. I have already stated that the original order of reference, received from the Government of West Bengal, Commerce, Labour and Industries Department (No. 440-Lab., dated the 18th February 1948), is a composite order containing two references, one relating to the industrial disputes between Messrs. Kilburn & Co., Managing Agents of the India General Navigation and Railway Company, Ltd., and their workmen, as represented by the India General Navigation and Railway Company Employees' Union and the other to the industrial disputes between Messrs. Kilburn & Co., Managing Agents of the India General Navigation and Railway Company, Ltd., and Messrs. Macneill & Co., Managing Agents of the Rivers Steam Navigation Company, Ltd., and their workmen, as represented by the Inland Steam Navigation Workers' Union. The original order of reference has accordingly been split up. The present award relates to the disputes between Messrs. Kilburn & Co., Managing Agents of the India General Navigation and Railway Company, Ltd., and their workmen, as represented by the India General Navigation and Railway Company Employees' Union. There have been two other references. These are as detailed below:—

- (1) Reference by order No. 135-Lab., dated 17th January 1948, for adjudication of industrial disputes between the employers and employees of 267 Mercantile Firms which include Kilburn & Co.
- (2) Reference by order No. 716-Lab., dated 31st October 1947, for adjudication of industrial disputes between the employers and employees of several Engineering Firms, which include the India General Navigation and Railway Co., Ltd., Messrs. Kilburn & Co., Managing Agents.

These seemingly overlapping references have invited some discussions from both sides. Two major Tribunals were appointed for adjudication of the aforesaid disputes. The Tribunal appointed under reference No. 716-Lab., dated the 31st October 1947, has since submitted its award. It may be mentioned that when the present reference was made, the disputes between Messrs. India General Navigation and Railway Co., Ltd., and their workers were subsisting. Hence the Government of West Bengal was perfectly justified in giving the present Tribunal for adjudication of the disputes. Although the Government has discretion in making a reference of any industrial dispute to a Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, unless it is imperative upon the Tribunal to hold its sittings and submit its award. The jurisdiction of the Tribunal in this connection is not in any way affected by the fact that there had been previous reference nor is the jurisdiction of the Tribunal to give an award is ousted by the fact that there has been a previous award. Now that the Tribunal has given its award and the award was published in the official Gazette, it will be incumbent on the part of the present Tribunal to ignore the award altogether. The disputes between employers and the workmen of the India General Navigation and Railway Co., Ltd., Messrs. Kilburn & Co., Managing Agents, described as an Engineering Industry in Kidderpore, Garden Reach, before the Engineering Tribunal and the award of the Engineering Tribunal is, binding upon employers and employees of all the Engineering Firms included in the order of reference No. 716-Lab., dated 31st October 1947, demands of the India General Navigation and Railway Company Employees' Union before for the clerks and other employees at different places, viz:—

- (a) at the Head Office at No. 4, Park Street, Calcutta,
- (b) at the floating workshops, otherwise known as "Narkunda" and "Egra",
- (c) at the Rajabagan Dockyard, Garden Reach, Kidderpore, including the shops at Kidderpore, and
- (d) in different vessels belonging to the company (the clerks being called flat clerks).

The Company is agreeable to recognise the India General Navigation and Railway Company Employees' Union as representative of employees of the Company at the Head Office, the Dockyard at Rajabagan, but disputes the Union's claim to represent the flat clerks and employees of the floating workshops. I propose to discuss at this stage whether the Company is bound to recognise the India General Navigation and Railway Company Employees' Union as representative of the flat clerks and employees of the floating workshops. Section 36 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, provides that a workman is entitled to be represented by an employee of a Registered Trade Union. It is not disputed that the present Union has flat clerks and employees of the floating workshops as its members. In this view of the case, the Union can represent the flat clerks and employees of the floating workshops. Even assuming that the flat clerks and employees of the floating workshops are not members of the present Union, the workmen at the Head Office and the Dockyard who are admitted to be represented by the present Union, are entitled to raise through the Union disputes connected with the employment, non-employment or the terms of the employment or the conditions of labour of the flat clerks and employees of the floating workshops. This is clear from the definition of "Industrial Dispute" which means any dispute or difference between employers and employees, or between employers and workmen, or between workmen and workmen, which is connected with the employment or non-employment or the terms of the employment or with the conditions of labour of any person. Hence I am clearly of opinion that the India General Navigation and Railway Company Employees' Union can represent the workmen under the India General Navigation and Railway Co., Ltd., whom it purports to represent.

next question is whether the workmen of this Tribunal are in any way affected by the award given by the major Tribunal appointed to settle the disputes of Engineering Firms. I have mentioned that the disputes between the India General Navigation and Railway Co., Ltd., Kilburn & Co., Managing Agents, were covered by the said reference (No. 716-Lab., dated 31st October 1947) and the award passed thereon. The workmen of the India General Navigation and Railway Co., Ltd., were represented before the said Tribunal by the Belur Iron and Steel Workers' Union. The India General Navigation and Railway Company Employees' Union appears to have authorised the Belur Iron and Steel Workers' Union to represent the case of the workmen of Messrs. India General Navigation and Railway Co., Ltd., in the Engineering Disputes Tribunal on behalf of the India General Navigation and Railway Company Employees' Union. A resolution dated the 17th November 1947 was contended on behalf of the Union that the Belur Iron and Steel Workers' Union was not authorised to represent only the operatives of the firm, but it has been urged that the workmen of the firm are bound by the award passed by the Engineering Disputes Tribunal if the Belur Iron and Steel Workers' Union had exceeded its authority. It has been contended that the award will not be binding on the workmen other than the operatives of the Dockyard if the Tribunal has exceeded the jurisdiction given to it by the order of reference. The order of reference to the Engineering Disputes Tribunal was wide enough to include the clerical and non-clerical staff of the offices of the Engineers, mentioned in the order of reference. The award was for adjudication of the disputes between the employers and workmen of a number of Engineering Firms, specified in two lists, appended to the order of reference. When we speak of the Engineering Industry, the Engineering Firms and the Engineering Firms we do not refer only to the workshops and the operatives of the firms, but here and exclude the establishment, clerical and other non-clerical workmen are included. The office establishment is part of the Engineering Firm and the Engineering Firm and the word "Workmen" in the order of reference, is sufficiently elastic to include clerical and non-clerical staff working in connection with the industry. For a correct interpretation of the order of reference No. 716-Lab., dated the 31st October 1947, we must refer to the definition of workmen as given in section 2 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. I need not discuss the difference between a "worker" under the Indian Factories Act and a "workman" under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. This has also been taken by the learned Adjudicators in the award. Specific issues were framed in the award on the basic pay, scales of pay, dearness allowance, etc., of the clerical staff and the workmen. These issues were considered by the learned Adjudicators with reference to the clerical and other unskilled workers of the firm and the Head Office of the Companies concerned. In this connection they have observed that in this connection they have observed that the question of clerical staff both in the Head Office and the Head Office of the Companies concerned. In this connection we may mention that the clerical staff of Jessop & Co. has been excluded from the operation of the award of this Tribunal for mercantile firms. The award of other companies have not obtained from the operation of the award of this Tribunal accordingly this Tribunal will bind only the staff of other companies." The mere fact that the Belur Iron and Steel Workers' Union was not authorised to represent the case of the clerical and non-clerical staff does not make the award of the Tribunal, appointed under order of reference No. 716-Lab., dated the 31st October 1947, inoperative as against the clerical and non-clerical staff of the India General Navigation and Railway Co., Ltd., other than the workers of the Dockyard, if really the clerical and non-clerical staff are covered by the order of reference. India General Navigation and Railway Co., Ltd., is mainly a transport industry. One of the branches carries on engineering industry and we must say that the transport industry is the main industry of the India General Navigation and Railway Company, Limited, and that the engineering workshop is only subsidiary to the main industry and on a correct interpretation of the order of reference, No. 716-Lab., dated 31st October 1947, I am clearly of opinion that it covers the employees of the Dockyard at Rajabagan, Garden Reach, Kidderpore, including their clerical and non-clerical staff connected with the Engineering Department. Under rule 15 of the rules framed under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the Tribunal can proceed ex parte if any party fails to attend or to be represented before it. Now that the order of reference clearly included the case of the clerical and non-clerical staff connected with the workshops of the India General Navigation and Railway Co., Ltd., at Rajabagan and gave jurisdiction to the Tribunal to adjudicate their case and that the learned Tribunal has given its award in terms of the order of reference. This award is undoubtedly binding upon the employees of the workshop at Rajabagan, including the clerical and non-clerical staff connected with the Engineering Department of the Company.

The next point for consideration is whether the employees of the Head Office are bound by the award. The observation of the learned Tribunal quoted above, may, at first sight, seem to indicate that the learned Tribunal gave its award for the Head Office of the India General Navigation and Railway Co., Ltd., at 4, Fairlie Place, Calcutta. I have already mentioned that the whole object of reference No. 716-Lab., dated 31st October 1947, was for adjudication of the disputes in the engineering industry between the employers and workmen of several firms. The main industry of the India General Navigation and Railway Co., Ltd., is transport and the Engineering Department is only subsidiary to it. A parent industry may sometimes include small industries, which are subsidiary to it, but not vice versa. It was very clear in the order of reference that the Engineering Department of the India General Navigation and Railway Company at Garden Reach, Kidderpore, was included in the order of reference. It is clear from paragraph 10 of the Company's statement that the Company itself did not intend that the disputes of its Head Office would be settled by the Engineering Tribunal. The Engineering Tribunal was constituted on the 31st October 1947. In a general meeting between the Company and the Employees' Union, held on 27th January 1948, in which a partner, Mr. R. J. L. Olley, the Executive Officer Mr. J. Saddler and several other officers represented the employers, some of the demands which are the subject matter of the present adjudication, appear to have been placed and the Chairman announced to hold up the questions till the general Tribunal for Mercantile Firms had given its award on those questions. A similar representative meeting appears to have been held on the 30th January 1948, in which both the employers and the employees were sufficiently represented. Having considered the materials before me, I hold that the award of the Engineering Tribunal is binding only on the workmen, clerical and non-clerical staff and operatives of the Dockyard at Garden Reach, Kidderpore. I may note here that Dr. H. G. Waight has also fairly conceded that the clerical and non-clerical staff of the Head Office are not hit by the award of the Engineering Tribunal. The award was a general award and the clause, "clerical staff of Head Office" in the passage from the award referred to above, refers to the Head Office of some firms other than the India General Navigation and Railway Co., Ltd., the main business of which is engineering industry.

That the disputes of the workmen of the Head Office, the floating workshop and the flat clerks or the floating staff have not as yet been settled by adjudication or otherwise, cannot be disputed. This Tribunal has, therefore, jurisdiction to adjudicate such disputes. Now about the disputes of the workmen of the Dockyard, my jurisdiction has not been ousted by the award given by the Engineering Tribunal. I can assume jurisdiction over these disputes. The only point for consideration is whether the parties are debarred from raising disputes after the award or whether it will be discreet on the part of the Tribunal to give a different award on the disputes adjudicated by the previous Tribunal so long as the previous award is in force. The whole object of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, is to settle industrial disputes and different machineries have been set up in the Act for the purpose. A tribunal brings about a compulsory settlement by adjudication, and after the disputes are adjudicated and the award is given and published, according to law, the disputes are, in the eye of law, finally settled. The award is binding upon both the employers and the employees, and as soon as the award is published, both parties are estopped by operation of law to urge before any other tribunal that the disputes of the workmen are still existing. If this is permitted, the whole object of the Industrial Disputes Act will be frustrated. Hence it will not be at all discreet on my part to adjudicate anew the same disputes of the employees of the Dockyard including the clerical and non-clerical staff of the office at Kidderpore including the shops and to give a new award unless there be a fresh reference after the award of the Engineering Tribunal ceases to have any force. The shop is a part of the Dockyard establishment, and the award given by the Engineering Tribunal should be followed there. For the "Egra" and "Narkunda" staff, they cannot be placed in any category different from the staff of the workshop at Rajabagan Dockyard. The establishment in the "Egra" and the "Narkunda" are called floating workshops. The nature of the work in the "Egra" and the "Narkunda" is presumed to be similar to that of the Engineering Department and by no stretch of imagination I can persuade myself to think that the staff of the floating workshop has any heavier and more onerous duty to perform, than that of the Dockyard. Any scheme for the floating workshop different from that of the Dockyard at Kidderpore is likely to bring in discontent and to disturb the peace of the industry. In these circumstances, I cannot but direct that the terms and conditions of service of the employees of the Rajabagan Dockyard together with the shop attached thereto and the floating workshop shall be governed by the award of the Engineering Tribunal already referred to subject to the modifications brought about by negotiations. The Company seems to be anxious to lay down the same scales of pay for the clerical staff in all its departments. I may in this connection refer to the Company's letter Nos. OS/300 of 17th February 1948 and OS/1648 of 15th September 1948 whereby the Company introduced a scale of pay for the clerical staff of the Dockyard similar to that existing in the Head Office; and for the semi-clerical post, the scale is Rs. 55-2/8-80. The Union demanded bonus in 1948. The Company advanced one month's basic pay to the clerical and menial staff of the Head Office, Rajabagan Dockyard, floating workshop and the flat clerks. The operatives at Rajabagan were given an advance of Rs. 20. These advances were recovered by the Company in six monthly instalments unless the Tribunal considers the advances as bonus. In the letter No. D.11.2363 the Company made it clear that if the result of the adjudication was in favour of paying one month's advance as bonus, all workmen would be similarly entitled. In the circumstances of the present case, although I keep the cases of the employees of the Rajabagan Workshop, floating workshops and the staff outside the present adjudication, I feel confident that the Company's anxieties to lay down the same terms and conditions of service for different employees in all the departments will help such negotiations to remove the difference. My considerations will be confined only to the clerical and the non-clerical staff of the Head Office and the flat clerks.

AWARD.

(1) The starting salary for a clerk should be Rs. 70, to be raised to Rs. 80 upon confirmation after three months and graduates and experienced men should get a starting salary of Rs. 100.

(2) The grades and scales should be as detailed below:—

- (b) For salaries above Rs. 100 up to Rs. 200—Rs. 20 per month.
- (c) For salaries above Rs. 200—10 per cent salary.

There was no defined grade or scale in the India General Navigation and Railway Co. before 1946. Grades and scales were introduced in 1947 to be in effect from August 1946. These grades and scales were introduced according to the recommendation of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. The grades and scales introduced by the India General Navigation and Railway Company, Limited, are as follows:—

Clerical.

- Special Grade—Rs. 250.
- Grade A—Rs. 150—10—250.
- Grade B—Rs. 100—7—170.
- Grade C—Rs. 64—4—124.
- Grade D—Rs. 60—3—90.

Non-clerical.

Rs. 22—1—25—1—32.

durwans and Rajput durwans—Rs. 35.
 mas, bearers, liftmen—Rs. 22—1—25—

Company has since been allowing dearness according to the sliding scale recommended by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. It is agreeable to accept the rules about dearness allowance. Under the scheme recommended by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce dearness allowance is at present the same for clerical and non-clerical staff. According to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, as introduced by the present Company the minimum total emoluments is Rs. 109 and that of a non-clerical staff is Rs. 69. The Company does not allow dearness allowance on the ground that cost index includes the costs of accommodation in Calcutta.

Recommendation of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce was based on certain figures compiled by a periodical "Capital" about the pre-war living of a middle class family and rise in prices then. We had occasion to look into the "Capital" on this point. The Bengal Chamber of Commerce "Capital" made no allowance for accommodation on the idea that the clerks live mostly in their own houses. Even assuming that they live in their own houses, the houses have a value and require periodical repairs and a tax has to be paid. In calculating a wage, cost of accommodation must be taken into account without reference to the private income of the employee, if any, ancestral or self-earned.

In 1948 the Bengal Chamber of Commerce connected the demand of its employees for an increase on the ground that this had been taken into account in fixing the salary. In this view of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce appears to have been correct. The present Company appears to have the same view. And I firmly believe that the Company would have made some allowance for dearness, had it not been labouring under a misconception that house rent allowance had been taken into account in fixing the salary, recommended by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. A few years have been taken by us in the award for the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and the scales have been recast by increasing the salary of each grade generally by Rs. 10. I adopt the same principle in the present case also. We are adopting substantially similar scales and the procedure of the mercantile firms in Calcutta and the procedure I propose to adopt may refer here to a paragraph of the statement of the Company:

"Company consider it most important that all firms should keep in line in the matter of pay and feel that this question should be referred to the mercantile firms Tribunal."

Accordingly the following shall be the grades and scales:

For clerical staff.

Grade—Rs. 260 upwards.

A—Rs. 160—10—260.

B—Rs. 110—7—180.

C—Rs. 70—4—134.

D—Rs. 70—3—130.

Stenographers—Rs. 80—8—160 (E.B.)
 —10—260.

Many typists shall get Grade C.

For Sircars (Matriculates).

Rs. 2—85 (E.B.)—3—130.

For Sircars (non-Matriculates)

Rs. 46—1—50 (E.B.)—2—70.

For the subordinate staff under the Company, the minimum total emolument is Rs. 69. This is considered sufficient. The minimum basic salary is however too low. This has been compensated by a liberal dearness allowance. Although the total emoluments do not call for any increment I feel that the basic salary is too low. The minimum basic salary should be pulled up to Rs. 30. All members of the subordinate staff shall get a flat increment of Rs. 10 and an adjustment should be made by a corresponding deduction from the present dearness allowance. I lay down the following grades and scales for the subordinate staff:—

Subordinate Staff.

Dufftries—Rs. 32—1—36 (E.B.)—1—42.

Punjabi durwans and Rajput durwans—Rs. 45

Khansamas, bearers and liftmen—Rs. 32—1—36 (E.B.)—1—42.

Peons and sweepers—Rs. 30—1—33 (E.B.)—1 —40.

Although I feel that the present alteration in the wages and scales of pay may affect the finance of the Company, I cannot but adopt them in view of the fact that substantially similar grades and scales are being awarded in the majority of the commercial establishments in Calcutta. The grades and scales in neighbouring comparable industries are the most important guiding principle, in revising the grades and scales and in settling industrial disputes on these points.

For the clerical staff, the existing scheme for dearness allowance shall continue. And for the subordinate staff the existing dearness allowance shall be reduced by Rs. 10 to compensate for the increments in the basic salary. I do not allow any separate house rent allowance. This has been taken into account in revising the existing grades and scales of basic salary. The ceiling and the scales of increment for the Special Grade are left to the discretion of the Company and shall be fixed by the Company having regard to the nature of the job, responsibility and other factors.

The sectional heads, and the Book-keepers in the important departments shall be placed in the Special Grade and in other departments in Grade A. I do not propose to lay down separate grades and scales of pay for employees doing different works in different departments. For, in the absence of sufficient materials, it is not possible to evaluate the different job properly. This is left to the discretion of the employer with this recommendation that in placing the clerks in different grades, the Company should not, to the prejudice of any clerk, deviate from the practice hitherto followed. For the flat clerks, the Company shall decide, on proper valuation of the jobs, whether it will retain all the grades A, B, C, D or dispense with any of them. The flat clerks will be entitled to transfer and to promotion to the higher grades in the office, if found efficient.

The demand of the Union that each employee should be given seniority within the grade in which he has been placed according to his years of service seems to be quite unreasonable. Like many other commercial firms, there were no grades and scales of pay till recently. Each and every employee took service under the Company with full knowledge of the pay he had accepted. When he accepted the post, the pay offered must be presumed to have been considered adequate for him. For the last few years there has been a cry for improvement of the pay-scale on account of a rise of the price of essential commodities. The Company introduced gradation in 1947 with retrospective effect from 1946 and placed the employees in different grades, according to their respective efficiency, ability and other considerations. The experience gathered during the service under the Company contributed substantially to the efficiency he had acquired when the grading was introduced. It is neither possible nor practicable for me to say at this stage anything about initial efficiency of an employee when he was appointed. I am therefore not in a position to decide in which grade a clerk should have been appointed initially. Besides, it is absurd to think that whatever improvement is introduced for the benefit of the employees should be given effect to 20 or 30 years back. The benefit which is extended to the employees is related to the conditions obtaining at the time when the benefit is given. It is not practicable for me to ascertain the conditions existing 20 or 30 years back. If each and every benefit is to be extended with retrospective effect so far back as 20 or 30 years, most of the commercial concerns are bound to collapse. I do not accordingly find any substance in this demand of the Union. The clerks appear to have been given some seniority in the grade in which they were placed in 1947.

The seniority of a particular clerk in the grade appears to have been assessed on the efficiency calculated on the service record and recommendations of the departmental heads at the time when the grading was introduced. In the absence of a positive case that there was any mistake in the grading of any particular officer, the grading adopted by the Company cannot but stand. In any case, it will not be advisable on my part to interfere with the grading unless and until it is proved that the grading of any particular officer was prompted by any unfair labour practice and a spirit of victimisation. There is no such suggestion here. I accordingly adopt the grading made by the Company.

The financial year of the Company closes on the 31st December each year and the new financial year begins on the 1st January. In calculating increments of the employees the Company appears to have based its calculation on the English calendar year. From the discussions which took place before me, part of a year was taken as the nearest full year. Service less than six months was ignored and service for six months or more was taken as full one year's service. The pay of an employee on 1st August 1946 was considered what it would have been on 31st December 1946. Hence what was said about the seniority and pay in August 1946, was what would have been on 31st December 1946. Therefore, the next annual increment of an employee was to be due on 1st January 1948. The Company appears to have allowed the usual annual increments due on 1st January 1948 and 1st January 1949. On a scrutiny of salary accounts of the clerks, I find that in fixing the salary of some of the clerks in the grade in which they have been placed, the calculations did not correspond to the seniority given to them. I may note a few instances:—

		Years.	Rs.	Rs.
Krishnadhan Chatterji.	C	5	(a) 76	80	(a) It should have been Rs. 80 plus (4 × 5), i. e., Rs. 80.
Dhirendra Nath Mukherji.	D	1	(b) 60	62	(b) It should have been Rs. 60 plus 2 or Rs. 62.
Samarendra Nath Aich.	A	4	(c) 180	190	(c) It should have been Rs. 150 plus (10 × 4), i. e., Rs. 190.

Many similar instances of miscalculations be found in the salary accounts. I have only a few instances. My award is that the of the clerks in respect of whom there have such mistakes, shall be revised by the Company and the mistakes shall be rectified within a month of the publication of the award. They shall be paid what it would have been due to them correct calculations with effect from the date to which the new grading was given effect to and annual increments shall be given on the date arrived at after correction of mistakes. The mistakes in calculation do not affect those who were placed in a particular grade and promoted to the next higher grade simultaneously, i. e., a effect from the same date. In some cases, mistakes in calculation are to the advantage of the employees. As for instance, I may refer to the case of Bimal Kumar Ghosh who was given 10 years' seniority in Grade A in 1946 and his salary was increased to Rs. 180. This should have been Rs. 170. I do not propose to interfere in such cases, and I direct that the benefit which employees have got on account of mistakes in calculation shall not be withdrawn.

The next question for consideration is the fitting of the existing staff into the new grades scales of salary. My direction is that all members of the clerical and subordinate staffs shall be given a flat increment of Rs. 10. If by such increment the pay of any workman does not reconcile with any stage in the revised scales he shall be placed at the next higher stage. In view of the fact that the case has been pending, for untold reasons for a pretty long time, the employees shall be given the benefit of the increased pay with effect from 1st January 1949. These adjustments shall be made on the salary of the employees which they got after the annual increment due on 1st January 1949.

Point No. 5: Security of Service.

The parties have come to terms on this point. They have filed the terms of settlement signed by the representatives of both the parties. The terms of settlement, which is Annexure A, shall be part of this award.

Points Nos. 6 and 7: Methods of Recruitment and Promotion.

The Union demands (1) that relations between employees should be given preference; (2) that in all cases of new appointments, the Union should be consulted; and (3) that at least 50 per cent of vacancies of the Supervisors and Officers' posts should be filled in from amongst the members of the clerical staff, according to seniority, efficiency and that a proper and a permanent machinery should be set up in which the Company and the Union shall be jointly represented in examining the efficiency of the claimants for determining the promotion.

The Company is not agreeable to the Union having any hand in the matter of promotion and recruitment. The Company is the best judge of the industry and it is not desirable that it should be any middle man in matters of recruitment and promotion. Consultation with the Union has both advantages and disadvantages. The Company of the India General Navigation and Railways Company Employees' Union do not seem to be obstructive, but it is not known if the view of the policy will change with the change of personnel nor are we aware if any rival Union will take a different view will not spring up in future. If the Union is found helpful, the employees should naturally consult, in the interests of the industry, the Union in all matters. I do not propose to lay down any rigid rule on this point; for, any such rule is likely to fetter the free will of new recruits and employees entitled to promotion. It is hardly to be expected that the Union will recommend one, who, although highly qualified, refuses to than one who although less qualified gives place to join the Union. I may be permitted to observe that the right claimed by the Union will be available to it as a matter of course by compulsion when it is found helpful. The Union demands depends on the feelings of trust and confidence. It can neither be demanded nor obtained by a decree or command. The direction by the Tribunal on this point is to tend to nurse more grievance and bitterness. On a careful consideration of the proposals I reject the demand of the Union on this

As to the other points there was substantial agreement between the parties and my award is—Retrenched employees, if qualified, shall be given the first preference.

In the absence of any qualified retrenched employees, relations of employees, retired or in service, shall be given preference if their qualifications and experience are not below those of other employees. Between relations of employees, the preference shall go to the more qualified.

Grades C and D shall not cover more than 10 per cent. of the total strength of the clerical

10 per cent. of the vacancies in the grades of Clerks and Supervisors shall be filled from among the clerks, provided they have the necessary minimum qualifications and experience. This is likely to increase the outlook and efficiency of the clerical staff.

Save in exceptional cases, new recruits shall, as a general rule, be placed at the bottom of the grade, with this exception that graduates shall be placed in any grade below Grade C. I recommend that the Company should see that graduates are generally placed in Grade B. This will not bar a man with extra efficiency and experience to be placed in any of the higher grades. A man with similar efficiency and experience not available for promotion from any of the grades.

Whenever vacancies occur, an advertisement shall be issued giving the minimum qualifications and experience and invite applications from the employees as well.

Appointment to any of the higher grades shall be subject to what has been said above, but shall be filled up by promotion from the lower

In the matter of all promotions, seniority, efficiency and experience shall be taken into account. In cases of fresh recruitments or promotion from the lower to the higher grades or ranks, the recruits as also the promoted employees shall be placed at the bottom of the grades to which they have been appointed or promoted, e.g., a new recruit eligible for appointment in Grade B or any employee eligible for promotion in Grade B shall be placed at the bottom of Grade B and shall not be entitled to occupy any position over the employees of Grade B.

There shall not be any supersession except for valid reasons. In all cases, victims shall be given an opportunity to explain the circumstances leading to their supersession.

In all matters of recruitment and promotion the head of the department concerned shall be consulted; for, he is ultimately responsible for the efficiency of his own department.

In matters of promotion, service record and efficiency of the head of the department to which the employee belongs shall be considered, among other things, in assessing the efficiency of the employee. These rules shall apply to all departments of the Company to which the award of the Tribunal is not made applicable. In those departments to which the said award is made applicable, these rules will apply so far as they are not in any contradiction to the said award.

Points Nos. 8, 9, 10 and 11: Age of Retirement; Provident Fund; Pension and Gratuity in lieu of Pension.

After a long discussion on these points with the lawyers of both sides, I am inclined to give the following directions:—

(1) There shall be compulsory retirement of employees of the Company of all categories on completion of the age of 60, irrespective of their length of service in the Company.

(2) Matriculation certificates or in the absence of Matriculation certificates, declarations by the employees by affidavits shall usually be considered as sufficient proof of the age of the employees.

(3) Those of the employees who have already attained 60 years but are still in service shall be compelled to retire with clear three months' notice ending with an English calendar month. The notice shall be given within a fortnight from the date of publication of this award. They shall be given all privileges they are entitled to either existing or under this award.

(4) An employee shall be given an extension only in exceptional circumstances in the interests of the industry concerned. An employee shall be permitted to retire voluntarily usually after completion of 30 years of service even though he has not completed 60 years of age, or earlier on medical grounds.

(5) About old age provision, the Company has a Provident Fund. Besides, it allows gratuity to its employees who have completed 10 years of service at the rate of one month's pay for each year of service over 10 years up to the maximum of 15 months' pay less half the Company's contribution to the Provident Fund. This gratuity is at present at the discretion of the Company. Under the Provident Fund Scheme for the clerical staff, an employee whose monthly salary is either Rs. 15 or more and is 18 years of age or upwards has got to contribute $7\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. of his salary and an equal amount is added to this by the Company at the end of the year. At present there is no employee in the clerical grade drawing less than Rs. 15. The Company introduced a separate scheme for menials called the Menial Retirement Fund. This appears to have been introduced in July 1939. The menials have to subscribe Re. 1 per month irrespective of the amount of pay. The Union demands that all the employees drawing less than Rs. 500 shall be permitted to subscribe $8\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. of the salary and that the Company shall contribute an equal sum as its contribution. In many of the commercial firms, the contribution on both sides has been increased to 10 per cent. of the salary of an employee. There is no special feature either in the Provident Fund Scheme or in the Gratuity Scheme of the Company which may justify me in refusing to increase the employees' subscriptions and the employers' contributions to the Provident Fund to $8\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. of the salary, as demanded. I accordingly increase the rate of subscription by the employee and contribution by the employer to $8\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. of the basic salary on each side, for the clerical staff. For the subordinate staff, the rate of subscription and contribution is raised to $6\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. of the basic pay.

The existing gratuity scheme does not appeal to me. I am inclined to make slight alterations in the scheme. Instead of allowing one month's salary for each completed year of service over 10 years I direct that calculations shall be made at half month's salary for each completed year of service from the very beginning subject to a maximum of 15 months' salary in the whole service, calculated at the rate of salary last drawn by the employee concerned. The payment shall not be left entirely to the discretion of the Company. It shall be payable to the employees under the following conditions:—

- (1) On the death of an employee while in the service of the Company or on his physical and mental disability to continue further in service—Half month's salary for each completed year of service' subject to a maximum of 15 months' salary to be paid to his heirs or assignees or to the disabled employee as the case may be.
- (2) On voluntary retirement or resignation of an employee after 20 years—Half month's salary for each completed year of service subject to a maximum of 15 months' salary.
- (3) On termination of service by the Company on completion of 10 years of service or over—Half month's salary for each completed year of service but not more than 15 months' salary.

No portion of the employer's contribution to the Provident Fund shall be deducted to make up the gratuity. No employee dismissed for misconduct shall be entitled to any gratuity.

The rules of the General Provident Fund Scheme of the Company is Annexure C to the written statement of the Company. The Union urges that rules 12, 14(a) and 21 should either be deleted or modified. Rule 12 relates to withdrawal of the Company's contribution either entirely or in part under circumstances specified in the rule. This rule serves as a check upon voluntary resignation of an employee without any ground. I am not inclined to interfere with this rule materially. An employee is entitled, under the existing rules, to full contribution of the Company, on voluntary resignation after completion of 19 years' service. Provision has been made to pay the full contribution of the Company to an employee if termination of his service is occasioned earlier by his death or his resignation or his dismissal by the Company on the ground of illness or age or accident caused in the service of the Company. My only direction is that a rule should be added to make it clear that an employee whose services are terminated before the minimum period referred to in rule 12 by retrenchment of staff, shall be entitled to the full contribution of the Company with interest. Rule 14(a) follows as a necessary corollary to rules 12 and 14 and I do not propose to interfere with this rule. About rule 21 the suggestion for deleting or altering the rule does not appeal to me. It is prompted by groundless suspicion against the personnel of the Arbitration Board. The fact that the Arbitration Board is to be appointed by the Company does not necessarily indicate that the decision of the Arbitration Board will unreasonably be against the employees. Such suspicion is not in keeping with broad-mindedness, which alone can bring in peace in industry. The source from which such Arbitrators are to be drawn and the position and dignity of the Arbitrators are sufficient to justify a presumption that the Arbitrators will give an unbiased decision on the points referred to them.

The Provident Fund Scheme of the Company with a contribution on either side of 8½ per cent. of the salary of an employee together with the gratuity scheme as modified by the award is considered sufficient provision for the old age. The Union demands, in addition to Provident Fund, pension for an employee who has retired on completion of 25 years' service at half month's pay as on the date of retirement, till his death. It also demands pension for an employee who has retired on medical grounds after completion of 15 years of service at one-fourth of his full pay. The Company pleads inability to extend this pension to its employees. There was much discussion about the existence of a Pension Fund. Till recently the Company was not in a position to meet its full contribution to the employees' Provident Fund out of its profits. Previously the contribution by the Company was much less. To ensure full contribution by the Company, the Directors passed a resolution in 1946, at the rate of 5 per cent. on a maximum of £20,000 subsequently increased to £50,000 and be made available to meet the deficiency in contribution up to 100 per cent. of that of the employees in those years in which the profits were insufficient. This fund was called the Pension Provident Guarantee Fund. Actually there was a separate and distinct existence of this Fund. It was purely a book transaction and part of the general reserves of the Company. The interest on this amount appears to have been utilised in making good the deficiency of the Company's contribution as stated above. In a few desperate cases the Company allowed compassionate pension. After meeting the Company's full contribution to the Provident Fund, there will be hardly sufficient money out of the interest to meet the demands of the Union for pension of the employees. It appears that the Company was long thinking of increasing the fund so that it might allow pension to the employees. This sympathy of the Company for the employees, both in word and action, is laudable, and I hope the Company will not grow cold towards the employees if its finances permit. For the present I am not in a position to direct the Company to pay all its employees' pension demanded. I, however, recommend that the Company will continue to extend compassionate pension to deserving candidates as it has hitherto done.

The Union also demands gratuity in lieu of pension. It demands gratuity for those who have not earned pension and for those who could not get the benefit of the Provident Fund Scheme of the Company on the ground that their pay was low. The Company allows gratuity to employees at its discretion. After hearing both parties I am clearly of opinion that the gratuity scheme which is in existence, shall be extended to all employees with the exception of those who are dismissed or discharged on the ground of misconduct or who voluntarily resign, except on medical grounds, before completion of 20 years of service.

Point No. 12: Bonus.

There was much discussion as to whether bonus is or is not an ex-gratia payment. This point has been thrashed in several awards and an ex-gratia theory no longer finds favour with Industrial Courts. There has been, in recent years, a growing recognition of the workmen's claim for bonus in industrial concerns. I do not propose to discuss at length the legal position of the claim. The legal position of the claim has been discussed at length in the award of the Cotton Textile Industry. The only just and equitable principle upon which an employer may be called upon to grant bonus to the employees is to consider the amount of profits made by the employer in a given year and the general financial condition of the concern and its capacity to bear the burden of granting bonus without impairing the efficiency of the industry or injuring the health of its employees in any vital matters. It is clear therefore that bonus is dependent on the prosperity of the business and is a matter of concern to all employees. The Union demands at least 1½ months' basic pay as bonus to all employees, irrespective of profit or loss of the Company, in addition to profit-sharing bonus. These demands seem to be quite unreasonable. It was customary with the Company to give bonus to its employees generally before the Durga Puja for every year prior to 1946. At that time the Company was not paying profits. During these years the officers were paid some commission. The bonus to the officers and subordinate staff and commission to the officers were discontinued with effect from 1946, when the Company is said to have incurred losses.

that the Company earned some profits, the profit was not very substantial. Prior to the Company earned huge profits but the profit was not linked with profits. So far as 1948, I consider that it will be at all equitable to link bonus with profit actually earned when it is linked in any of the profit years prior to 1948. The Company made some advances to its employees on the distinct understanding that if the Tribunal does not rule the advances to be recovered, the advances would be recovered. The advances which had been allowed to the officers and to their salary has since been discontinued. A good portion of the commission has been consolidated with their basic salary. On a careful consideration of the facts and circumstances of the case I hold that in profit years employees shall be given one month's salary per year irrespective of the extent of the profit. This payment shall be made preferably in annual Pujā holidays. The advance shall be considered as bonus. I cannot give bonus for the year 1947 which was a loss year. The advance made for 1947 shall be paid in nine equal monthly instalments. If any advance has been made from the advances of 1947, recovery shall be credited against the advance for 1947. Necessary adjustments shall be made. About the Union's demand for 1946, I must say that there was no agreement with the Company to give bonus to its employees irrespective of profit and loss. It is only a presumption that in the profit years employees are entitled to some bonus as a condition of its service. But no such bonus can be made for bonus for any year in which there has been no profit. I accordingly reject the Union's demand for bonus for 1946.

Point No. 14: Medical Aid.

The Company has printed rules for medical aid. Annexure E to the Company's statement propose to enlarge upon the scheme. I suggest some modifications to enable the employees to get full benefit of the existing scheme. I enable an employee unable to attend Head Office to get full benefit of the rules by production of a certificate of a registered medical practitioner. The Company may, however, permit its doctor to the employee's house either at home or in the mufassils where the employee is ill and have him examined by the doctor. I hold that the Company's doctor will be able to accurately the ailment and its duration if the employee has completely recovered and is fit to attend office. The employees are given the privilege to consult an outside doctor, without prior sanction, in acute cases or in cases of emergency when previous sanction is not possible without risk or delay.

Point No. 15: Free Tiffin.

As we have given the employees reasonably free tiffin by the Union's demand for free tiffin is rejected. I only recommend that a canteen may be set up to enable the employees to get tiffin at a reasonable cost price or at a price lower than the market price.

Points 16, 17 and 18: Working hours; Payment for overtime and payment for works on holidays and holidays.

Demands of the Union are for reduction of working hours on Saturday and for overtime payment on week days at Re. 1 per hour for the staff and 8 annas per hour for the non-staff and two days' extra pay for work on Sundays and Saturdays. The existing working conditions of the staff are as follows:—

Head Office.

Clerical Staff.—Monday to Friday—10 a.m. to 5 p.m. with tiffin interval of half an hour.

(b) Saturday.—10 a.m. to 2 p.m. without any interval.

(c) Non-clerical staff.—Normal working hours are the same as above but in some cases where longer hours are worked, the actual works do not exceed 8 hours a day.

The Company states that they are usually staggered and in no case they actually work more than eight hours a day. Drivers' hours are not fixed but they are said to have much free time during the day and the Company states that they are paid for early morning attendance before 7 a.m. and late attendance after 6 p.m. Durwans are on duty night and day but by arrangement by shifts the duty of a durwan does not exceed eight hours a day.

(d) Transport Department.—On account of the river work, which they have to do, the hours of the Munshis are generally 6 to 10 a.m. and 11-30 a.m. to 5 p.m. The Company is, however, agreeable to pay these men overtime.

(e) Shalimar Coal Depot.—The clerks have to be on duty from 6-30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and they are said to be employed for actual work for ten hours a day on week days and Sundays. Khalasis' works are variable but they are said to have a good deal of time off. So far as the Dockyard staff, shop clerks and staff of the floating workshops are concerned, they are to be governed by the award of the Engineering Tribunal. The establishment, with the exception of the workshops, is governed by the Bengal Shops and Establishments Act. In my opinion, the working hours for the clerical staff are quite fair, and I am not inclined to reduce the working hours for the clerks. Any rigid rule for payment of overtime to the clerks is likely to bring in lethargy. It is presumed that normal works of a day must be finished within the working hours. The employee shall be entitled to overtime payment only when he is called upon to do any additional work and such overtime allowance shall be payable only when the departmental head so certifies. I am not also inclined to alter the working hours of the employees of other description under the Company. For allowance for overtime work on week-days under circumstances discussed above, I lay down the following rules:—

(1) If any clerk or a member of the subordinate staff, with the exception of drivers and durwans, is detained beyond 5 p.m. on week-days and after 2 p.m. on Saturdays for more than half an hour under orders of the departmental head, he shall receive extra payment at 1.25 times the normal rate of wages calculated per hour. Half an hour or part of an hour over half an hour shall be taken as one full hour and part of an hour less than half an hour shall be ignored.

(2) The works of the drivers shall be distributed in such a way that they are not actually detained for more than eight hours a day on each of the week-days, Monday to Friday, and four hours on Saturday. If their services are not required during any interval, they should be permitted to leave the office. If he is detained beyond the aforesaid hours, he should receive extra payment at 1.25 the normal rate of their wages per hour. Part of an hour less than half an hour in a day shall be ignored and half an hour or more shall be treated as one full hour. Members of the transport staff shall be paid at 1.50 times the normal rates for working beyond the usual office hours of the Company. Hours shall be computed as directed above.

The employees of the Shalimar Coal Depot shall also receive extra payment for overtime work according to the principle enunciated above, i.e., 1.50 times the normal rates.

For working on Sundays and holidays the Union's demand for payment of extra two days' salary for each day cannot be justified. Considering the conditions of service under the Company,

I think that a substituted holiday for each Sunday or holiday worked is sufficient compensation to the employees. The Central Pay Commission has discouraged extra payment for work on Sundays and holidays except where there is a special strain or prolonged employment during night or where such employment is frequent. Those who are employed on Sundays and holidays very frequently shall get double their normal pay (i.e., one extra) for Sundays and holidays worked without any substituted holiday. Those who are employed on three Sundays or holidays or more in a month shall be deemed to have been frequently employed during Sundays and holidays. For shop clerks whose work is tied with that of the operatives of the Dockyard, the working hours and rates of overtime payment shall be similar to those of the operatives of the workshop, as directed by the award of the Engineering Tribunal. It has been agreed that the employees of the Transport Department shall get twice the normal pay for Sundays and holidays worked. Durwans and khalasis shall not get any overtime, for by terms and conditions of their service they are to be on duty for 24 hours. They may arrange among themselves for some off-time, provided works do not suffer.

Point No. 19: Leave.

I have already stated that the establishment under the India General Navigation and Railway Co., Ltd., with the exception of the workshops, is governed by the Bengal Shops and Establishments Act. Undoubtedly, the establishment is a commercial establishment as defined in section 2(2) of the Act. The word "forwarding" in the definition is sufficient to comprehend intercourse for the purposes of trade in any and all its forms including transport of commodities between citizens of one country to the citizens or subjects of other countries or between the citizens of different provinces in the same state or country. It has been held that Railroad Corporations are Commercial Corporations. Under the Commercial Documents Evidence Act, presumption of accuracy has been extended to passenger ticket issued by the Steamship Company. From these I am clearly of opinion that the establishment is governed by the Bengal Shops and Establishments Act. Section 12 of the Shops and Establishments Act, 1940, prescribes the maximum leave available to a person employed in a commercial establishment. I have no jurisdiction to exceed this statutory limit. The leave rules of the India General Navigation and Railway Company are not less favourable than the statutory provision under the said Act. I am, therefore, not in a position to accede to the demand of the Union on this point. I, however, recommend that the Company should amend the leave rules so far as they relate to sick leave so that sick leave may be granted to the employees, unable to attend the dispensary of the Company's doctor, on the certificate of a registered medical practitioner as already indicated in my recommendations on point No. 14, and sick leave may be tacked with privilege leave.

Point No. 20: Recognition of the Union.

An Act has been passed for the purpose and a different Tribunal is likely to be set up to deal with the question of recognition of Unions by employers. This point is accordingly left out undecided.

Point No. 21: Grievances affecting Individuals.

(i) Duties of transport department staff.—The disputes on this point have been settled out of court in the following ways:—

- (1) Special consideration will be given to Munshi Abdul Kader's case.
- (2) Habibur Rahman will be regraded from Grade C to B. His basic salary in B grade will be Rs. 107 per month from 1st September 1948.

- (3) Md. Ibrahim will be regraded from C. His salary in Grade C will be Rs. 107 per month from 1st September 1948.
- (4) Mantu Charan Bose will be regraded D to C. His salary will be Rs. 107 per month from 1st September 1948.

It has been agreed that overtime at the 1½ times the ordinary rate of pay will be given to any of the abovementioned employees who are required to work in excess over eight hours a day on week days. If they are required to work on Sundays, they will receive double pay, a overtime work they will be paid at twice the ordinary rate of pay. The agreement regarding payment of overtime will be operative from 16th of August 1948. Since the scales of clerical grades have been increased by Rs. 10, I recommend that the benefit which has been given by this award to all clerks be extended to the persons also.

(ii) Pay of Vaidram and Satyanarayan

These two employees originally belonged to subordinate staff (menials). By experience they acquired some efficiency and could do some works, which are usually done by clerks, but did not, however, acquire such efficiency to justify them being placed in the clerical grade. The Company created an intermediate grade between Sircar's grade and decided to place these two employees in the Sircar's grade. Vaidram self admits that he cannot draft long letters, does not do all the works, which his peers who were clerks, used to do. Satyanarayan cannot write correct English. As a peon he used to arrange letters and place them before the clerks and to send them to the proper department. He did sorting at times. The nature of his work is hardly different from what he was as a peon. I have tested these two employees and am clearly of opinion that they are not fit to be classed as clerks. Vaidram who has completed 10 years of service has already been placed in Sircar's grade and is getting Rs. 50 per month. He has been given 10 years' seniority. Satyanarayan Das will be placed in that grade with effect from 1st September 1949. He has completed 24 years' service and is at present drawing Rs. 40 per month. He appears to have been, at present, promoted to be an apprentice. He is getting Rs. 40 per month, on condition that he passes his Matriculation Examination, his further promotion will be considered. It is understood that it will be some 3 or 4 years before he is in a position to sit for the examination. He has been given 6 years' seniority. It appears the Company gave seniority to these two persons at the rate of one year's seniority for every four years of service. In making the calculation for length of service, the nearest multiple of 4 years is taken. The principle is very sound. But as I have increased the scales of Sircar's grade from Rs. 10, these two Sircars shall be given the benefit with effect from 1st January 1949.

(iii) Dockyard shop clerks.—(a) Eggs, "Narkunda" staff and Rajabagan staff.—These shall be governed by the award of the Engineering Tribunal.

(v) Flat clerks.—(a) Travelling allowance.—The different employees shall be given the following allowances for transfer from one place to another or to attend courts so long as they are absent from headquarters or vessels:—

- Employees drawing up to Rs. 50 per month—Rs. 1-8 per diem.
- Employees drawing above Rs. 50 up to Rs. 75—Rs. 1-12 per diem.
- Employees drawing above Rs. 75 up to Rs. 100—Rs. 2-8 per diem.
- Masters, Drivers, Grade I—Rs. 2 per diem.
- Secondaries and engine room tindals—Rs. 1-8 per diem.

firemen and menials, deck and engine room crews—Rs. 1 per diem.
and Drivers, Grades II, III and IV—Rs. 1-8 per diem.

allowances are for board and lodge. All pocket expenses, railway fare, ghari hire shall be paid by the Company (vide 78 of 1st July 1929, 1092 of 2nd December 1165 of 17th June 1943).

Flat clerks do not get the benefit of holidays of 1½ days. They are equitably compensated by compensatory holidays for the 52 and 52 half days (Saturdays) worked in addition to the statutory holidays. They get 1 month's privilege leave as against 10 days' casual leave and 10 days' casual leave for the employees of the subordinate staff. It demands 15 days' leave with pay on completion of 3 months' continuous service. My flat clerks shall either be allowed leave and holidays prescribed for the clerks by arranging shifts or shall be given 2 days' leave with pay on completion of 3 months' continuous service accumulation up to 15 days. This leave shall cover the general leave, casual leave and holidays prescribed for clerical staff. The Company is given the right to elect between the two schemes and shall adopt the scheme which it intends to adopt one month from the date of publication of this

I must thank the lawyers and the friends of the parties who assisted me in this award.

This award shall not deprive any workman of any award given by the Company over and above what has been given by this award.

Matter of an industrial dispute between the Management of the India Electric Works, Ltd., Diamond Harbour Road, post office Behala, 24-Parganas, and their workmen represented by India Electric Works Mazdoor Union, Banamali Ghosal Lane, Behala, 24-Parganas, and India Electric Works Employees' Association, 7/1D, Gorchha 2nd Lane, post office Ballygunge, Calcutta, in connection with the questions relating to fixation of working hours for the clerical staff employed at the factory of the said Company and rules, as to Provident Fund.

SRI P. R. MUKHERJI, Judge,
Industrial Tribunal.

Company: (1) Shayam Singh Rohatgi, Secretary, and (2) C. K. Asthana, Labour Effort Officer of Engineering Association.

Union: (1) Sri Nalini Mohon Das Gupta, Leader, (2) Sri Profulla Kumar Dutta, Secretary, and (3) Sri Sukharanjan Banerji, Vice-president.

AWARD.

Government order No. 3969Lab., dated the 3rd November 1948, the above dispute was referred for adjudication under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The case of the Union is that the clerical staff have grievances regarding working hours, Provident Fund, bonus and other matters for a period for which the Government referred the dispute previously to the Tribunal of Sri S. C. Chakraverty who gave the award on 6th November 1948. In the said award, the above Tribunal left the fixation of working hours to the discretion of the Company and directed that the Provident Fund was to be made in consultation with the Union.

Regarding working hours, the clerical staff of the Company are all along being forced to work from 8-30 a.m. to 5-30 p.m. with an interval of half an hour. It is stated that after the award, the Company allowed only the following departments to work from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.:—

- (1) Accounts Section.
- (2) Type Section.
- (3) Record Section.

The Union alleges that soon after the expiry of the award of Sri S. C. Chakraverty, this concession was withheld and all the clerks were forced to work from 8-30 a.m. to 5-30 p.m. The Union now prays that the working hours of the clerical staff of the Company be fixed from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. from Monday to Friday with recess of half an hour and from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturdays as followed by other offices and Companies and as recommended by the authorities in the matter.

Regarding Provident Fund and bonus, no dispute was raised before me.

The Company submits a long written statement in which it is asserted that after the expiry of the award of Sri S. C. Chakraverty on the 31st January 1948, the Company could not and did not revert to its old timings for another adjudication proceedings were pending before the Major Engineering Tribunal which was set up by the Government of West Bengal. Consequently, the status quo had to be maintained as this Company was a party to the dispute before the Engineering Tribunal. It was only when the award of the Engineering Tribunal was published on the 3rd July 1948, that the Company reverted to its original timings for the clerical staff with effect from the 3rd August 1948.

It is also stated that since its inception in the year 1921, the India Electric Works Factory and its office had been working all along as one single homogeneous unit. As such all the departments connected with the factory and its office are so much inter-related and inter-dependant that it is almost impossible to draw any definite line of demarcation between the working hours of the clerical staff employed in the factory and its office.

ISSUES.

1. Is the dispute maintainable in view of the fact that there had already been a decision on the point by the Major Engineering Tribunal?
2. Fixation of working hours of the clerical staff of the Company including its head office (excluding workers under the Factories Act).

DECISION.

Issues Nos. 1 and 2.

Regarding non-factory clerks, there was no adjudication by the Major Engineering Tribunal. It is urged, however, that inasmuch as this point was not raised by the particular Union which was a party to the Engineering Tribunal, they are debarred from raising this point now.

The question if the Union is precluded from raising the controversy now is academic, for the life of the Engineering Tribunal award expired on 31st March 1949 and this point can now easily be re-agitated.

Leaving aside, therefore, all these controversial questions, the simple point for adjudication before me is if all the clerks are part and parcel of the factory or in other words, if the clerks can conveniently be allotted into factory and non-factory categories without prejudicially affecting the harmonious running of the factory. I had myself been in the factory and my impression is that only the clerks mentioned in Schedule I can be said to belong to factory and part and parcel of factory. As regards other clerks, I am of opinion, that they are not at all factory clerks and as such their working hours should be guided by different principle and procedure. The Company has submitted a long written statement in which they tried to show that all the clerks are part and parcel of the factory and that allotment of duties, if separately made, will prejudicially affect and hamper the working of the factory. On a careful consideration of all the facts and circumstances and on my personal inspection, my impression is that the Company is unnecessarily insisting the same working hours for all the clerks. It is significant that after the award of Sri Chakraverty, the Company had practically separated the working hours of non-factory clerks and not a whisper was made that by such allotment, work had in any way suffered. The Company gave quite a different reason for reverting to its old timings. They state that inasmuch as Engineering Tribunal was functioning, they maintained old timings on the principle of status quo. It is not at all shown if by the separation of clerks into factory and non-factory categories made after the award of Sri Chakraverty, the smooth working of the factory was hampered in any way to the prejudice of the employers. I tried to persuade the Company to come to some amicable settlement by friendly discussion with the Union and the pleader of the Union, unfortunately, however, there could be no amicable settlement.

I am definitely of opinion that the clerks mentioned in Schedule 1 can safely be designated as factory clerks and the remaining clerks should be treated as non-factory clerks and the working hours of the non-factory clerks should not be more than 38½ hours per week so as to provide 6½ hours of actual work with two quarters of an hour each day for lunch and 3½ hours of work on Saturday. I, therefore, order that the working hours of clerks other than those mentioned in Schedule 1, should be from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. from Monday to Friday with half an hour recess and from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday. Sri Chakraverty also had given his award in the same tune as above.

It was stated that in this concern, the factory and the office were closely situated and different working hours if allotted will operate hard on the employer and affect the working of the factory. I have already shown that the apprehension of interference of work is groundless. I also find that in the award of Remington and Co. given on 25th December 1947 by my learned colleague Sri M. C. Banerjee, the working hours of the factory clerks and non-factory clerks have been separately allotted as above though the factory and the office are closely situated and he had similarly directed 38½ hours of work a week.

On a mature and cautious consideration, I had allotted above working hours of the respective clerks. It would have been of course better had the Company itself persuaded to categories separately the factory and the non-factory clerks but their insistence to stick to existing practice which apparently operates hard on the majority of clerks is deplorable.

I am firmly of opinion that apprehension of hampering of work by this allotment is baseless. If, however, the Company still thinks that some more clerks should be brought to the category of factory clerks over and above those directed under Schedule 1, then the working hours of those can be increased only on payment of excess remuneration and allowance proportionately to the excess hours of work.

ORDER.

Lab.—28th April 1949.—Whereas Government of West Bengal, Labour order No. 4119Lab., dated the 15th 1948, the industrial dispute between the Industrial Works, Ltd., 55/1, Dharamtollah Howrah, and their workmen represented by the India Industrial Workers' Union, 113, Haragunj Road, Howrah, over the question of puja bonus to the workmen, was adjudicated to Sri P. R. Mukherji, District Judge; and as the said Sri P. R. Mukherji, Additional District Judge, has given the award as an annexure hereto;

and in exercise of the power conferred by sub-section (2) of section 15 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the District Judge has pleased to make the following order with reference to section 17 of the said Act, the award be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

And made by the said Sri P. R. Mukherji, District Judge, shall bind the Company and the workmen aforesaid as specified therein.

ANNEXURE.

Order of an industrial dispute between the Industrial Works, Ltd., 55/1, Dharamtollah Road, Salkia, Howrah, and their workmen represented by the India Industrial Workers' Union, 113, Haragunj Road, Howrah, over the question of payment of puja bonus to the workmen.

SRI P. R. MUKHERJI, Judge,
Industrial Tribunal.

Opposition: Sri S. C. Sen, Advocate.

Union: Sri Sibnath Banerjee.

AWARD.

Government order No. 4119Lab., dated the 15th April 1948, the above dispute was referred for adjudication under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

Both parties appeared and argued the matter before the Tribunal. The case of the Union is that the employees and the Company are entitled to various, and at present the dispute of the Union centred round the payment of bonus for twenty-six days' wages. The Company's case is that there is no dispute between it and its employees as alleged.

As to the demand made by the Union, the Tribunal states that the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to give any award in respect of the demands made by the Union. The Union submits that the Company has not paid some amount as puja bonus to the workmen for the year 1948 and in the present circumstances of the Company, it is unable to pay further puja bonus or any other bonus.

Issues.

1. Does the Tribunal have jurisdiction to make any award?

2. If so, is the claim for puja bonus for twenty-six days be enforced?

DECISION.

1 and 2.—Jurisdiction of the Tribunal to make an award and the claim for puja bonus.

In discussing the issues, I would like to mention that owing to financial difficulties, this award was closed on the 15th September 1947.

Consequently the dispute arose between the parties and I had been previously appointed an adjudicator and one of the issues was if the closing down of the factory was justifiable. My award was as follows:—"I therefore hold that the close-down of the factory was not malicious and that it can be justified under the circumstances. The Company cannot, therefore, be asked to reopen the factory".

By the previous award, the Company was directed to pay the wages to the workers from the date of the closing of the factory, i.e., 4th December 1947, till the end of January 1948. The above award has been published in the Calcutta Gazette on the 22nd April 1948.

The Company has paid the amount as directed, i.e., paid two months' wages to the workers for the period for which there was no work. The Company, however, reopened the factory in the latter part of July 1948 and re-employed a substantial number of workers. The Company's financial year is from October to September. Accordingly it will be found that during the financial year of 1948 for which bonus had been claimed, the factory remained closed for seven months, i.e., from 4th December 1947 to 23rd June 1948. Bonus was demanded for the puja of 1948 and the claim was made for one month's pay. The Management, however, was willing to grant puja bonus amounting to seven days' pay and as the workers did not agree to this offer, four of them staged a sudden hunger strike on 1st October 1948. They were later on joined by three others on 2nd October 1948. The matter went to the Labour Commissioner who failed to settle the matter and the case ultimately had been referred to this Tribunal.

Now the question is if the claim of the Union is maintainable. The Company has submitted an audited balance-sheet which will show that the Company during the financial year, i.e., from October 1947 to September 1948 incurred a loss to the extent of rupees two lakhs. The Union challenged the authenticity of the audited balance-sheet and the Company was directed to bring all their books before the Tribunal which they did on three different occasions and offered those for examination by the Union. But the Union was not very serious and could not advance any reasonable argument to show that the account was not genuine. I do not understand why an audited account should be discredited for nothing. Under the Company's Act, false and inaccurate statement on the part of an auditor is a criminal offence. It is hard to believe that the auditor will go to the length of submitting a false report. I, therefore, accept the audited account of the Company as true and correct. Now the position is that the Company had already incurred a loss to the tune of rupees two lakhs and under the circumstances, the claim of bonus must be rejected. All the Tribunals are now practically unanimous in holding that "the bonus can be claimed only when the profits made by a concern in any particular year are substantially larger than the normal profits". In this connection a reference was made by the employer to the award of J. Divatia in Mill Owners' Association, Bombay, published in Labour Gazette, June 1947. Reliance also may be placed on the award of Dewan Bahadur Mamerkar in Surat Municipality and its employees published in Industrial Court Reporter, Volume 1, page 88, so also Bombay Gas Co. (Bombay Government Gazette, Extraordinary, dated 24th September 1948—Award of Mr. Bakhale). These all establish the proposition that bonus can only be claimed if and when the Company earns substantial profit. So far as the Tribunals in Bengal are concerned, these have unanimously held the same view.

The Union nevertheless submitted that the Experts Committee "On Profit Sharing" set up by the Government of India recommended that 10, Article 23) payment to the workers under the head of Profit Sharing even when a Company has actually sustained loss under certain circumstances.

On a reading of the report of the Committee on Profit Sharing, I find that nowhere the Committee recommended that bonus would be granted even in case when the Company is run at a loss. Moreover, in this case, the Union claimed bonus not as profit bonus but as puja bonus. If by puja bonus, the Union means anything other than the bonus which is generally understood to be, then it may be pointed out that it is not a matter of industrial dispute. It is an ex-gratia payment which may or may not be paid by the employer. Recently my learned colleague Sri A. Das Gupta, in an award in Sri Radhashyam Mills (reported in Calcutta Gazette, dated 17th February 1949 at page 285) held that puja bonus is a festival bonus and as such it is an ex-gratia payment. In the Cotton Textile Tribunal, three of the Judges in West Bengal held that festival bonus, independence bonus, etc., are ex-gratia bonus. Sri Das Gupta stated "Having held that festival bonus is an ex-gratia payment, we should not have allowed the demand of the workers for puja and Id bonus.... The festival bonus being an ex-gratia payment cannot be the subject of an industrial dispute nor can it be forced by an award on the employer".

It is also remarkable that the Company has already granted puja bonus for seven days in spite of financial handicap. I cannot in equity and justice order the Company to make payment of full one month's wages as demanded by the Union. The claim of the Union is quite unreasonable and will operate hard on the Company.

Regarding jurisdiction of the Tribunal, no further argument was advanced. I, therefore, make the order that the claim for bonus be disallowed.

the clerical staff the existing grades are:—

Grade V: Rs. 200—10—240.

Grade IV: Rs. 150—10—200.

Grade III: Rs. 100—7-8—145.

Grade II: Rs. 70—5—120.

Grade I: Rs. 60—3—90.

Floormen: Rs. 50—2-8—70.

The following memorandum prepared by the Company on 15th January 1947 will explain the principle of classification and grades:—

Routine Grade (60—3—90).—Office Clerks, Lotting Clerks, Floor Clerks, Entry Instruction Clerks, Telephone Operators.

Junior Grade (70—5—120).—Senior Clerks, No. 2 Entry Instruction Clerks, Warehouse General Clerk, Typist, Central Stores Clerk, Assistant Floor Supervisors.

Senior Grade (100—7-8—145).—Floor Supervisors, Senior Entry Instruction Clerk, Senior Typist, Comptometer Operator, Section Leaders, Warehouse Head Clerk, Deputy Head Clerk.

Section Head Grade (150—10—200).—Head Clerk, Assistant Supervisors.

Supervisor Grade (200—10—240).—Supervisors, Hide Road, and Sale Tea Warehouse, Personal Assistant to Head of Department.

Floormen are not included in the Clerical Establishment Grades, and their case is still under consideration at Head Office. They may be added, however, that any benefits arising out of the scheme will also be applicable to them and any increase in salary will be effective from 1st January 1947.

It has been told much about the floormen. The duties of the floormen are the following:—

Instructions to floormen's work are not required to be articulated. Some of the men seen had good writing and may well be up to the standard of Grade I clerks, but the work they were doing did not call for such a high standard.

Checking chest panels for damage.

Collecting tallies from labour moving chests.

Its most responsible form, floormen's work is:—

Counting chests and keeping a tally by signs on paper (ability to count in any language).

Recording total numbers (ability to express numbers in ordinary numerals).

Recording details of invoices (ability to copy garden marks and numbers from chests).

The work calls for an active mind but tasks are of a similar nature and should not take any length of time to learn.

The Company originally recruited men as clerks in the subordinate grade. Floormen were recruited as clerks. Difficulties were experienced in grading work made. The work, therefore, should be done by clerks.

literacy. The work of a clerk was not a natural step forward of the work of the floormen. Simply because a certain kind of more qualified men took up the job, its value cannot be enhanced. The remedy is to take more qualified men to the real clerical work. We coin an alternative nomenclature for the floormen as sub-grade clerks.

For the sub-grade clerks or floormen we fix the grade Rs. 60—3—90.

Those of the sub-grade clerks who are fit to be absorbed as clerks should be absorbed in Grade I in the future vacancies to come.

We extend Grade I as follows: Rs. 70—3—130.

Except Shipping Sarcars, Ration Shop Clerks and Cash Sarcars the others are to be taken over to Grade II within a period not exceeding 10 years, if not found unfit.

We recast the other grades as follows:—

Grade II—Rs. 70—5—130.

Grade III—Rs. 100—7-8—145.

Grade IV—Rs. 160—10—200.

Grade V—Rs. 200—10—260.

General Grade—Rs. 260 and up at the discretion of the Company.

We have been shown figures and we have found that the Company promote clerks to officer's grade and the upper grades are not crowded with new men. There have been two or three cases in recent years where persons have been taken in the clerk's grade and in a short time have been promoted to the officer's grade. The real intention was to take them to the officer's grade after giving them training. We advise the Company not to appoint any person in the clerical grade when the desire is to take him immediately in officer's grade. He should better be treated as a probationer in the officer's grade. A temporary stay in the clerical grade gives rise to unnecessary misunderstanding.

Probationers shall draw the lowest salary of the grade to which they are appointed.

The Company have a system of appointing apprentices to the Accounts Department. The practice is that during this period an apprentice learns practical work and gets himself admitted into a school of accountancy or college. On his passing the examination he gets a lump sum reward. A tuition fee of Rs. 3 per month is given to an apprentice who goes for and proceeds with the study. During this period he gets Rs. 40 as allowance and the usual dearness allowance. This is really a period of training and study and we do not consider that it is necessary to increase the allowance. We, however, feel that when the practice is to encourage the apprentices to pass the examination, the Company should pay the entire tuition fee for the college or school, as the case may be, and should not confine it to Rs. 3. We award accordingly.

The clerical staff shall get dearness allowance according to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce scale.

We examined the conditions of service in this Company. We find that Grade I is a closed grade for a very small section, while the others will leave it within a definite time and reach incremental scales better than what we have awarded in other cases. Moreover the Company spends a little over 13 annas for tiffin per clerk for every full working day. We have been assured that the Company will not discontinue it. They have also no intention at present to discontinue the other amenities offered. The prospects are better in the matter of promotion to the higher grades and to the officer's grade. In the circumstances we do not feel justified in granting a flat increment of Rs. 10 to each employee when we have raised the lowest

We award that clerks in Grade I be given benefit of one increment and those who are below Rs. 70 be pulled up to that stage.

So far as the floormen or sub-grade clerks are concerned, they stand on a separate footing as they have practically no future beyond the outward limit of the grade. They be given a flat increment of at least Rs. 9 to fit in in a stage in the time-scale.

There are some employees attached to the "Q" shed at Kidderpore. Because the tiffin allowed cannot be sent to them and because they have to work more, they are given a tiffin allowance of Rs. 20 per clerk and Rs. 15 per member of the subordinate staff. The people in the "Q" shed with that money do not get as much food as the Company give to their employees here. We, therefore, decide that in case of clerks the tiffin allowance be raised to Rs. 25 and in case of subordinate staff to Rs. 17.

Now about the subordinate staff. There are various categories with different time-scales. The minimum that a person earns is Rs. 69. This is considered fair and sufficient. Our idea is that the basic salary ought not to go below Rs. 30. There are some grades where the start is below Rs. 30. We award that those persons whose salaries are below Rs. 30 be given increments to reach Rs. 30 each as their salaries. The amount of increment be deducted from dearness allowance now payable. They will earn increments as if they have reached Rs. 30 in the time-scale. The salary and the dearness allowance of the new recruits be so adjusted that at least they each get Rs. 30 as his basic salary.

Subject to what we have said before, they will draw dearness allowance as at present with fluctuations as may be occasioned by rise and fall in the cost of living.

The Company maintain a staff of electric mistries and they are paid at the following rates:—

Pay.—From 1 to 8 annas per hour—coolie, to 6 to 7 annas per hour—mistri (paid fortnightly).

Dearness allowance.—3 to 6 annas per hour with overtime as well.

Overtime.—Basic pay plus 50 per cent.

Hours of work.—Weekdays: 8-30 a.m. to 5-30 p.m. with half an hour break for lunch. Saturdays: 8-30 a.m. to 2-30 p.m. with half an hour break for lunch.

The monthly wages of a mistri, taking 26 working days of 8½ hours in a month, work out to more than Rs. 92-8 and dearness allowance to Rs. 49-6. Those of a coolie come up to Rs. 24-11 and Rs. 49-6 (dearness allowance).

We do not consider that any interference is necessary.

Issue No. 3.—Retiring benefits and benefits on termination of service.

We approve of the existing 10 per cent. Contributory Provident Fund introduced backed by the gratuity scheme for the period previous to the introduction of Provident Fund.

Issue No. 4.—Bonus.

The Company give one month's basic salary at the time of the Pujahs as bonus to the employees of all categories except some very new hands. In 1948 the Company made ex gratia payment of 2 months' basic salary as bonus. The claim for profit-sharing bonus which was the only claim in the written statement was given up. We have been assured by the Company that there is no desire to curtail the fixed bonus, nor is there any immediate desire to stop the other bonus if business conditions permit. In the circumstances, we leave the matter outside adjudication.

Issue No. 5.—Tiffin.

The Company allow tiffin. Though in some cases we left this out of consideration, here we have made this payment a part of the scheme and we have been assured of the continuance and we have awarded increments in the case of "Q" shed employees. This will continue.

Issues Nos. 6 and 7.—Accommodation allowance and children's education facilities.

Issue No. 8.—Medical aid.

There had been medical arrangements and the average per head expenditure was Rs. 16 a year. There has been some trouble between the doctor and the employees. The Company now want to keep a doctor to look after the hygienic condition and give his services to him who seeks his advice. We do not want to impose anything extra.

Issue No. 9.—Working hours and holidays and overtime.

The existing arrangements are confirmed.

Issue No. 10.—Leave.

The existing arrangements are confirmed.

Issue No. 11.—Travelling allowance on duty and also on leave.

Issue No. 15.—Uniforms and umbrellas for menials.

These are given. No adjudication is called for.

Issue No. 12.—Service conditions.

(a) Probation and confirmation.

It is awarded that the period of probation shall not exceed six months though confirmation may be made earlier if the candidate is found suitable.

(b) Service record.

We award that service records be maintained and that adverse remarks shall be incorporated after giving the person an opportunity of explaining his conduct.

(c) Enquiry before punishment and Issue No. 14.—Dismissal, discharge and retrenchment or other punishments.

In case of retrenchment, the principle of "last come, first go" shall be applied. Exceptions may be made in case of persons with exceptional abilities.

Now comes the question about dismissal and punishment. The employer has no doubt the right of punishing an employee but we frame the following rules which must precede any punishment:

The first thing to be done is that a charge shall be framed and the person proceeded against shall be furnished with a copy of the charge and the facts on which this is based. The person proceeded against shall submit his explanation. Then a future date should be fixed for the matter to be enquired into. If the person proceeded against is found innocent, the matter ends. If, however, he is found guilty, the employee concerned shall be supplied with a copy of the findings and the punishment proposed to be imposed. The employee will get an opportunity again to plead about the punishment only at this stage. If the Enquiring Officer himself is competent to inflict punishment on the person proceeded against, he will hear his explanations and order what he thinks best. If the Enquiring Officer is anybody other than the Head of the Concern at Calcutta, an appeal shall lie with him within seven days of the communication of the Conclusion.

A question has been raised as to whether this award shall bind the Companies not listed in the reference but of which Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd., are the Managing Agents. The Federation of the Employees' Union seek for an answer in the affirmative.

Everything depends on the particular nature of reference. The text of the reference to us is:—

“Whereas industrial disputes have arisen or are apprehended between the employers of mercantile firms and their associate firms specified in column 1 in the two lists Nos. 1 and 2 annexed hereto and their clerical and all subordinate staff in their offices as represented by some trade unions mentioned against firms in column 2 of the schedule aforementioned, and others represented by such other registered trade unions as may be permitted by the Industrial Tribunal hereinafter mentioned to be represented individually for legitimate reasons, and it is expedient that the said disputes should be referred to a Tribunal, the Governor is pleased under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, to constitute a Tribunal for adjudication of the said disputes.”

The expression “associate firms” is not a technical expression signifying any definite relationship. A Company of which another firm is the Managing Agent or Agent or Secretary may be an associate firm in relation to other firms. Messrs. Gillanders Arbuthnot & Co., Ltd., are agents of some of the Insurance Companies which have been listed. Such instances may be multiplied.

Turning to the text of the reference the expression “specified in column 1 in the two lists” is a relative clause relating to what is immediately preceding. Taking the most liberal interpretation, we consider that it relates both to the “mercantile firms” and the “associate firms”. It would be offending the ordinary rules of interpretation if we skip over the immediately preceding clause and go over to what is remote.

Mercantile firms and some associate firms have been specified in the list. Therefore the ordinary interpretation fits in with the context.

An interpretation on the line “mercantile firms specified in the list and their associate firms” leads to a conclusion which Government of West Bengal could not have intended. Messrs. Martin & Co. (serial No. 112 of list No. 1 of the Reference) are the Managing Agents for many Railways as also Messrs. McLeod & Co., Ltd. (serial No. 115 of list No. 1 of the Reference). Many of the Companies including Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co., Ltd., are Managing Agents for colliery companies. These are all Federal subjects. We cannot put any interpretation that Government of West Bengal intended to trespass on the Federal list when the plain meaning shows otherwise. We, therefore, hold that only those firms, mercantile or associate, which have been specifically listed are within the scope of our adjudication. Under this reference we have no jurisdiction on firms which are not listed.
